

God governs in the affairs of men; and if a sparrow cannot fall to the ground without His notice, neither can a kingdom rise without His aid. —Benjamin Franklin.

WOMAN'S SECTION OF THE BEE

Amusements are to virtue like breezes of air to the flames; gentle ones will fan it, but strong ones will put it out.—David Thomas.

CLUBBING

THE Thursday Morning Bee announced a gift of $1,000 from the Omaha Equal Franchise society to Carrie Chapman Catt, as president of the American National Suffrage association. It was the sentiment at the meeting Wednesday afternoon when the money was voted, that "Now is the accepted time for action. Nebraska has ratified, and 21 other states as well," said one of the society members, "but that will profit us nothing on 'Judgment day' if 14 more states do not come into the fold." The suffrage fight from now on will be waged in states where there is possibility of ratification. Thus far only one state where the subject has been considered, Alabama, on September 17, 1919, has failed to ratify.

A special session is called in Oregon for January 12. A special session has also been called in New Mexico. Of the 22 states which have already ratified, 18 are republican. States having ratified to date, are: Illinois—June 10. Wisconsin—June 10. Michigan—June 10. Kansas—June 16. New York—June 16. Ohio—June 16. Pennsylvania—June 24. Massachusetts—June 25. Texas—June 27. Iowa—July 2. Missouri—July 3. Arkansas—July 28. Montana—July 30. Nebraska—August 2. Minnesota—September 8.

New Hampshire—September 10. Utah—September 30. California—November 1. Maine—November 5. North Dakota—December 1. South Dakota—December 2. Colorado—December 12.

Woman Suffrage Amendment In America

The amendment reads: "The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States, or by any state, on account of sex."

Voted on in senate four times: 1887—Yeas, 16; nays, 34. 1914—Failing by 11 votes. 1918—Failing by two votes. February, 1919—Failed by one vote.

Voted on in house three times: 1915—Failing by 78 of the necessary two-thirds vote. 1918—Passed January 10, with one vote over necessary two-thirds majority. 1919—Passed May 21, with 14 votes to spare.

Colonial Period—Under several colonial governments women voted. At Time of American Revolution—Women demanded to be included in government. Abigail Adams wrote to her husband, John Adams, "If women are not represented in this new republic there will be another revolution."

From Revolution to 1848—Women agitated suffrage by meetings and circulation of petitions. 1848—Woman's rights convention at Seneca Falls, N. Y., arranged by Lucretia Mott and Elizabeth Cady Stanton, as the first big suffrage demonstration in this country.

From 1848 to Civil War—Efforts were made to have state laws altered to include women. Susan B. Anthony became a leader in the movement for political freedom. During Civil War—in spite of Miss Anthony's efforts and protests, suffragists were prevailed upon to give up their work by the promise of men in congress that, "when the war was over, justice would be done them."

At the Close of the Civil War—Women were without funds or organization, and justice was not done them. For five years suffragists attempted to secure an interpretation of the 14th and 15th amendments that would permit women to vote.

1872—Miss Anthony made the test in 1872 of voting at the polls. She was arrested and fined, refused to pay her fine, but was never jailed. 1875—Amendment drafted by Miss Anthony.

1878—Amendment introduced in senate by Senator Sargent of Colorado.

State Campaigns—Side by side with the effort to secure federal action, the state campaigns begun in 1848 were continued.

Women won suffrage in the states as follows: Wyoming (1890), Colorado, Utah, Idaho (1894), Washington (1910), California (1911), Kansas, Arizona and Oregon (1912), Montana and Nevada (1914), New York (1917), Oklahoma, South Dakota, Michigan (1918), Presidential suffrage: Illinois (1913), Nebraska, Rhode Island, North Dakota (1917), Iowa, Tennessee, Wisconsin, Indiana, Maine, Minnesota, Missouri (1919). Primary suffrage: Arkansas (1917) Texas (1918).

Why Man Swims

It is strange, isn't it, that almost every animal, excepting man and possibly the monkey, knows how to swim naturally. Others, such as birds, horses, dogs, cows, elephants, can swim as soon as they can move about alone.

The trouble with man in this connection is that his natural motion is climbing. He has been a climber ever since he was developed from the monkey, and when you throw him into the water before he has learned to swim, he naturally starts to climb and as a climbing motion won't do for swimming, the man will drown.

This climbing motion is as much of an instinct in man and monkeys as of the instinct in a dog which causes him to turn around once or twice before he lies down, just as his forefathers used to do ages ago when, as wild dogs, they first had to trample the grass before they could lie down comfortably.—From the Book of Wonders.

Attractive Plans Made For Y. W. C. A. Christmas

Already the Y. W. C. A. is taking on a Christmas aspect. Entering the building, a 12-foot Christmas tree greets the eye. Upstairs is another tree which will be decorated and used as the center of Christmas gaieties.

Thursday evening, the regular monthly banquet of the extension club took on the complexion of Christmas. Two hundred guests assembled to witness the beautiful tableaux of such subjects as "The Nativity."

Sunday, December 21, will be an informal day at the Y. W. C. A. Mrs. M. B. Horton, new recreation secretary, will tell "the story of the other wise man," with her hearers gathered around the Christmas tree. The meeting will begin at 3 o'clock. Refreshments will be served.

