350 days of sunshine

—nearly fifty weeks of each year, all told, when the sun sparkles each day on ocean, bay and city, make life a holiday in San Diego, California.

Roses, in January as in June, garland green lawns and miles of charming homes where the geraniums climb to the eaves.

In the great park, daily audiences assemble to enjoy the harmonies of the afternoon recital on the great out-of-door pipe-organ, overlooking ocean and bay, and here a million gorgeous flowers glow against the green of trees and shrubs from every climate in the world.

The warships of the fleet, Point Loma, the city's portal to the ocean, Old Mexico, but seventeen miles distant, and a thousand vistas among upland valleys and mountain passes traversed by more than four hundred miles of superb boulevards, offer innumerable opportunities for recreation and make this the ideal city in which to establish your permanent home.

Through Pullman service between San Diego and Chicago on the new San Diego and Arizona Railway, in connection with the Rock Island and Southern Pacific, commences December 10, 1919. A delightful trip in winter months through mild climate and new and interesting country.

Every day is an adventure in happiness at

San Diego California

The United States Government is spending more than twenty million dollars in San Diego in permanent stations for its air, land and sea forces, because official tests have proved the advantages, in comfort and efficiency, of its equable climate and continuous sunshine.
