TO FORCE REDS TO BREAK THEIR SULLEN SILENCE

Nine Husky Guards Detailed To Board Probing 68 Stub-born Bolshevists at Ellis Island.

Washington, Nov. 28.—Nine husky deputy U. S. marshals were provided for Commissioner Uhl today, so that he could break the "silence" strike of 68 radicals at the island, now awaiting deportation proceedings. The usual guards at the island are inadequate and not strong enough, he told the house committee.

The deputies will use force to bring the radicals before immigration inspectors for deportation proceedings, which they have refused to attend because relatives are not permitted to see them except with an iron barrier intervening.

Howe Held Deportations. Testimony that Frederic C. Howe, former commissioner of immigration at Ellis Island, had ordered deportations of radicals held up, after first deportation orders had been received from the Department of Labor, was given to the house immigration commission today by Percy A. Baker, superintendent of the island. Baker put in evidence an order he had received from Howe last March, reading: "You will stay all deportations in these alien cases until the attorneys can be advised and until after consultation with me."

Baker testified that an order of the department to deport was final and he, therefore, did not understand the note from Howe and consulted him. Baker then made this memorandum on the copy of the note shown the committee: "Commissioner states if deportations."

AMUSEMENTS.

AT THE THEATERS

COMES now to the Gaiety for a week of tomfoolery starting this afternoon, little Bobby Barry, the half-portion comic leading "Maids of America." The thoughtful one will probably concede that meat was expensive when Bobby made his early debut, but what he may lack in size is more than overbalanced by his unflinching droolery, all of which has made him greatly beloved by Gaietyites. He is surrounded by a fine cast, a big production and a beauty chorus of American maids. Tomorrow's matinee at 3 o'clock.

Concluding performances will be given today of the Orpheum bill of five featured acts, headed by Julius Tannen, the humorist, and by the dance celebrity, Alice Eis. The curtain this evening will be at 8 o'clock. Opening tomorrow the bill is to have two stellar attractions, one the woman of mystery, Madam Ellis, and the other Percy Brunson and Winnie Baldwin presenting Jack Lait's futuristic sketch, "Visions of 1909." A vaudeville novelty introduced by Bert Cole will be the comedy offering, Billy Burke's "Tango Shoes." Yet another of the featured acts will be Ivan Bankoff and company in "The Dancing Master," an original conception featuring Mlle. Phoebe.

Richard Bennett and his excellent company close their Omaha engagement with matinee and evening performances of "For the Defense," at Boyd's theater today. This really interesting mystery play has been much talked of by those who have seen it. It contains elements seldom seen in a theater, and carries its suspense to the very close of the last act.

"Listen Lester" will be shown at the Brandeis theater today for the last two times, matinee and night. There is a flip hotel clerk, a decidedly fresh porter named Lester, a female detective, a package of letters and all sorts of complications that are straightened out finally in a cat's paw manner. The cast includes Miriam Folger, Ann Ott, Floria Bellaire, Betty Kirkbride, Cecil Williams, Florence De Barr, Henrietta Lee, Frances Anderson, Gus Shy, William Selley, John L. Lyons, William Wayne, Delano Del and a special orchestra under the direction of Mr. Vernon Bestor.

I. W. W. on Hunger and Silence Strike in Tacoma

Tacoma, Wash., Nov. 28.—The I. W. W. members who went on a hunger strike Thursday morning have not touched food for 48 hours. They also refuse to talk with their jailers.

While the strikers have refused to state the cause of their refusal to eat, it is understood that they are protesting against being detained in the city jail. They had asked to be transferred to the county jail, where additional alleged I. W. W. are held, but this was refused because the cells there are full.

The strikers refused three meals yesterday, including a Thanksgiving dinner with turkey.

Woman Says Man Tried To Commit an Assault

A man tried to commit an assault upon Mrs. T. Bassford, telephone operator at the Hotel Keen, Seventh and Leavenworth streets, at 9:30 last night, was frightened by her screams and run, being chased by two men to Sixteenth and Dodge streets, according to the story told by her to the police. Mrs. Bassford lives in the Newton apartments. Eighteenth and Leavenworth streets. Two men who chased the fellow, Earle Hamilton, 227 Dodge street, and W. R. Huntington, Leavenworth apartments, say he was a white man.

