MIDNIGHT
DYSPEPSIA

Late Suppers and the Snack Before Going to Bed Are All Right and Safe If You Follow With a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet.

The stomach often feels empty just before bed time. A little bite

I Sure Made a Great Discovery When I Learned About Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

usually induces sleep. To avoid indigestion, restlessness and the "dark brown" taste in the morning, take a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet after eating. It supplies just the right elements to aid in digesting food, rests the stomach, provides properties to relieve the tendency to gasiness and sour risings, morning biliousness and consequent absence of appetite for breakfast. To make a practice of always using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after eating is one of those precautionary measures that repay immensely. This is an age of prevention and these tablets are designed to promote liberty of eating and the good fellowship that goes with a good meal. You will find Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets in all drug stores throughout the United States and Canada.

Resinol

seldom fails to relieve itching

That torturing rash from which you suffer can be speedily relieved and doubtless cleared away by using Resinol Ointment. It is a mild, healing preparation, prescribed by doctors for many years, and used not only for severe skin troubles, but as a general household remedy for burns, scalds, chafings, etc. It is so gentle and soothing, it can be used on the tenderest and most irritated skin without fear.

Worn Out In Mind and Body

Your child is quick to observe disturbances in your mental attitude or physical condition. And when he asks, "What's the matter, Daddy?" there's a tone of solemn anxiety in his little voice. The depression stamped upon you reflects intensely upon him because of his profound solicitude. He at once drops his playthings and rushes to your side, but his happy smile has disappeared and his buoyant spirits are gone—replaced by a countenance of worry and a bearing of hopelessness.

You owe it to the happiness and welfare of your family to keep trim in body and keen in intellect. Refresh the sun and the inspiration of their lives. Dark, threatening clouds hover over their heads the instant you show signs of being "out of sorts" or "under the weather." Don't imperil their future by neglecting your health.

The Great General Tonic

will banish that "tired" feeling and dispel that weariness. It will renew your strength and vigor, overcome the ravishing effects of overwork and worry, revive your spirits and increase your hold on life. Being a refreshing appetizer, a valuable aid to digestion and a worthy promoter of the general health, because of its positive restorative and reconstructive value, its use is especially desirable in cases of subnormal conditions. If you suffer from nervous exhaustion, muscular or mental fatigue, or deficiency of vitality from general weakness or wasting illness, you'll find "LYKO" particularly beneficial. It tones up the entire system and keeps you feeling fit. Ask your druggist for a bottle today.

Heart Beats

By A. K.

The smiles of women
No native world—
Though most of the world
Doesn't know it.
The bright baby girl
Learns the difficult code
Of beguiling smiles
Of her sex.
Grandmother gray—
Who has had her day—
Notes all the shades
And tones
And looks
Of these perplexities.
Man doesn't see
The designing curl
To pretty lips
That need not speak—
Or the cunning lift
To the Siren's eyes—
So slight this arch
And skillful.
He penetrates no bashful blush
No naive girly pose—
He never sees
The smile that lurks—
Behind a petulant pout.
The open frankness
Of the true—
The honest smile
Of good intention
Of good intent—
Is recognized by the weaker sex
But not understood by man—
Nor the subtle leers
And crocodile tears—
Of the vampire—
Or girl parasite.
Some say they live
By their wits—
I say they live
By their smiles—
Man sees not through
These practiced masks—
He only knows he likes them.
But woman knows
The sincere smile—
The smiles of love
The smiles of truth—
Of honesty—
And treachery—
For they are signals
That need no word.
There are smiles so faint
So fascinating—
So clever—
So shrewd—
So artful—
So skilled—
That only the "female
the species"
Knows their "cause"
And their "effect."
She knows the smiles
Of guilt and deceit—
So it takes a woman
To judge a woman—
For she knows the language
Of woman's smiles.

CLUBDOM

THE Des Moines Federation of Women's Clubs, an organization of 102 federated clubs and the largest city federation in the world, has inaugurated a boycott on the use of various products that are sold for prohibitive prices, according to the president, Mrs. Bert McKee.
At a meeting of the executive committee December 23 a unanimous vote was registered against the prohibitive prices asked for food products in that city and the exorbitant sums demanded for the single necessities of life—clothing, shoes, drugs and the like.
High Price Hysteria.
That the high price hysteria is not confined to one line of business is self-evident from the fact that the clothier is complaining of the shoe man and the grocer, the grocer of the clothier and the shoe man in turn of the clothier and the grocer, and so on down the line.
Therefore, they believe, it is unjust to discriminate against any certain commodity. For this reason the executive committee makes an urgent appeal to the women of the city to buy only the articles of food, or clothing they cannot do without.

