

THREE ALLEGED BANK BANDITS UNDER ARREST

Detectives Will Go to St. Paul Today to Bring Back the Two Finn Brothers.

Two detectives will go to St. Paul, Minn., tonight to bring back to Omaha George Finn and Thomas McKay, and his brother, Mike Finn, who were arrested in that city Saturday on warrants charging them with the robbery of the Farmers' and Merchants' bank at Benson, a suburb of Omaha, on December 31, last, when four bandits looted the vault of $105,000.

Chief of Detectives Dunn signed the warrants against the Finn brothers following alleged identification of the two through pictures of them in the rogue's gallery at Central police station.

Re-arrest Harry Porche. Harry Porche, 2117 Sherman avenue, who is under $10,000 bond in connection with the robbery of the bank also, was re-arrested at 11 yesterday and booked at Central police station as a fugitive from justice. Detectives Dolan and Hagerman made the arrest. Porche, whose real name police say is Sandevich, is wanted in Lincoln on a "arrest" charge, according to C. H. Moore, a deputy sheriff of Lancaster county, who came to Omaha yesterday to take Porche in custody for the alleged thefts of four automobiles four years ago.

Police officials in Lincoln read in the newspapers of Porche's arrest here and sent Deputy Sheriff Moore to Omaha to bring him to Lincoln for automobile stealing, the deputy sheriff stated.

Porche was arrested Friday and charged with robbery of the bank at Benson. He was released Saturday under bonds of $10,000 pending his hearing in Central police court on Tuesday.

Porche Offers Alibi. Porche offers an alibi that at the time of the bank robbery he was seen at Sixteenth and Locust street and later at Sixteenth and Yates streets.

Chief of Detectives Dunn is still of the belief that Porche, and the two Finn brothers were implicated in the robbery of the bank at Benson. Frank Adams alias John Appleby, a member of the McKay-Kirk gang that held up the Malashock jewelry store in broad daylight on January 30, 1918 and later killed Detective Frank Rooney in a gun battle with police, is being sought by police throughout the country as the alleged fourth member of the bandit gang that committed the Benson bank robbery. Chief of Detectives Dunn stated yesterday.

McKay Wounded in Battle. George Finn, alias McKay, was severely wounded in the gun battle between city detectives and the McKay-Kirk gang shortly after the robbery of the jewelry store. McKay was acquitted of the charge of murdering Rooney, while other members of the gang were convicted. McKay's acquittal relied mostly upon the testimony of the trier, Beryl C. Kirk, leader of the gang. Kirk was "furloughed" from the state prison at Lincoln two days after the robbery of Hayden Brothers' store on the night of November 29.

Adams, alias Appleby, is said to be the sixth member of the McKay-Kirk gang who escaped from the police during the gun battle two years ago.

Detectives allege that in the apprehension of the Finn brothers, Appleby and Porche, the bandit gang that held up the bank of Benson will be broken up, despite refutations in the identity of Porche.
