

GOVERNMENT IS INCONSISTENT, REP. GOOD SAYS

Iowa Congressman in Chicago Speech Tells of Business Failure of United States.

Chicago, Jan. 9.—Congressman James W. Good of Iowa, chairman of the house committee on appropriations, speaking before the Illinois Manufacturers' association said that apparently the United States government was the only great business concern not run along business lines.

"With one breath," said the speaker, "the secretary of labor asks for $14,500,000 to establish employment agencies throughout the country to help our unemployed find jobs, while in another he voices his approval of the plan of the commissioner of immigration to bring into the United States 100,000 laborers from Porto Rico and Mexico to supply a labor shortage."

"On the same day that the attorney general is seen starting a great crusade against buying anything except the actual necessities for immediate needs, sees him advising and urging the State Highway commission to buy all kinds of material and machinery for road construction and store it for future use."

"We behold the Treasury department urging congress to accept a generous donation by patriotic citizens of a southern city of 5,000 acres of land on which to build a hospital, and when a generous appropriation is made by congress to build this hospital we see this same department letting a contract to some of these same patriotic citizens who donated the land. That is not all, agencies throughout the country to help our unemployed find jobs, while in another he voices his approval of the plan of the commissioner of immigration to bring into the United States 100,000 laborers from Porto Rico and Mexico to supply a labor shortage."

"We hear all the executive departments in one grand finale denouncing the hoarder of the necessities of life and threatening to throw him in jail, while at the same time we behold the secretary of war, the greatest hoarder in all the world, refusing to dispose of his hoarded stock until commanded by congress."

Chicago Official of Salvation Army Here Arranging Budgets

Adjutant Sydney L. Cooke, official representative of the Salvation Army of Chicago, is visiting Omaha in connection with the various local organizations. Adjutant Cooke is now finalizing the results of the recent home service campaign for the states of Nebraska and Iowa, arranging for the local budgets for the various corps of the Salvation Army, the rescue and maternity home, the religious activities, and its extensive relief work, and preparing for the work of the young women's boarding home and central building in Omaha. Offices are maintained at 316 Bee building.

Adjutant Cooke is well versed in the many and varied activities of the Salvation Army, spending considerable time in England and Canada, and for the past 11 years in the eastern and western states. The last two and half years Adjutant Cooke has been attached to the western executive offices of the Salvation Army, with territorial headquarters in Chicago, being connected with the inauguration of the first mail carriers' campaign held in this country, various other campaigns for funds for the extensive war work of the Salvation Army in this country, and on the western front in France, and also during the recent reconstruction and home service campaigns in the western states.

Adjutant Cooke will conduct a series of public meetings at the Salvation Army Citadel, 1711 Davenport street, Saturday and Sunday, supported by Adjutant H. B. Northrup of the local corps and other officers of the city, and he will soon make a trip of inspection of the various corps and activities throughout the state.

It is doubtful if the sprinters of this year's American Olympic team can duplicate the grand work of Ralph Craig, Don Lippincott and Alvah Meyer, the wonderful trio of the 1912 Olympic games.