On Christmas day, the Y. W. C. A. cafeteria will be closed but the building will be open for all young people. Light refreshments and a good time around the fire place are promised.

On Sunday, December 28, the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. will hold a joint vesper service.

"Motherhood insurance," which has been in successful operation for some years in the Scandinavian countries, is about to be given its first practical trial in the United States by the American Woolen company, whose plan will assure every prospective mother in its employ of four weeks' benefits without any cost to her.

The semi-centennial of woman suffrage in Wyoming, the first state to give to women the right to vote, is to be celebrated on December 10.

The first voter is said to have been a 70-year-old woman, who voted on her way to the baker's, and went to the polls with a yeast pitcher in one hand and the ballot in the other.

Two-thirds of the real estate in New Orleans is said to be owned by women.

Famous Women

Delilah.
Why did Samson? Many a man says that, "Why did I?" when it is too late. Self-reverence, self-knowledge, self-control, these three alone do lead to sovereign power, sang Tennyson. Delilah, the beautiful "girl of the book," Sorek (as the original reads) was seen by Samson as he swung past, going down to Hebron. The date of this tragic passion-hour is 1120 B. C. The Philistines got this enchanting girl to entice the secret of Samson's strength from him. Delilah succeeded in a night under the purple heavens of the east where alone the planets and their Maker were witnesses of the tragedy. The reader is urged to study the magnificent Samson Agonistes of Milton, and to ponder the story in Hloy Writ. In the 15th chapter of the Book of Judges, the real reason of Samson's recklessness is given—Samson's father had given Samson's wife to his bosom friend.

Ellen Richards, Chemist.
Intuition is the headlight put in woman's forehead uniquely for her when woman lost common sense in Eden. Just a few females have been able to clutch at the skirts of common sense, and to retain its hard-pan usefulness. These have plunged into hard-pan studies, and in the crucible have evolved some good things for the world. Among the number stands Ellen H. S. Richards, chemist, born in 1842, died in 1911, a skilled instructor in the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Not on was Ellen Richards a chemist, but she was a pure food expert. Her books and pamphlets are valuable. Among their titles are these: "The Chemistry of Cooking," "Conservation by Sanitation," "The Cost of Cleanliness" and "Home Economics." All honor to you, Ellen Richards, who pursued the hard paths of practical output unadorned by the jessaminos of romance.

Shakespeare's "Seven ages of man" pay tribute to Horlick's Malted Milk

From across every sea and land have come thousands of grateful letters to the Horlick offices, paying tribute to Horlick's Malted Milk. Mothers of contented babies, soldiers after a campaign, explorers back from the ice fields, high tension business and professional workers, invalids and the aged—all tell of the different needs that Horlick's has filled.

Horlick's has proved itself to be the ideal food for every age of Shakespeare's Seven. It is so complete in itself as to contain every element of nutrition necessary to sustain life—even of the most robust—and yet it is readily digestible by the delicate stomach of the infant and the invalid.

1st Age. "First the infant in the nurse's arms"

"Words fail to express how grateful I am to Horlick's Malted Milk. My babe was given up; it was said she would not live through the night. But the next morning it still lived, and while we anxiously watched it, a neighbor persuaded us to try 'Horlick's.' It was like putting oil on the wick of a dying lamp; she improved rapidly, and is now the joy of the house"

2d Age. "Then the school boy with his shining morning face"

"I raised five children on 'Horlick's,' and they all love it still. It can't be beat as a nutritious lunch between meals for a growing boy or girl"

3d Age. "Then the soldier seeking reputation at the cannon's mouth"

"Clara Barton of the Red Cross in her stories of the Spanish-American War tells how Colonel Roosevelt asked the Red Cross to sell him some supplies for some sick men in his regiment, but she declined. 'We cannot sell them, but you can have them for asking.' 'Oh, then I do ask for them.' 'All right, what is on your list?' The list was Horlick's Malted Milk, etc. Colonel Roosevelt slung the heavy sack over his shoulder, and trudged off through the jungle"

4th Age. "And then the lover with his ballad"

"Horlick's growth as a fountain favorite has been marvelous. A constant stream of young couples in the afternoon and evening call for Horlick's Malted Milk, chocolate or plain. 'Horlick's' is a favorite lunch hour drink around universities with the students. A glass making a meal, they find it very economical and healthful"

5th Age. "And then the justice fall of wise saws"

"When I need an investigator as the result of my work I drink a cup of Horlick's. I have used it constantly for several years, and find it cannot be beat for weak stomach, as a diet. In fact, it is all that is claimed for it"

6th Age. "The sixth age with spectacles on nose"

"I am 60 years old, and consider it a fortunate day when a friend induced me to try a cup of Horlick's Malted Milk. I use it with benefit and pleasure two or three times a day. It is delicious and has done me a world of good"

7th Age. "Last scene of all that ends this eventful history"

"I could not do without it. It surely is a sleep producer and I am a nervous person, but Horlick's Malted Milk has helped me greatly. I have learned by experience that 'Horlick's' is as excellent for well people as for invalids"
