

South Side PLAN RETURN OF IMMENSE HERDS TO NEBRASKA

Cattle and Sheep Sent to the Ranges in Southern States May Be Brought Back.

If proper arrangements can be made with the railroads about 150,000 head of cattle and several hundred thousand head of sheep will be returned to the ranges of Wyoming from pastures in Texas, New Mexico and Arizona, where they were sent because of forage shortage and drouth in the state the last season.

of the time limit on special freight rates on the stock moved out. The time limit for the special return rates will expire May 15 and the stockmen want an extension to July 15. It will be a great saving to the stockmen if the time is extended and will mean a great deal to the Omaha market in bringing back such a large number of cattle and sheep. The regular carload freight rate is $136, as compared with the special rate of $39 a carload.

LAST RITES FOR MRS. CASPER YOST, OMAHA PIONEER

Funeral Services Held at Offutt Home—Burial Forest Lawn.

Funeral services for Mrs. Casper E. Yost were held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles H. Offutt, 140 North Thirty-ninth street, a daughter, with whom the Yosts made their home. Rev. Edwin H. Jenks, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, of which Mrs. Yost was a member, referred to the life of this Omaha woman, who, with her venerable husband, was identified with the growth of Omaha from village days to its present greatness as a metropolis.

At the time of her death in Long Beach, Cal., last Saturday, Mrs. Yost was one of a small group of Omaha women who had lived here more than 50 years. She came to Omaha during 1866, shortly after her marriage in Ipsilanti, Mich., 54 years ago last Monday. She was born in Detroit, her family name having been Anna Jenness.

The burial was in Forest Lawn cemetery. Active pallbearers were Frank S. Morsman, Wallace Lyman, W. B. T. Bell, A. A. Lowman, A. S. Rogers, Guy H. Pratt, W. A. Pixley and L. M. Holliday. Honorary pallbearers were M. T. Barlow, J. C. Wharton, George W. Holdrege, C. W. Lyman, Isaac Congdon, Edward Peck, J. H. Millard and W. H. McCord.

Mrs. Yost was 74 years old. She and Mr. Yost, who is chairman of the board of directors of the northwestern group of Bell telephone companies, went to Long Beach December 10. Last Saturday Mrs. Yost died suddenly, heart disease being the cause of death.

Mr. Bell of the Omaha telephone offices met Mr. Yost at Ogden and accompanied him back to Omaha with the body, arriving here at 8:25 Tuesday night. An escort comprised of Edgar M. Morsman, Jr., L. B. Williams, R. A. Gantt, F. L. Devereaux, J. R. McDonald, A. S. Kelly and A. A. Lowman met Mr. Yost at the station and accompanied the body to the Offutt residence.
