Sentiment Favors Bringing Old Document Up to Date, Rather Than New One.

Lincoln, Nov. 23 .- (Special.)-Just what will happen when the constitutional convention meets is a question which is being discussed whenever men meet these days, and as the time approaches for that body to get together it is becoming evident that there is a pretty strong sentiment in favor of not changing the old constitution very much, simbly bringing it up to date.

There are some things, however, which appear to meet with the approval of many and among them are the following:

Would Raise Salaries.

That the salaries of state officers should be raised to compare more to the cost of living at the present time. They contend that since the salaries set by the constitution of 1875, that the cost of living has gone up 200 or 300 per cent and that salaries should be made to correspond. There is quite a sentiment in favor of raising the salary of governor from $2,500 a year to at least $7,500, as that is the pay of a congressman, and the office of governor s a more important one. The salaries of other state officers should correspond.

Another change that appears to is taken up with cases in which less meet with a great deal of favor is than $100 is involved. There apthat of making the duties of the lieutenant governor more of a state wide character. They contend that besides being president of the sennotarial and other confinissions, isat hearings in connection with the same, transferring to him some of a part of the state machinery.

May Divide Districts Another would divide up the senatorial and representative districts n counties which elect more than one member of the legislature. For instance, Douglas county has five senators and 12 representatives elected as a whole from that county. The new plan would be to di-vide that county into five senatorial and 12 representative districts, allowing each district to elect its senator and representative, thus giving sections of the county which have had little voice in former elections of these officers a better chance for representation. This would also pply to Lancaster, Dodge, Sanders, Gage, Hall, Custer, Buffalo repre-sentative districts and Lancaster senatorial district.

There is also a sentiment favoring the changing of the secretaries under the code bill and placing the departments under the state officers, but continuing the general system of the code bill, but doing away with the secretaries; making the chief clerk in each office the efficiency man and making the state officers a cabinet to the governor which should handle all matters of state-wide importance.

The sentiment which first appeared to prevail along the lines of the short ballot, electing the governor and lieutenant governor and then having the governor appoint the rest of the state officers, does not appear to have gained much ground, although there are some advocates of the plan among the

One-House Legislature.

The sentiment for a one-house legislature has some advocates, but it does not appear to be very popular, neither does the sentiment for cutting down the membership of each house appear to be very strong. There is a strong sentiment among attorneys that something ought to be done to take the load off the supreme court which comes to it from lower courts involving minor mat-ters. Much of the time of the court is taken up with cases in which less pears to be some sentiment to have cases. Just how this could be done has not yet been shown. ate that he should take over the bal-ance of the time, a part of the duties of the governor, like the issuing of in different years, one-half selected There is some advocacy of a plan to elect members of the legislature one year and the other half the folsuing of requisitions and presiding lowing two years. This, of course, would mean a four-year term unless the state went back to yearly electhe work of other offices which tions. In connection with this plan are now duplicated and making him it has also been suggested that the state officers should be selected for four years also. New Legislature Plan.

Another plan is for the legislature not to meet until a year after the election. As the matter is now, state officers, and a legislature all come in at the same time. In many instances officers, unfamiliar with their duties and unfamiliar with state affairs. A majority of the legislature may also be unfamiliar with the needs of the state. The suggestion is that if the legislature would meet a year later the state officers would have become familiar with the business needs of the state and could better present their claims to the legislature. In connection with this plan it is uggested that the legislature elected in 1920, for instance, should not convene until December 1 of the following year. It could then organize, appoint its committees, introduce its pills and at the end of the 20-day limit for the introduction of bills, adjourn for 30 days. During the re-cess the members would have time to go carefully over the bills, con-sult with their constituents over matters important to them, prepare their amendments and send to the chairman of each committee and then a week before the reconvening of the session the committees could meet and work out the bills ready for Bloomquist, Juanita Brown, Thelma the legislature when it convened. Burke, Evelyn Carlson, Marcia Follmeet and work out the bills ready for This would give the members of the committee more time and prevent Jean Hall, Maria N. Hilliard, Thyra congestion of work at a time when