Kappa Kappa Gamma will meet Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Mrs. G. A. Undeland, 4822 Chicago street.
Daughters of 1812.
The postponed annual meeting and election of officers of the Daughters of 1812, will be held Tuesday afternoon.
A Stubborn Cough Loosens Right Up.
This home-made remedy is a wonder for quick results. Easily and cheaply made.
Here is a home-made syrup which millions of people have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up stubborn coughs. It is cheap and simple, but very prompt in action. Under its healing, soothing influence, chest soreness goes, phlegm loosens, breathing becomes easier, tickling in throat stops and you get a good night's sleep. The usual throat and chest colds are conquered by it in 24 hours or less. Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness, croup, throat tickle, bronchial asthma or water cough.
To make this splendid cough syrup, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup and shake thoroughly. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you get a full pint—a family supply—of much better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste.
Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its prompt healing effect upon the mucous membranes.
To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., St. Wayne, Ind.

Lovelorn

BY BEATRICE FAIRFAX

The Real Issue.
Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: We have been reading your "Advice to the Lovelorn" for some time. This is our first letter to you. We would like some advice. We are sisters, 18 and 19 years old; have no parents.

We have blue eyes and medium brown curly hair; are considered very handsome.
We are engaged to two nice young men whom we have been going with for almost two years. They seem highly respected among all who know them. They are brothers, 20 and 21 years of age. They seem to care very much for us when we are with them.

We went to a little town some 20 miles away. Were there about two months. They did not come to see us while we were there. We did not go with other boys. Came back a week ago; have not seen them, but talked over the phone to them.

They talked the same as usual. A few days ago we learned they had been going with other girls while we were away. Before we left it was always quite late when they came to see us. Do you think we ought to keep on going with these boys, as we care very much for them? Do you think they really care for us?

Would like to see this in print soon, thanking you in advance for the same.
TWO AMERICAN BEAUTIES.
The question is not whether you shall go with the boys, but shall you break your engagement with them. If they do not treat you with respect and consideration now, you should certainly not marry them, and the sooner you came to an understanding the better.

Stories Lost.

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: One day last summer while away attending a chautauqua I was given an introduction to one of the lecturers who was a famous author and editor from New York City. As I was interested in becoming a short story writer, our conversation drifted in that line, and when he left he gave me his address and wanted me to send him some of my stories. He offered to criticize and suggest some place of sale. This was four months ago and I have never heard from him since. I feel sure he received my stories, because my return was on the envelope and it never came back. I have written to him twice at his home address, but have never received an answer, so I really don't know what to do. I hate to lose my stories.

This man has written many successful photo-plays and has become well known in Omaha last year. Please consider this carefully before giving an answer, because it means so much to me. I really don't know whether to write him again or what to do.

Just sign my name, BLUE EYES.

The average person could not possibly realize how editors are harassed by aspiring young writers who think their efforts are worthy of notice. Perhaps they are but editors, unfortunately, are human and could not possibly read all the manuscripts sent to them. The man probably gave you his card to be polite. It seems that your stories should come back to you. If you will tell me his name I may be able to get the stories returned. If I should happen to know him personally a note to him might help. Editors and writers, however, are dilatory about reading and returning manuscripts, particularly if they have any intention of reading them.

Actresses, El Al.

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: Am a girl of 16 and read your advice to others.

First of all, what is Mary McCaren's address? Also Billie Burke's, both are movie actresses?

Last summer while away on my vacation I met a very nice boy. We knew each other pretty well before I left, as I had met him before last summer while up there. One evening as we were walking home from the show, absent-mindedly, we started talking about married people. All of a sudden I found myself standing still, facing him. He said, "Well, look here, when are you going to get married?" "Not for a while," I replied, thinking to change the subject. Do you think he meant to propose? We are corresponding now, but he never says anything about that evening. ANXIOUS.

Billie Burke's address is Famous Players, 120 West Fifty-sixth street, New York City. I presume you mean

Lady David Beatty

Lady David Beatty

Lady Beatty, wife of Earl Beatty, Great Britain's most popular naval hero, from her latest portrait, Lady Beatty is the daughter of the late Marshal Field of Chicago.

MacLaren. Her address is 127 North Manhattan Place, Los Angeles, Cal. Do not take the boy's remark seriously. His question was, perhaps, only a thought of the moment.

Mrs. H. C. McDonald—Books by the following authors would be suitable for children: Francis J. Flinn, Louise Alcott, Jules Verne, and Frederick L. Baum. Others which would be interesting are "The Secret of Pokemoke," "The Katydid Series," "The Pollyanna Books," "Hugh Wynne," "Beth's Promise," "A Squirrel Detective," "Alice in Wonderland," Kipling's Mowgli stories and Hans Brinker, or the story of "The Silver Skates."

Standards Lowered.
The Montana state board of education has decided that the requirements for eligibility to teach in Montana shall be greatly relaxed. There has been a shortage of teachers, and it is hoped that by making the necessary qualifications easier, more teachers will be available, especially for the rural schools.

Tea Dance.

Miss Helen Clarke was honored at an informal tea-dance at the Blackstone Monday afternoon, given by Mrs. Frank N. Clarke. Holiday decorations were used and the guest numbered 50. Miss Clarke, who attends Connecticut college at New London, Conn., returns to school next Sunday.
