IMPOSSIBLE REDUCE TAXES IS REPORT OF GLASS

Treasury Secretary Urges Congress to Deny Every Appropriation for Expenditure In New Fields.

Washington, Dec. J .- No appreciable reduction in taxes for the next fiscal year is to be thought of, Secretary Glass declared in his annual report sent today to congress. Government receipts must be kept at their present figure, he said, in order to bring government borrowing to an end.

Facing expenditures estimated at $5,629,486,359 for the year ending June 30, 1920, and $4,473,696,358 for the year ending June 30, 1921, the government must enforce rigid economy, Mr. Glass, declared. He placed the deficit for the current year at $3,905,000,000 and for the year ending June 30, 1921, at ap-preximately $2,005,000,000.

On this basis, Mr. Glass urged congress to deny "every appropria-tion for expenditure in new fields." He said the same policy should ob tain until the government had its sinking fund well under way and repayment of the war debt "satisfactorily begun.

Foreign Relations Discussed.

Relations between conditions in Europe and those in the United States were discussed also by Mr. Glass. He said that, undoubtedly, there was a very great need in Eu rope for financial assistance, but that the situation had been much exaggerated. . 'We must all feel deep sympathy for Europe today," he said, "hut we must not allow our sympathy to warp our judgment and, by exag-gerating European financial needs, make them more difficult to fill.

The problem of financing

Europe belongs largely to the exporter because industries cannot be reopened without raw stocks. Government financial assistance in the past and talk of future government or banking aid to finance exports have apparently led our industrial concerns to the erroneous expectation that their war profits, based, largely on exports, will continue in-definitely without any risk on their part. To them will fall the profits

Kaiser's Notations on Documents to Chancellor Declared It Was Imperative That Odium for an Eventual World War Should Fall Upon Russia -Czar's Suggestion of Mediation at Hague Tribunal Spurned and Kept Secret from German People.

Rotterdam, Dec. 3. - Universal ervice presents herewith the third installment of the most sensational expose of German seeret diplomacy on record, the summary of documents unearthed and compiled for the German government by Deputy Kautsky though suppressed in Germany In the opening chapter of the evelations it was shown how the kaiser, two days after the assassination of the Austrian archduke, at Sarajevo, wrote now or never on the margin of a note sent by the German ambassador at Vienna telling of the feeling there that there nust be a reckoning with Serbia.

Jottings on the margins of these ocuments in the war lord's own andwriting, show how he planned and ordered the mobilization of Germany's naval and military forces to prepare for the coming of war, and berated the "civilian chancellor" for not comprehending the idea of his movements.

The kaiser personally was with the German fleet and viciously rebuked his chancellor for questioning his actions with the navy. Declared England Mobilized.

The chancellor's message said the British navy was not taking any unusual measures contrary to the carrying out of dispersal after the maneuvers. On this the kaiser commented the British navy had no need of taking extraordinary measures, since it was ready for war and

The chancellor urged that since Sir Edward Grey, for the moment anyway, had not prepared to intervene in a European war, the kaiser might be well advised not to give any premature orders for the return of the fleet. The kaiser remarked:

At 10 that same morning, the kaiser indited a lengthy note to Chancellor von Bethmaun-Hollweg which he urged that while Serbia and ostensibly capitulated the Serbians were "Orientals" and, there-fore, "liars." Consequently, he went on, it was necessary to apply "douce violence" to them in order o guarantee the fulfillment of the Serbian assurances.

Above all the kaiser said in his note to the chancellor, some "satisfaction d'honneur" was due to the Austrian army which otherwise would have mobilized three times without having anything to show
