ONLY ONE HOUSE OF LEGISLATURE, PLAN OF NORTON
 Proposal Introduced Merely To Start Discussion—Abolishment of Death Penalty Proposed.

Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 16.—(Special).—Although he knew in advance that it would have no chance of adoption, Delegate Norton of Polk county thrust into the hopper of the constitutional convention Friday morning, a proposal providing that the legislature shall in the future consist of only one house. He did this to get the subject before the people of the state and start them to thinking about it.

If the convention rejects this plan, steps may be taken to submit it under the initiative and referendum. While the proposition involves a radical departure that has not yet been taken by any state in the union, Mr. Norton believes that it embodies a practical and sensible reform which in time will receive the people's approval.

An amendment was proposed this evening in the Nebraska constitutional convention to abolish capital punishment. Its introduction followed efforts that are being made to save Cole and Garmmer, men under death sentence, from electrocution.

Appeal Claim for $3,000 Fee in Genuchi Will Case
 Lincoln, Jan. 16.—(Special).—Attorneys Berge and McCarty, representing the Charles Genuchi estate, have filed briefs in the appeal of Arthur F. Mullen of Omaha and Max Beghtol, of Lincoln, to the Nebraska supreme court from a denial of their claim for $3,000 in the district court.

When Genuchi, a wealthy Italian worth $85,000, died in 1914 he left a purported will giving his property to the state to be used for orphanage purposes.

The state board of control engaged Attorney Mullen and Beghtol, who did not succeed in getting the will probated.

In fighting the claim for $3,000 fees, the Genuchi attorneys said that it was the duty of the attorney general, as legal advisor of the state, to wage the will contest.

Drastic Industrial Law to Stop Strikes Passed in Kansas
 Topeka, Kan., Jan. 16.—Bills establishing a court of industrial relations in Kansas to have jurisdiction over certain industries invested with a public interest and designed to prevent strikes were passed by both houses of the Kansas legislature Friday. The house substitute contains three important amendments which materially change the measure. The first provision makes the sale or barter of products an essential industry invested with a public interest and puts it under jurisdiction of the court of industrial relations.

The second amendment provides that no contract regarding labor or wages shall be legal until approved by the court.

The third, which is the most drastic, provides that no contract shall be recognized by the industrial court as legal which shuts out of employment in any industry affected, non-union labor.
