

LOWDEN URGED FOR PRESIDENT ON WAR RECORD

Former Omaha Man Here Tells Reason Friends Support Illinois Governor for High Office.

State Senator Clarence F. Buck of Monmouth and Joseph C. Mason of Springfield, Ill., were at the Hotel Fontenelle yesterday. Both have many friends in Nebraska, Mr. Mason especially having a wide acquaintance acquired through work on The Bee and other Nebraska newspapers.

Senator Buck and Mr. Mason called on numerous Omaha citizens during the day in the interests of Governor Frank O. Lowden, the war governor of Illinois, whose friends are presenting his name to the people for consideration for the republican nomination for president of the United States.

"From every part of the country," said Mr. Mason, "are coming flattering assurances of support. The attention of the people has been attracted to Governor Lowden by his sterling Americanism. He was the first governor to pledge unflinching allegiance to President Wilson and the federal government when diplomatic relations with Germany were severed. From that moment he gave the federal administration his loyal support. In not a single instance did he fail to respond when the Washington authorities called for assistance and co-operation.

Offers Use of Farm. "From the first Governor Lowden had a clear vision of what the war meant. He offered his fine farm in the Rock River valley to the government for a training camp. Some one asked if he did not know it would be ruined. 'Surely,' he responded, 'but if we don't win this war it will be worthless anyway.' 'In the stress of war Mr. Lowden went up and down the state, to training camps and cantonments, preaching patriotism and inspiring—always inspiring—the people to greater effort. He saw the Illinois troops aboard ship in New York, cheering them on their way with words of encouragement and hope. He promised to meet them upon their return and he kept his word, making three trips to New York to do it.

"Mr. Lowden proved himself a great war governor. In the face of war he reorganized the government of Illinois, abolishing 125 boards and commissions and consolidating their agencies in nine major departments with a director at the head of each, who was required to live in Springfield and give his entire time to his duties. He provided for the budget system which proved so effective that taxes were reduced from 90 to 75 cents the first year, thereby saving to the people $4,000,000. In the coming tax levy another reduction will be made. He bears the distinction of being a governor who reduced taxes notwithstanding war prices.

GIRLS! GIRLS! Clear Your Scalp Of Dandruff With CUTICURA SOAP

IN ONE NIGHT

On retiring touch spots of dandruff and itching with Cuticura Ointment on end of forefingers. Cover head for night. Next morning shampoo with Cuticura Soap and hot water. Rinse with tepid water. Repeat in two weeks. Make these fragrant super-creamy emollients your every-day toilet preparations, the Soap to cleanse and purify, Ointment to soften and soothe, Talcum to powder and perfume, and have a clear, sweet skin, clean scalp, good hair and soft, white hands with little trouble and trifling expense.

His new system immensely improved the efficiency of administration. "He is distinctly popular with the people of Illinois. They voted $60,000,000 in bonds for good roads to be paid from automobile licenses. They provided for a constitutional convention. They approved his private bank regulation bill and 'wildcat' banks are no more. Illinois was the first state to ratify the national amendment granting equal suffrage to women upon his recommendation.

"These are a few of the things Lowden has done while war was in progress and the country was suffering from its aftermath. Born in Minnesota, struggling for an education in Iowa, admitted to the bar to practice law in Illinois, he won his way to success in competition with the sharpest and ablest lawyers in Chicago. He knows the needs of the people. A product of the Mississippi valley—farmer, lawyer, statesman and great administrator—he is receiving the loyal support of the section he has helped make great. He talks the language the people understand and appreciate. Many prominent Nebraskans are daily showing their approval of him by their energetic presentation to their friends and neighbors of his merits. They believe he appreciates their problems and knows how to help them solve them."
