

BOLSHEVIKI WANT TO MAKE PEACE WITH THE ALLIES

British Representative Negotiating With Soviet Representative Relative to Repatriating Prisoners.

London, Nov. 27.—(By The Associated Press.)—Maximi Litvinoff, who is at Copenhagen for a discussion with James O'Grady, representing Great Britain, on the question of the repatriation of British prisoners held in soviet Russia, already has attempted to carry the negotiations beyond the definitely specified field.

One of Litvinoff's first moves was to propose to Mr. O'Grady that the allies lift their blockade of soviet Russia. This fact, it is considered here, bears out the view previously expressed among members of the diplomatic corps in London that Litvinoff, on behalf of the bolshevik regime in Russia, intended to make other proposals than those relating to prisoners.

There are rumors that the bolshevik will try to effect a peace with the entente through Mr. O'Grady.

Private advices concerning the conference in Copenhagen say that the bolshevik attitude is most conciliatory. Among other things, Litvinoff is said to have offered to telegraph Moscow, Petrograd and other bolshevik cities to obtain full reports as to the condition of British subjects in those places.

While Great Britain is deeply interested in the trend of affairs at Copenhagen, it was reaffirmed that Mr. O'Grady had been definitely instructed to enter into no negotiations beyond those relating to prisoners.

Full of Boastfulness. Helsingfors, Nov. 27.—Maxim Litvinoff, former bolshevik ambassador to Great Britain and head of the soviet delegation which conferred with representatives of the Baltic states at Dorpat, came to that town with the air of a general flushed with victory.

He boasted of bolshevik military successes, asserting that the bolsheviks had smashed General Yudenitch and would now do the same thing to General Denikine.

Toward the representatives of the Balkan states, who were led to believe that the bolsheviks were as eager as they to make peace, he assumed at the outset such a cold and threatening manner that they were nonplused to the point of dismay.

Although Litvinoff later adopted a more conciliatory attitude, the Baltic delegates remain filled with misgivings, which is heightened by reports of a powerful offensive the bolsheviks are said to be preparing against the Estonians on the Narva front.

Same as at Dorpat. In the opinion of the Baltic representatives Litvinoff's bearing at Copenhagen will continue the same as at Dorpat and the belief that if Great Britain and the other allies are disposed to negotiate they will find no easy task. It is reported that Litvinoff will refuse to listen to proposals for a constitutional assembly in Russia or modification of the form of the soviet government.

This and other information which the correspondent secured from authoritative sources could not be transmitted from Dorpat, owing to the Estonian censorship which, as the conference proceeded, became increasingly severe.

The arrival of Colonel Tallents, head of the British political mission, appeared to augment the reticence of the conference and the unofficial representatives of other border states showed increasing nervousness. With the arrival of Litvinoff the Polish representative promptly left Dorpat.

In view of the conflicting statements given the correspondent, it is difficult to say just what was decided, but it is generally believed that the Baltic representatives, or at least the Estonians, invited the bolsheviks to send a peace delegation December 1.

Sedulously Guarded. Throughout Litvinoff's stay he was sedulously guarded from correspondents by the Estonians and a British officer was sent to escort him to Copenhagen when he left Dorpat.

The correspondent is informed that when Litvinoff entered the conference he possessed surprise at finding representatives of all three Baltic states, saying that he expected to meet only the Estonians. He showed impatience when told the Baltic delegates were prepared to discuss officially only the exchange of prisoners, remarking that he did not desire to waste time on unimportant details which could be included in a peace treaty.

Action In Mexico Only Solution to Problems, is Opinion of U. S. Senators

Administration Policy of Writing Notes in Reply to Outrages Too Lenient a Manner of Handling the Situation—Admission of Anarchists Is Condoned.

By SEN. CHARLES CURTIS OF KANSAS.

Washington, Nov. 27.—I think that the United States should take immediate steps to protect the lives and property of its citizens who are in Mexico. Their rights have been neglected entirely too long. It is a well known fact that American lives have been taken and American property has been stolen or confiscated and the administration has not been able to stop these outrages by writing notes, and it seems to me that the time for progressive action is at hand.

The Carranza government has encouraged and assisted the enemies of the United States and from information given out by the Department of Justice it is certain that they are permitting objectionable characters and propagandists to cross over the border into the United States.

The people of the United States are tired of having the Carranza government uphold its citizens who are kidnaping American citizens and holding them for ransom.

I hope that the government will take these incidents as a step that is necessary to fully protect the interest of the lives and property of our citizens in Mexico. There has been altogether too much dalliance.

By SENATOR MORRIS SHEPARD OF TEXAS.

It is a very difficult thing to handle these incidents as to keep out of war and to avoid armed intervention.

The president and secretary of state have exercised wonderful patience and will continue, I am sure, to avoid bloodshed and a clash of arms.

I feel sure, also, that they will uphold the dignity and interest of the country in every proper way and will not submit to national humiliation.

This is no time for trucking. I feel that special attention should be given to the matter of admissions of anarchistic agitators across the border and I feel that this will also be investigated promptly and dealt with effectively by the departments concerned.

Certainly this is a case when the league of nations would operate most admirably to all concerned and to the maintenance of the peace of the western hemisphere.

The recent war has taught us that an outbreak or clash in any part of the world no matter how remote, may ultimately involve all civilized mankind. It is especially necessary that war be avoided if possible in our relations with Mexico. Let us hope that a peaceful solution may yet be reached.

By SENATOR JOHN H. BANKHEAD OF ALABAMA.

We shall all have to admit that the situation in Mexico is pretty bad, but it has been that way a long time.

