Tell of Growth of National and Local Organizations During Year.

South Side local union No. 20, of he National Federation of Federal Employes held a meeting Tuesday coming year. F. P. Mahoney, president; Thomas B. Rea, vice president and Harry Northcutt, secre-

Horn, secretary, were the newly installed officers. Mr. Mahoney reported a large growth, both in the national and local organizations during the year, the national federation having gained 10,000 new members during December, and that the organization row has 154 locals. It is estimated that three-fourths of the 700,000 workers employed by the govern-ment are affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. The outgoing president said he expected the speedy enactment of the Nolan minimum wage bill by congress providing $1,080 a year as the smallest wage that can be paid to a government employe working full time. He also said it was predicted that there would be prompt action on the report of the reclassification commission, which was appointed at the request of the National Federation of Federal Employes, which report embodies the principles for which the organization has con-
