ALIENS MUST BE EDUCATED, SAYS G. N. PERSHING

Military Training Advocated As Means of Greater Production for Farmers and Industrial Men.

Lincoln, Neb., Dec. 30.—General Pershing suggested Tuesday in an address to the Lincoln Rotary club that Nebraska take the lead in bringing about a movement for military training, by which he said farmers and industrial men could be made greater producers. He ridiculed the idea of militarism in the United States, declaring such a thing "in the American republic is impossible."

Aliens, the speaker declared, should be required to learn English, which should be taught to every foreigner in the United States. There are between 10,000,000 and 11,000,000 aliens in this country whose education to make them good citizens should be undertaken, he said.

"We should explain to them the greatness of our American institutions," he continued, adding that by forcing the American educational system upon them these aliens could be converted to American citizenship within five years.

The general also paid tribute to the part played by the American farmer in the winning of the world war, and made a plea for road improvements.

"Hail to the Knight of the Nation" with original words and music, written by William Fell, a former student of the University of Nebraska, won the prize of $50 given by the club to the person writing the best Pershing song for the occasion.

Rheumatism A HOME CURE GIVEN BY ONE WHO HAD IT

In the spring of 1913 I was attacked by Muscular and Inflammatory Rheumatism. I suffered for only three days, but I have known for over three years. I tried every remedy, and doctor after doctor, but such relief as I received was only temporary. Finally, I found a remedy that cured me completely, and it has never returned. I have given it to a number who were terribly afflicted, and it has proven itself to be that long-looked-for means of curing your rheumatism, you may send the price of it, one dollar, but understand, I do not want your money unless you are perfectly satisfied to send it. Isn't that fair? Why suffer any longer when positive relief is thus offered you free? Don't delay. Write today.

ATTORNEYS END STORMY MEETING WITH LOVE FEAST

Kirk Furlough Scandal Aired In Bitter Debate—Vote Favors Incorporation After Year.

After an all-day debate yesterday, the Nebraska State Bar association voted to ask the state legislature to pass an act for the incorporation of the bar in Nebraska.

The meeting, which was the stormiest in years, ended with a banquet at the Hotel Fontenelle last night, at which several learned speeches were made and the acrimony of the day's debate was forgotten.

The vote on the question of incorporation stood 52 for, and 34 against. The association, in fact, merely adopted the incorporation idea in principle, agreeing to debate and consider both sides of the proposition for another year before taking definite steps to ask the legislature for an act enabling the incorporation.

Morning Elected President.

Judge W. M. Morning of Lincoln was elected president of the association. J. G. Beeler of North Platte, E. E. Good of Wahoo and Edwin D. Crites of Chadron were elected vice-presidents. Anan Raymond of Omaha was elected secretary and Raymond Crossman of Omaha was re-elected treasurer. Fred A. Scott of Scottsbluff was elected a member of the executive council.

Nearly 200 lawyers of the state attended the banquet last night in the Hotel Fontenelle. E. G. McGilton was toastmaster.

Judge Day, who was appointed yesterday to the state supreme court bench, was a special guest at the speakers' table and was called upon. The guests gave him a rising tribute and then Judge Day briefly gave some humorous reminiscence of his 19 years as a district judge.

Startling Proposals.

Charles F. McLaughlin spoke on "The Constitutional Convention," of which he is a member. "A vast number of proposals have been submitted to the convention," he said, "and some of them are startling."

"One proposition before the convention is that before final action is taken on any bill by the legislature it shall be submitted to the supreme court which body shall decide whether or not it is constitutional."

"Another proposal is that the legislature shall, after meeting for 20 days in January, adjourn for 30 days during which time members shall consult with their constituents on the various bills that have been introduced and then shall reassemble to vote on the bills."

Laughter spread over the banquet when Mr. McLaughlin mentioned a proposal to take the pardoning power or "furloughing power" from the governor.

"Another proposal," he said, "is to have state affairs directed by a governor, elected at large, and a board of six directors, elected by districts. A proposal is under consideration to make the governor's term of office four years instead of two."