Council Decides to Wreck All Vessels at Scapa Flow

Paris, Nov. 28.—Discussing the sinking of the German fleet in Scapa Flow and the compensations to be obtained therefor, the supreme council today admitted in principle the demolition of the units still in the hands of the allies, but the question of the distribution of scrap iron resulting from the breaking up of the ships was not decided.

France and Italy, whose ship-building yards have been idle since 1914, will receive certain units intact as compensation for tonnage lost during the war.

FORMER SOLDIER, JILTED BY GIRL, TRIES SUICIDE

Roy Canby, Wounded in War, Attempts to Hang Self in Barn at Home Of Sister.

The snapping of a floor joist in the barn and the timely arrival of his brother-in-law combined to prevent Roy Canby committing suicide yesterday morning at the home of his sister, Mrs. Schmelling, living on a farm near Honey Creek, Ia. Canby tied a rope to the beam and jumped from the barn loft. The weight of several sacks of cement immediately over the beam caused it to break under the strain and buried him under the debris. His brother-in-law, following him, had just entered the barn when the crash came and he quickly rescued the young man and removed the strangling rope.

Canby, who is a returned soldier and lives at Portage, Wis., was visiting his sister. He was engaged to be married to Miss Gertrude Gibbons of Howell, Neb., and when he returned from overseas with his face badly marred by wounds received on the battlefields of France, the young woman experienced a repulsion of feeling. When she looked into his face, the whole left side of which was almost shot away, she swooned. Later she told him frankly she could not marry him, for the sight of his disfigured face horrified her.

Was Broken-Hearted. The young soldier, crushed and broken-hearted, started home, stopping to visit his sister, to whom he told the heart-breaking story. He was greatly depressed and Mr. and Mrs. Schmelling watched him closely. He took no interest in the farm Thanksgiving dinner and early in the evening retired to his room. Shortly after midnight Mr. Schmelling heard him get up and leave the house and both the brother-in-law and sister immediately arose and followed him. They had reached the barn in their search, which was delayed a few moments by the time required to dress, when they heard the crash. The young man was lying under the MARGUERITE CLARK in "Luck in Pawn," a photoplay that has drawn large crowds to the Rialto, will be shown at this theater for the last time today. The story presents the star as a country girl with ambitions to become an artist. She fails in her chosen field, but wins the love of a young millionaire. Charles Meredith, playing opposite the star, does some very clever work, adding much to the power of the picture.

Sun—"Please Get Married," which has been shown at the Sun theater this week, has its last showing at this movie house today. It is said it has created more laughs than any other picture shown in Omaha for some time, so if you haven't had your right laugh yet, then see this picture today.

Strand—"A Virtuous Vamp," in which Constance Talmadge takes the part of a winsome girl who innocently makes all men fall in love with her, will be seen at the Strand for the last times today. As Nellie Jones, Miss Talmadge finally falls in love with the man who is absolutely indifferent to her attractions.

Moon—He was pounced upon by the night-riders of Arkansas, men who were inflamed by a crook who was trying to win a banker's daughter and ruin his bank, but this brave school teacher from Vermont put them all to shame in the end. If you want to see how Will Rogers, as Sam Lyman, the kind-hearted school teacher, does this you want to see "Almost a Husband," which is to be shown at the Moon for the last times today.

Muse—Don't fail to see Norma Talmadge starring in the photoplay, "The Probation Wife," which has its last two showings at the Muse theater today. It is the story of a girl who is the most popular attraction at a notorious cafe becoming the wife of a millionaire. Her love makes a different woman of her and they become true husband and wife.

Empress—Marguerite Fisher has a highly emotional role of fascinating novelty in "The Hellion," the photoplay attraction at the Empress, which will be shown there for the last times today. George Perolat gives a remarkable performance as "The Hellion," inviting comparison with Wilton Lackaye, the famous Svengali of "Tribly."

No Treaty Unless Wilson Recedes, Says McCumber

Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 28.—United States Senator McCumber of North Dakota tonight declared that although an ardent supporter of the peace treaty and the covenant of the league of nations, he was frank to admit that unless President Wilson was prepared to recede from the position he took at the close of the peace conference "he will have no peace treaty."

The North Dakota senator is here for a month to visit with relatives.