Thinks Omaha Police Promised Immunity

Lincoln, Nov. 23.—(Special.)—
"We must be square with the criminals if we expect the criminals to be square with us," is the way H. A., Antles, secretary and head of the Department of Public Welfare, looks upon the recent paroling of L. C. Jones and William McKenna, auto bandits, who were sent up from Douglas county in connection with the stealing of a number of cars in

Secretary Antles is of the opinion that the Omaha police promised them immunity if they would testify against Neal and Katelman, the men who were supposed to be the guiding hand in a gang of auto thieves op-erating in and out of Omaha. The men gave the testimony necessary to convict Neal and Katelman, but Chief Eberstein of the police force. of Omaha denies that anything in the way of clemency was promised

"I simply carried out in paroling these men what I believe the Omaha police promised them and as far as am concerned I have carried out what I believe was the right thing to do under the circumstances," says Mr. Antles.

the presence of the members was needed on the floor of the house. Meeting of the committees could still be had whenever necessary during the balance of the session. It is urged that such a plan would give the members a better chance to become acquainted with the contemplated legislation.

DRAKE BLOCK IN BEATRICE BURNS. LOSS $130,000

Three-Story Structure Gutted by Flames-Two Barns Burned at Same Time.

Beatrice, Neb., Nov. 23 .- (Special three-story brick building at Sixth and Court streets, early Sunday morning gutted the structure and caused a property loss estimated at $130,000. The fire was discovered about 2:30 o'clock and slowly worked its way up through the center of the Drake block, making t a difficult one to fight. All the fire fighting facilities of Beatrice were used on the burning structure, and after a hard fight of about four hours the firemen succeeded in confining the fire in the building where it started. The stock of the Drew lothing company, valued at $50,000; the Western Union Telegraph company office, George Smith's cigar store on the first floor and the Beatrice club on the second floor were destroyed. The third floor was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ziegenhain, Mr. and Mrs. John Samsel and Mrs, Clark. They escaped from the burning building in safety but lost everything they possessed.

Two Barns Burn. Soon after the fire was discovered in the Drake block the barns of W. W. Scott and E. S. Stevens took fire and were destroyed, Mr. Scott's residence was damaged to the extent of $1,000. It is thought the fire as it did at the same time the Drake block was burning. The Drake block is situated just across the street east of the Paddock hotel, Omaha Central High street east of the Paddock hotel, which was destroyed by fire last August and nothing remains but the walls of the building. For a time the Y. M. C. A. building to the east and the Allen block on the north were threatened with destruction. Both were damaged. The total loss is estimated at about $130,000 divided as follows:

Partially Insured. Drake block owned by Mrs. D. W Cook, $60,000, insurance $40,000; Drew Clothing company, stock $50,000, insurance $40,000; George mith cigar stare $4,000, insurance $2,000; Western Union Telegraph company, office $2,000, covered by insurance; Beard Music company $5,000, covered by insurance; Y. theater last night at the most pathetic part a woman late for the performance stalked along to the stalls. My interest in the play vanished in a flash, my eyes turned away from the stage and remained fascinated, Organize Welfare Club glued upon her. She was a sight in-

There she stood, draped in a heavy fur cape, neck, arms, bare back to the waist in guise of loin cloth; gold circlets dangled from club of Broken Bow. There were thirty-six charter members of the club. One hundred women in the club. One hundred women in the nothing unusual—is it? We have seen it often enough. But her blonde hair dress, erect. like a sugar loaf, strangely pinked out with ribbons and feathers, framed the weirdest contrast of a dusky face wavering between nigger brown and red Indian. Overcome, I turned toward my friend.

Curious for Nationality.

"What strange race is that?" I asked. "Such a skin, with fair hair, blue eyes and a dear little turned up nose? Is she a native of Africa, does she hail from Tahiti or from Honolulu? Where can she come "And where do you come from yourself?" asked my friends com-passionately. "Don't you know anything about the new fashions? Surprising results from this famous old home-made syrup. Easily prepared and costs little.

ONONONONONONONONONONONONONONONONO If you have a severe cough or chest

If you have a severe cough or chest cold accompanied with soreness, throat tickle, hoarseness, or difficult breathing, or if your child wakes up during the night with croup and you want quick help, try this reliable old homemade cough remedy. Any druggist can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrun. Or you can use clarified mothe bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. This recipe makes a pint of really remarkable cough remedy. It tastes good, and in spite of its low cost, it can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief.