Chief Justice Morrissey of the state supreme court spoke on "The Work of the Supreme Court," explaining in detail the manner of procedure in that high tribunal.

Attorney General Davis delivered an address on "The Lawyer and the Present Social Unrest."

"The American Judiciary" was the subject of former Appellate Judge Clarence N. Goodwin of Chicago.

Kirk Scandal Discussed.

Sharp words were flung back and forth between lawyers at the meeting of the association yesterday morning when the question of incorporating the bar of the state was up for discussion.

The involving of two prominent Lincoln attorneys in the Kirk "furlough" scandal was mentioned in bitterness by several of the speakers in discussing the standards of ethics of the profession.

"Unjust imputations are constantly being cast on the legal profession by the misdeeds of a few members," declared Leonard Flansburg of Lincoln. "A certain case, which has stirred the state is pending. Will this association's committee on inquiry make a complete investigation and get at the facts? True, the supreme court has submitted a limited portion of this scandal to inquiry by a commission. But is this enough? If the men mentioned are not guilty, we ourselves should make the fact known to the public."

"Does Board Lack Courage?"

"With the bar association incorporated would the board of governors do more than our present committee on inquiry has done? Or would that board lack the courage, too?"

Judge Morning of Lincoln declared that the present bar association is more or less of a joke to the majority of lawyers of the state.

"They say we're just a bunch of silk-stocking fellows who get together once a year and 'resolute,' he declared.

The fact that every lawyer in the state would have to be a member of the Nebraska State Bar association if it were incorporated by act of the legislature is a splendid argument for this act."

Fiercy opposition to the proposed act to incorporate the association was voiced by C. L. Ryan of Lincoln, one of the younger lawyers.

Says He'll Fight It.

"This act would abolish individual liberty by compelling every lawyer to be a member of the association," he exclaimed. "There are many objections to the act. And I'll fight it here, I'll fight it in the legislature and I'll fight it in the supreme court of the United States. Because, as sure as little apples, if you get this act passed by the legislature it will be carried up to the supreme court of the United States. We will not submit to the many petty annoyances which this act imposes upon the lawyer. It is full of injustices."

The act, it passed, would make every lawyer in the state "willy-nilly" a member of the association, subject to its rules, compelled to pay its dues. A board of governors elected by the association would pass on who should be admitted to the bar, would investigate and

Judge Day of Omaha Is Appointed to High Bench

Will Fill Vacancy Caused by Sudden Death of Judge S. H. Sedgwick of Lincoln—Has Been District Judge in Douglas County Since 1902.

District Judge George A. Day of Omaha was appointed yesterday to the Nebraska supreme court bench by Governor McKelvie to fill the vacancy caused by the sudden death of Judge S. H. Sedgwick of Lincoln on Christmas day. The governor's appointment has been approved by the supreme court.

Judge Day was surprised at his appointment. Chief Justice Morrissey who was here attending the state bar meeting, asked him Monday whether he would accept. He said the judges of the supreme court had agreed to ask the governor to appoint him. Judge Day said he would accept.

"The hardest thing will be to separate from the judges with whom I have been associated here so long and from my many friends in Omaha," said Judge Day yesterday. "But I have always rather wished to sit on the supreme bench some day. My father, James G. Day, was 13 years on the supreme bench of Iowa and he was seven years a district judge."

Judge Day will send his resignation as a district judge to Governor McKelvie preparatory to taking his new office on the supreme bench. He doesn't know exactly when he will assume his new duties. The chief justice asked him to come at once but the judge who is on the board hearing the condemnation proceedings against the Omaha Gas company wants to finish up that work before he goes.

It will be necessary for Governor McKelvie then to appoint a judge to take Judge Day's place on the district court bench here.

George A. Day was born at Afton, Ia., nearly 60 years ago. When he was a baby his parents moved to

Scottish Veterans Seek to Bar Macbeth From School Course

New York, Dec. 30.—A resolution demanding the elimination of Shakespeare's "Macbeth" from school curriculums on the ground that it was a libel on the Scotch in its "misrepresentation in presenting King Macbeth as a traitor and murderer" was adopted here last night by the League of Scottish Veterans of the World War. The resolution was addressed to the Newark, N. J., board of education which recently barred "The Merchant of Venice" from the schools because of the alleged slander to the Jewish race.