Mexico has ignored every request that we have made from saluting our flag to criminal wrong and has got away with it. I think this administration has been perhaps too lenient and that Carranza feels he has a right to do as he pleases in the matter.

In the past if we wanted a redress of grievances, we would write Carranza a note. Of course, he pays no attention to that and then we write him another.

By SEN. HENRY L. MYERS OF MONTANA.

I believe the time has come when we should make Mexico quit trifling with the United States.

For years it has trifled with and defied us with impunity in the most flagrant and outrageous manner. Our citizens have been murdered; their property has been destroyed. We have claims for millions of dollars of damages, to which Mexico is paying no attention and apparently intends to pay no intention.

By REPRESENTATIVE OTIS WINGO OF ARKANSAS.

I said in a speech in the house five years ago that I thought Uncle Sam should go across the Rio Grande, take up the border line between the United States and Mexico and carry it down to the Panama canal. I am still of that opinion.

No peaceable citizen will stand for a cat fight in his back yard while he is trying to sleep. The situation in Mexico today is nothing more than a cat fight in our back yard, and it is going to keep up until we take the bootjack of our army and navy and chase the cat away, clean up the back yard and make it a part of our garden.

By REPRESENTATIVE HARRY E. HULL OF ARIZONA.

The Mexican situation is certainly ridiculous as far as this government is concerned. We have been demanding things of Mexico for six years and so far as I know not one of the demands has been complied with. We ought either to quit making demands or enforce some of them.

By REPRESENTATIVE JOHN I. NOLAN OF CALIFORNIA.

I thought that when the United States first began to interfere in the affairs in Mexico that we should play hands off and let the Mexican people work out their own salvation. I believed that at that time they would soon fight it out, the stronger element would prevail and the country become pacified.

But the situation has gone too far now for the United States to remain idle and permit the lives and property of its citizens in Mexico and along the border to be always in jeopardy without holding the Mexican government to account.

Opening Gun of Moral War on Dancing Is Fired by Paris Police

By Universal Service. Special Cable Dispatch. Paris, Nov. 27.—The police order closing the tango palaces and plunging Paris into the danceless gloom of the war days is regarded as the opening gun of a moral war on dancing and other relaxations favored lately by Parisians.

The dance hall proprietors charge that M. Raux, the prefect of police, is a stern religiousist and that he has made a mistake in jurisdiction and will run lines of motor buses to them from the city. The edict is causing a loss of $1,000,000 weekly to proprietors, investors and employes of the halls, it is said.

Coal Committee Reports Situation Here Favorable

The coal situation in Omaha was pronounced "more favorable" by H. L. Snyder, acting chairman of the terminal coal committee, and members of the committee yesterday took their first vacation in eight days.

Although the actual coal supply is very low in the city, a large quantity of western coal is expected to begin arriving here by Monday, Mr. Snyder said, and the situation will be relieved.

PREMIER SIGNS PEACE TREATY FOR BULGARIA

Agree to Return Loot and Pay $445,000,000 Indemnity; Will Lose Some Territory.

Paris, Nov. 27.—M. Stambuliski, premier of Bulgaria, signed the treaty of peace between his country and the allied powers at the Neuilly town hall at 10:40 o'clock this morning.

By the conditions of the treaty which was signed this morning at the Neuilly town hall, Bulgaria is called upon to surrender all works of art and valuables taken from allied countries during the war and to pay an indemnity of approximately $445,000,000.

Bulgaria is deprived of Thrace and also loses Strumitza, a small triangular section of territory, the latter being assigned to Serbia. Proposals which would give Bulgaria a corridor through Thrace to the Aegean are left to the future disposition of the allied governments.

Compulsory military service in Bulgaria is abolished by the treaty terms, the Bulgarian army being limited to 20,000 men, with a general staff, or police force, not exceeding 10,000.

All arms and ammunition exceeding the amounts laid down by the treaty shall be turned over to the allies.

M'ADOO FURTHER FLAYS OPERATORS FOR HUGE PROFITS

Says 1917 Earnings, in Some Cases Exceeded Entire Capital Invested.

New York, Nov. 27.—Profits several times in excess of the entire capital invested came back to many coal operators in 1917, William C. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, declared in a further statement relative to the coal controversy. He asserted those operators "must now be on velvet." The statement follows:

"The coal operators assert that I gave out confidential information when I stated that profits of the mine owners in 1917 ranged from 15 to 2,000 per cent on capital stock before deduction of taxes.

"This was not confidential information. The Treasury department may publish statistical matter of this character any time. In fact, information concerning this very subject was furnished by me to the United States senate in response to a resolution introduced by Senator Borah concerning profiteering, and was published July 3, 1918 (see senate document 259—Sixty-fifth congress, second session.)

"In this report the returns of several hundred coal companies showed profits ranging from 15 to 800 per cent on their invested capital in 1917. The range of profits was higher on capital stocks. In short, many operators got back their entire invested capital several times out of their profits in 1917, as shown by the reports, and must now be on velvet."

BIFF! Stop jolting Liver and Bowels with violent drugs, but take "Cascarets."

"Dynamiting" bile out of your system with calomel and other sickening purgatives is all wrong. Salts, Oil and Cathartic Water act by flooding the bowels with the digestive juices which are vital to the stomach. Cascarets are different. They act as a tonic on the bowel muscles, which is the only sensible way to relieve a bilious attack, a sour, acid stomach, or constipated bowels. There is no gripping or inconvenience. You naturally return to regularity and cheerfulness. Cascarets cost very little and they work while you sleep.

Chamberlain's Tablets are excellent for indigestion and constipation. Only 25 Cents a package.
