Physicians, being human, are fallible-and, being fallible, their opinions are not infallible.

With all due respect to the Medical profession and its learned members, I, for one, deny the Dental profession has been "radically wrong" all these years, and resent the indictment of my profession by the Medical profession.

If, as charged, "reconstructive dentistry" is responsible for many of the ills flesh is heir to, and "the teeth cause half our ills," what may we say about the damage done to teeth and health by such strong drugs or mercury, calomel, tincture of iron, arsenic, etc., WHICH HAS COME TO THE NOTICE OF EVERY PRAC-TICING DENTIST, AND IS FREQUENTLY THE REASON THAT THE TEETH REQUIRE DENTAL ATTENTION?

Reconstructive dentistry, skillfully performed, under strictly sanitary conditions, has saved millions of people much misery, and in handling over one hundred thousand cases I have never heard

Can the Medical profession say as much?

Perhaps it might be better for the Physician to practice Medi-cine and leave the practice of Dentistry to qualified Dentists. "Kultur" ended with the signing of the armistice.
