

OLYMPIC GAMES DATES SUIT U. S. COMMITTEE MEN

Only Objections Are on Arrangements for the Swimming and Rowing Events.

New York, Dec. 16.—Members of the American Olympic games committee, when informed by The Associated Press of the selection of the dates for the various competitions at Antwerp next year, expressed satisfaction with the program, with the exception of the dates selected for the swimming and rowing events. It was pointed out that these contests, falling almost a month after the completion of the track and field games, would badly upset the plan for the American team now being organized. Unless a change can be effected it may be necessary to send the team to Belgium in two sections, the swimmers and rowers, a delegation running into double figures, cannot be transported with the track contingent and held in Belgium for a month after the major portion of the team is enroute for home.

American Plans.

Plans for the formation of the American team are rapidly advanced, and arrangements for the housing of between 1,000 and 1,200 contestants from the United States are well under way. Owing to the low altitude of Antwerp, it has been decided to quarter the team at a considerable distance from the scene of the games proper and transport the entrants from day to day to the stadium as required by the program. This was considered to be a wiser course than to permit the athletes to be quartered amid the noise and confusion of the city and in close proximity to the damp air of the salt meadows.

It was also pointed out that the course for the marathon race, from Brussels to Antwerp will be over historic ground and along the same roads over which the German army advanced in its initial attack on Belgium in August, 1914. The runners will pass through Malines, famous for the determined stand of Cardinal Mercier and the cathedral which the Germans used as an observation post in their attack on Antwerp.

All along the 25 miles will be evidence of the bitter fighting in the earliest days of the war, including the completely wrecked forts at Ypres, destroyed by the shells of the big Berthas, and the hundreds of graves of the fallen combatants. The race probably will be run over a Belgium block and asphalt course unless special provision is made for a soft dirt pathway paralleling the main roads.

Program Announced.

Brussels, Dec. 16.—The official program and schedule for the Olympic games in Antwerp next summer were announced Tuesday by the Belgian Olympic committee. The international meet, with competitions in more than 20 different branches of sport will open April 1, and continue with occasional breaks until October 1. The track and field championships, including the marathon race from Brussels to Antwerp, the feature event of the games, will cover a period of nine days from August 15 to 23.

Quality First

I took her advice and began taking Tanlac, and I want to say right here it is the grandest medicine on earth in my opinion. It soon had a fine appetite and could eat anything I wanted without suffering any bad after effects, and I was never troubled with gas or palpitation of the heart. I continued taking it until I am a healthy woman again. My kidneys never bothered me at all and the pains in my back have entirely left me, and I have not had the headache or those dizzy spells since I started taking Tanlac. I am as strong as I ever was in my life and can do all my housework with the greatest ease. If I could get another I wouldn't care whether there was any other medicine in the world, for I have such faith in it I don't believe I would ever need anything else."

MAGNATES FAVOR LARGE LUMP SUM FOR COMMISSION

Controlling Base Ball Body Now Receiving 10 Per Cent Of Receipts From Each World's Series.

New York, Dec. 16.—When the National Base Ball commission is reorganized, which will happen as soon as Garry Herrmann is forced from his job as chairman, it is planned to give the commission an allowance of $25,000 from the world's series receipts, instead of permitting it to take 10 per cent of the receipts of world's series and post-season games, as has been done heretofore.

Two and Three "PUTTING THE NEXT ONE OVER" WITH "BUGS" BAER

Earning a Letter.

MIKE MURPHY'S son breaks a leg playing against Boston college. He was the only Yale man in that game who demonstrated that Darwin may have been slightly mistaken.

The rest of the Yale troupe save their legs long enough to be smeared plenty by Princeton and Harvard. They grab their big "Y" for losing these two fat games. Murph gets slipped the No. 6 razzberry.

Murphy should have been tossed a "Y," even if they had to make it out of court plaster or adhesive tape.

Birds, who couldn't have earned a letter from a bill collector, grab the gray while cuckoo like Murphy get the work. Been always the way since the first barber stropped the razor on the first victim's chin. Look at the U. S. All we get out of the war is the Monroe Doctrine. And we had that before it started. Look at Hank Ford. Doesn't spend a nickel to get elected and doesn't get elected. "Senator" Newberry absorbs the honors by using only 187 more accomplices than Ali Baba employed. Newberry earned his "S," but it looks as if Hank will go to Washington and be uncomfortable for four years in a seat that doesn't bounce and jolt.

Newberry's chirp is a Senate at any price. He aims for the U. S. branch and winds up with Mack Sennett.

Beckett has the piquant ambition to earn a neat but not gaudy bank letter loaded with a giant money order. Mingles with Mons. Carpenter and gets decorated like a trunk that has been all around the world. Beckett loses shindig but retains the English cable championship, entitling him to transatlantic honors at 30 cents a word, prepaid. Dempsey will flatten Carp for $20,000. That puts Croesus and John D. in the next breadline cotillon. Carp wants the fight in Paris, but we warn Dempsey not to go fighting there. They were over there earning letters for second looses to open and swipe telephone numbers out of.

The biggest letter earner is Carranza. He reads 'em upside down. Answers 'em sideways. He is playing a brother-in-law game with the ants. European war took away booze. Need a Mexican war to take away dough. Let 'em turn the glue parlors into doll hospitals, but, woman—don't turn the United Cigar Stores into a chain of boll weevil shops. Boys, will we stand for this?

And echo answers, "Bushwa."

Cases Against 83 Others Will Be Dropped, in Opinion of Prosecuting Attorney.

The Huskies are divided into three teams and according to the plans announced by their coach, Paul Schuster, will be divided into two all-year teams after the two games are played.

California Film Men Bid for Carpenter During His Training

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 16.—George Carpenter, Europe's champion pugilist, is expected to star in a motion picture serial drama and to make this place the scene of his training preliminary to his fight with Jack Dempsey, world champion, it was learned yesterday.

A cablegram was dispatched yesterday to Carpenter by Jack Warner, well-known local sportsman, and Al St. John, film actor and former amateur boxer of some reputation, offering the French fighter a contract to appear here in the preparation of a film serial.

If Carpenter accepts, and the offer was said to have been made tempting enough to render it difficult to refuse, he is to arrive here for work early in February, so that releases on the picture can be had before July 4—the tentative date set for the proposed Dempsey-Carpenter fight.

Princeton Wins.

Princeton, N. J., Dec. 16.—Princeton's freshmen eleven won the inter-collegiate freshmen soccer championship by defeating the Pennsylvania freshmen, four goals to nothing.
