

CONTRACTS LET FOR NEW FACTORY TO COST $500,000

Hope to Complete Big Addition to M. E. Smith & Co. by the Middle of Next Summer.

M. E. Smith & Co. yesterday announced that contracts have been let for a new $500,000 factory building at the southeast corner of Tenth and Douglas streets, to the James Stewart Construction company of New York City. The work of wrecking the old brick and frame structures which now occupy the site will begin January 15, and excavating will start February 1. It is believed that the building can be completed by the middle of next summer.

The construction will be of concrete and steel, absolutely fireproof in every respect. The building will be occupied exclusively by the garment factories of the company, now housed in the north part of the twin buildings which it occupies.

Many novel features have been incorporated in the plans by Architect Frederick S. Stead, who toured the country studying factory construction, before beginning his work. A day nursery for the children of mothers who may wish to work in the garment shops, will be one of these features—the first to be announced for any industrial building in the city.

Another feature is the large cafeteria which will occupy practically the entire eighth floor. This room will be finished without posts of any kind, thus providing a large auditorium in which conventions of salesmen, as well as social gatherings of employees, may be held. The company will erect a duplicate building at the northeast corner of Tenth and Farnam streets in the near future, having purchased the ground several months ago. At present, however, this site is occupied by buildings on which unexpired leases are held, delaying building operations.

Annual Automobile Show at Auditorium March 1 to 6, 1920

At a meeting of the directors of the Omaha Automobile Trade association Wednesday the dates for the Fifteenth Annual Automobile show were set for March 1 to 6. Plans are under way to make this show the most attractive ever staged in Omaha.

After a considerable amount of discussion it was agreed that the Auditorium would be the best place to hold the show, even though it does not afford the desired amount of space. The McCaffrey building will be used to increase the exhibit space. It is planned this year to use two floors of the McCaffrey building.

According to Clarke G. Powell, manager, more dealers will exhibit and more cars will be exhibited than at any other Omaha show. Effort will be made to make an effort to secure the entire exhibit display at the Chicago Automobile show, and in addition to this the dealers will decorate their show rooms in attractive style during the show week. With this double display arrangement it is hoped that the splendor of the automobile show will completely overshadow all other events.

Ringer's Secretary Says Commissioner Will Return Friday

The first definite news of the return of J. D. Ringer, police commissioner, was received yesterday morning from his secretary, Harry Silverman, who spoke these words at 10 a. m.:

"Mr. Ringer will be home at 8 a. m. Friday."

Mr. Silverman emphasized the word "will," and did not use the word "probably," he said in former statements about the home-coming of the police commissioner.

Mr. Silverman disclaimed any knowledge of the possibility of probability of Mr. Ringer's return, a trained worker of the Young Men's Christian association to Omaha to take up the work of inspector of police.

"If Mr. Ringer intends to bring an association man home with him it is news to me, because he did not tell me anything about it when he left," Mr. Silverman stated.

Returned Soldier, On City 'Honor Roll,' Says He's Not Dead

The name of Ove Tonder has been removed from the city hall honor roll of Omaha soldiers, sailors and marines who died in the service during the period of the war.

Mr. Tonder, now employed in the Union Pacific storehouse, wrote to Mayor Smith, explaining his present condition of good health and asking that a correction be made. When the city hall list was prepared Mr. Tonder was reported as "missing in action."
