OMAHA PACKER RETURNS FROM TRIP TO IRELAND

Patrick O'Dea Says Ireland Prospering and Many Reports of Riots Are False.

"Many reports of riots and uprisings in Ireland are made up 'from whole cloth' and sent out in newspaper articles, which are not en-tirely true," said Patrick O'Dea, a leading independent packer of the learned during the past four years Strong and Unexpected Oppothey have been getting war prices for their products and that the war did not greatly draw upon the man power of Ireland, although many a good Irishman was quick to enlist. 'One of those that joined the English colors was the son of an old friend of mine of boyhood days, and when England called for troops this young fellow's wife sent him away cheerily, saying to him, 'Go, Mickey and good luck to ye. > In the long snarl which the senate found itself while trying to decide whether to continue with the railroad bill or take up the sugar bill, the lack of interest in pending railroad legislation was bitterly attacked from both sides of the chamber. Almost an hour was lost today in quorum calls which Sen-ator Smoot, republican, Utah, denounced as inexcusable, with a vitally important question before congress. Can Now Show Profit. In his argument against the bill, Senator La Follette declared its enschator La Poliette declared its enactment would add to the cost of living because an increase in freight rates would come with the end of government control, which, he insisted, had been eminently successful. Senator La Poliette said he had Sentor McKellar's objection to the Cummins bill was that it would take a part of the earnings from a railroad properly managed and rendering efficient service and give it to a road poorly managed and of little benefit to the public. He character zed the provision as "indefensible. There was a suggestion from a number of senators after adjournment tonight that it might be necessary to defer the Christmas recess.

It also was suggested that the senate endeavor to obtain from the president a statement as to his plans for the turning back of the roads, in view of his silence on this question since his message to the extraordinary session of congress last democrat of Alabama, took notice of widely circulated rumors that the president would not return the roads to their owners January 1. Senator Underwood frankly announced that he did not know what President Wilson intended to do.

"But," he added, "the president has said that he would turn them back the first of the year and it has been my observation that when he said he would do a thing he did it."

Early sales of cows and heifers looked unchanged as compared with yesterday, later the market weakening with sales slow and prices lower. As compared with last Friday, butcher stock is variously estimated all the way from 26c to 75c higher. The butcher and feeder market did not show much variation from other days this week, heavy feeders being about steady, while lighter kinds and the stockers are shout the lowest point of the season. Good feeders are strong to 25c higher for the week, while thin kinds show no advance. Receipts of western beef are practically negligible and very little doing in grass steers. Prices are generally steady for the week.

my observation that when he said he would do a thing he did it."

Fights Sidetracking Bills.

Taking up for the time being the minority leadership, Senator Underwood fought off attempts to sidetrack the railroad bill and defended it against attacks by members of his own party. While he did not approve all of its provisions he declared it protected the financial interests of the roads and did not unduly burden the public.

The principal attack on the bill was made by Senator La Follette, who already had spoken two full days and who has not yet approached the end of his long address. After he had been steadily opposing the measure for two hours Senator La Follette temporarily yielded the floor to Senator Mc-lated as "bolshevistic," when he halted suddenly and announced that he did not intend to speak to empty benches.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago Grain and Provisions.

Chicago, Dec. 11.—Weakness took possession of the corn market today after some show of strength at the outset. Sharp new breaks in foreign exchange, together with larger receipts and moderating temperature, had a bearish effect. The settlement of the coal strike was also influential as a motive for selling. Initial prices, which ranged from ½ to 1% cents higher, with January $1.38 to $1.38% and May $1.34% to $1.35, were followed by a setback to well below yesterday's finish.

No important rally took place and toward the last the depression became more and more pronounced. Prices closed heavy, 1% $20 net lower, with January $1.35% 21.35%, and May $1.324.

The last part of the day witnessed further declines in provisions, and there was much talk of a poor outlook for exports.

Oats declined with corn. After opening unchanged to 14 @ % c up, including May, at 81% to 81% cents, the market underwent a decided sag.

Higher quotations on hogs lifted provisions. Later, owing to grain weakness, the market reacted somewhat.

Witness at Court-Martial Asserts Captain Karl W. Deitzer Ordered Cruel Punishment of Prisoners.

New York, Dec. 11 .- Capt. Kar. W. Deitzer, charged with brutality to prisoners in France, on severa' occasions stood by with a pistol is one hand and a blackjack in the other while his sergeants "beat up' a man in his custody, according to estimony given today at his court nartial on Governors island.

This testimony was given by Clarence H. Lacey of Indianapolis one of the principal witnesses for the prosecution, from whom the defence lowever, forced an admission that Murderer Deranged he once had been convicted in Ohio various charges while in the army. Lacey, an ex-soldier, admitted he ad escaped from Captain Deitzer former commander of the 308th military police company, after he had been arrested by him on a street in Le Mans for being absent without leave. The defense brought out that he also had left his organization in this country before it had sailed for France and that in 1914 he had been accused of deserting from the Sixth

Force Deitzer to Flee. Lacey testified that he had first net Captain Deitzer when he had come out of a cafe with Private Fred M. Yates, now a military prisoner who, it is expected, will be called tomorrow by the prosecution. He said Deitzer had challenged them. that they lacked passes, but that Yates pretended he was taking him to the provost marshal's office after having found him in the railroad yards, where government property was lying in freight cars. Lacey said Deitzer ordered them to come along with him, but that after they had gone a short distance Yates dropped his hand to his revolver and "told the captain to beat it." Deitzer did, according to Lacey, and ne and Yates fled, but were later rearrested. Lacey testified that on being beore Deitzer again, he had received ough treatment from him and his wo sergeants, U. S. Madden and Frank L. Hoyt. He asserted that once Deitzer had ordered his sergeants to take him out, give him a hance to run and if he didn't, make him, then shoot and "waste no bul-

He said he had been beaten a dozen times before Deitzer, who, he said, stood by with a pistol in one hand and a black-jack in the other. In addition, Lacey said Deitzer had made him sit on a bench for five days without sleep. If he dozed off, he was grabbed by the hair and pulled to his feet. He added that he had been made to sign false statements after he had "been led to believe he would be punished by death if he disobeyed.

In cross-examining Lacey, Lieut. Thomas L. Hefferman, defense counsel, who at the opening of the trial declared the defendant had incurred the wrath of many "hard characters" while abroad, asked the witness if he did not know of "talk of 'getting' Capt Deitzer." He followed this with another question as to whether it was not true he had agreed "with others to get together New York Sugar.