You can feel this take hold of a cough in a way that means business. It loosens and raises the phlegm, stops throat tickle and soothes and heals the throat tickle and soothes and heals the irritated membranes that line the throat and bronchial tubes with such promotness, ease and certainty that it is really astonishing.

Pinex is a special and highly concen-trated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is probably the best known means of overcoming severe coughs, throat and chest colds. There are many worthless imitations of this mixture. To avoid disappointment, ask for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. MEXICAN ANSWER TO JENKINS' NOTE EXPECTED TODAY

YELLOW PERIL U. S. Has Requested Immediate Release of American Consular Agent at Puebla.

Washington, Nov. 23 .- The answer sharp note demanding the immediate release of William O. Jenkins, American consular agent at Puebla, prob-Paris, Nov. 23.-France is facing ably will be delivered to the State

A long dispatch bearing on the Jenkins case, it was learned tonight, embassy and was being deciphered today for presentation to the government. While authoritative informations here pointed to a technical refusal to order the release of lenkins. Since his arrest, it was learned, additional charges against the American official have been formulated, based upon alleged evidence that he Payment of a large sum of money to the rebels which was used by them to Some have gone into bootlegging purchase munitions and acting in col-opium, others have been lucratively lusion with rebel leaders are said to lusion with rebel leaders are said to dictments.

Hint of Mexico's Position.

What was regarded as a hint of Mexico's position in the Jenkins case was noted in an article published by the Mexican newspaper, Excelsior, a copy of which reached Washington today. The paper stated that Jenkins' second arrest was based upon charges that he actively assisted the rebels. The "certain sum of money" of which Jenkins is accused of delivering to the rebels consisted of the 300,000 pesos he was compelled to pay as ransom to Frederico Cor-doba, the rebel whose forces kidnaped him. The collusion charge is based upon the fact that Jenkins agreed to pay the rebel leader the ransom in order to save his life and gain his liberty.

Utmost Secrecy Used.

Contrary to custom in Mexican courts the proceedings in the Jenkins case on the occasion of his second arrest were marked with the utmost secrecy. Jenkins was summoned to court where he was placed under arrest. His plea for bail was refused by Judge Gonzales France on account of the "gravity of the offense." In every particular the proceedings were secret and court attaches were warned that they would be dismissed and otherwise punished if any facts relating to the case reached the public.

Officials here regard the nature of the new charges against Jenkins as an effort on the part of the Mexican government to take the case out of the hands of the Puebla state authorities as both charges are of Couldn't Walk a Block Without Resting-Now Well and Strong.

"Five years of nervous indigestion pulled me down so I could not walk a block without resting, but since taking Tanlac I can walk twenty blocks without any trouble," said Mrs. H. E. Orr, of 911 Harrison street, Kansas City, Mo., to a Tan-"I haven't a trace of the old trouble left," continued Mrs. Orr. "I don't believe anybody suffered more than I did for five years before I began taking Tanlac. I became so weak I could not do my housework and suffered from per-fectly terrible headaches nearly all the time. I had no appetite whatever, and even the sight of anything to eat would often make me sick. I was subject to dizzy spells so bad that sometimes I couldn't keep on my feet. I was constipated chronically and had to take a laxative nearly every day. Everything I ate would sour on my stomach and the gas would make my heart flutter, so I thought I had heart trouble. I tried every medicine suggested and spent hundreds of dollars trying to get well. but nothing gave me any relief until I took Tanlac.

"I had not taken more than half a bottle of Tanlac before I could tell it was doing me a lot of good. My appetite picked up and I began to eat without having that terrible indigestion. Now, after taking four bottles, my health is splendid and I haven't felt so well in twenty years. The headaches, dizziness and constination are entirely gone. I am eating anything I want and I never have the fluttering of the heart any more. I am so strong that I do all the housework for my nine-room house, even to washing and ironing. My relatives, who did not think I would live long, are amazed at the change in my condition. I have also gained ten pounds in weight.