The resolution was signed by Ivan McTavish, captain of the Gordon Highlanders; Malcolm MacPherson, captain of the Black Watch, and Donald Dailey, lieutenant of the Royal Scotch fusiliers. "If they have banned Shylock, I see no reason why they should not ban Macbeth," said Captain McTavish. "If the Jewish gabbardine is to be cleaned, they should also remove the stain from the Scottish kilt."

Those whose professional conduct came into question and would have many other powers designated as "autocratic" by those opposed to it.

Younger Lawyers Opposed.

The younger lawyers of the state are reported unalterably opposed to the passage of the act. Its friends declare that much opposition comes from lawyers whose education in law is meagre and who are "hanging to the ragged edge" of the profession. Many lawyers of good standing are also fighting the incorporation.

Among those who spoke against it yesterday was former District Judge Holmes of Lincoln. He also referred to the "furlough" scandal though without mentioning names.

"Our profession has been scandalized and justice outraged," he declared, "and yet not one of you has the courage to stand up here and defend that profession."

Shouldn't Advertise Fault.

"Let us not advertise our shortcomings. Let us either let the bars down altogether or else stand up and declare for the highest standards of ethics and stick by that standard."

"Our profession has fallen so low that, during the late war, we were designated as nonessential and the government stepped in and took our young manhood and marched it off to war because it was considered nonessential to the existence of the community."

DEAN'S SON WITH LONG WAR RECORD SENT TO PRISON

Given From Three and a Half To Seven Years for Violating Parole.

New York, Dec. 30.—Charged with violating his parole by forging checks, committing thefts and getting drunk, Donald Hammond, 24 years old, son of William Hammond, dean of Cornell university, was sentenced to a term of three and a half to seven years in state prison. Hammond was placed on probation under a suspended sentence last August, after he had pleaded guilty to giving a check for $2,000 in the name of Norman Bradford, jr., a wealthy Newport, R. I., club man.

Hammond's escapades since being placed on probation took him to Atlantic City, Maine and New Hampshire. Finally, his friends virtually deported him to Canada in an effort to make him "go straight." The life in Manitoba proved too tame for him, however, and he went to Boston, where he stole $15,000 worth of bonds, pleaded guilty in the name of an alleged murderer he met in the Tombs prison, and succeeded in obtaining a suspended sentence under that name.

Hammond has a long war record. He enlisted in the Canadian army in 1914 and was wounded at Ypres. He came back to this country without being discharged and later returned to England, where he joined the royal air force and was again wounded.

His fraud victims are said to include a number of society people in New York, Newport and Atlantic City.

COURT ORDERS MAN RELIEVED FROM JURY DUTY

Judge Acts After Answers to Questions Touching On Qualifications Are Made by A. H. Peterson.

District Judge Redick yesterday morning ordered A. Peterson relieved from duty on the jury which is hearing the case of the state against Perry Jenkins, charged with conspiracy to murder Will Brown, negro, lynched the night of September 28.

He also ordered Mr. Peterson's name stricken from the list of jurors of the present panel, prohibiting him from partaking in the trial of any other case.

This was done because of Peterson's answer to questions put to him by Deputy County Attorney Rosenblum, touching on his qualifications to sit as a juror.

"If the evidence shows that the defendant was guilty beyond a reasonable doubt, will you return a verdict of guilty?" asked the deputy county attorney.

"I don't know as I would," said Mr. Peterson.

"Why not?" was asked after this astonishing reply.

"Well, there are lots of men as guilty as he might be and they're not here in court for trial," said Peterson.

Judge Redick then questioned him and Peterson stuck to his stand. The judge then ordered him dismissed from the jury panel.

"We need men on these juries in these times whose conception of duty is more in accord with the law than such answers indicate," said the court.
