Heart Beats

By A. K.
Every cloud
Must have its silver lining—
Every living soul
Must have its share of cloud.

Trusting
And true
To God and man
And Life and Love—
My heart ran
Like a rippling brook—
My senses calm
As summer dawn—
My fancies quite serene—
I never doubted—
For I never thought.

My wishes all
Came true
And Life and Love
Were fair enough
To me.
Success seemed just across
The way.
But when I reached for it
And lost—
My wit ran riot
With Dam Reason
For a time—
I strove and sought—
Laughed and fought
Like one gone mad—
And then I learned
That one who never fails
Has never really tried.
Time shooed misfortune—
Heartaches
Ill health and disaster
In my path.
Crushed to earth—
Robbed of precious might—
Almost spiritually lost
Within my grief
I struggled up
Into the light—
And learned to Live.

Christmas Presents.
Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: Just like many others, I am coming to you for advice, though I don't consider myself quite as silly as some of the girls must be that write to you.
However, it does include a "friend," who is about 17 years of age, and I am 22 years old. He is a very true friend indeed, but very bashful. We have gone together since the 4th and like each other very much, though we don't break our necks trying to tell each other about it. He has asked me what I want for Xmas. We are planning on giving each other presents. I have one for him, and this is what I would like to know: Should I wait until Xmas eve to give it to him personally, or send it to him by mail a few days before and instruct "do not open before Xmas?" I am very much tempted to do the latter, since he lives in the country and it is barely possible that I won't get to see him Xmas on account of the awful roads.
I hope you will answer my questions in the next Bee. I am, very respectfully,
A READER.

Two Popular Chums.
Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: We are two chums and would like to have some advice from you. We are 18 and 23, respectively. It is wrong to use powder and rouge at our age or are we too young? How should we dress our hair? Are we too old to wear curls? We are considered very beautiful and all the boys are just simply crazy to keep company with us. It is wrong to keep company with more than one boy or could we have two or three at a time? Is it sinful to kiss a boy? Are we too young to go to parties and play kissing games?
Thanking you for your advice, we are
DOT AND DIMPLES.

SCHULZE'S BUTTER-NUT BREAD

We Are Glad to Be of Service to Our Customers at All Times

DURING the recent fuel shortage it became necessary for us to shorten our store hours, for by turning out our lights early, banking our fires, darkening our show windows and putting out all electric lighted signs, we were able to save many pounds of coal each day.

We were confident that our customers would support us in this, although it inconvenienced them because of our inability to serve them properly during the shortened hours, of which so few remain before Christmas.

We gladly yielded to the order of the Fuel Commissioner, and now that the ban has been lifted we cheerfully concede to the wishes of our customers and have Extended Our Store Hours to 9 P. M.

for by so doing it will allow them three extra shopping hours each day.

We shall work full-powered and alert to serve every need with the best of merchandise, carrying on our business with true Christmas spirit from 9 a. m. until 9 p. m. every day until Xmas.
