POSTOFFICE AND STORE IN VILLAGE NEAR HERE LOOTED

Two Robbers Escape Toward Omaha In High-Powered Automobiles.

Robbers looted the general merchandise store and postoffice in Bennington, 15 miles northwest of Omaha, yesterday morning, and made their getaway in two high-powered automobiles after taking groceries, shoes and clothing valued at $1,500.

Detectives are searching the city for suspects, as the thieves were seen speeding toward Omaha at 2 yesterday morning with bright side-lights of their cars sweeping the roadways.

Doctor Passes Thieves.

P. H. Kirschner, proprietor of the store and in charge of the postal station in the same place, notified Omaha police shortly after the robbery. Dr. C. W. Hykey of Bennington gave out information that he passed the burglars' cars, loaded with loot, early yesterday several miles out of Bennington, on the road toward Omaha. The doctor was returning from a sick call.

Bennington is a town of about 100 inhabitants. After breaking open a side door of the store by means of a brace and bit, the burglars drove their cars beside the building and then began operations of looting the place. Most of the groceries taken were in case lots. The thieves also took nearly 100 pairs of shoes, leaving the boxes scattered about the floor. Much of the loot was packed in sugar sacks taken from the basement.

Noise Wakens Town.

After looting the store of groceries and clothing, the thieves broke into a cage compartment in the rear of the store used as a postal station. A quantity of stamps and pennies were taken out of a small safe which had been left unlocked.

The town was awakened by the noise made by the burglars in starting their motor cars.

As far as could be learned, only two men committed the burglary. Dr. Hykey said he observed each car he passed was occupied by no one but the drivers.

There is no town marshal in Bennington.

Will Mickel is Manager of New Mickel Music House

A new company has been organized to be known as the "Mickel Music House," with an authorized capital stock of $500,000, and has purchased the retail interests of Mickel Brothers Co., at their present location in the Mickel building at Fifteenth and Harney streets.

Many new features will be added to their present business, it being the purpose of the Mickel House to carry a complete line of pianos, Victor Victrolas, as well as all small musical instruments.

The entire second floor of the Mickel building is to be remodeled into an elaborate sales room, and at the same time an electric elevator will be installed to make this sales room as easy of access as though it were on the ground floor. One of the most distinct innovations of the new Mickel Music House will be a "Concert Ticket Booth." Henceforth the big concerts to be given in Omaha will be "ticketed" from here.

Left Creche Because She Had to Build Kitchen Fire

Because she had to build a fire in a kitchen range to prepare a meal for her playmates, was the reason assigned to the two days' disappearance of Catherine Bristol, 11 years old, from the Creche, a children's home, 1235 Park Wilde avenue.

The little girl returned to the home early yesterday. She left the Creche Wednesday afternoon when she said she could find no wood to start the fire. The girl is among several in a class who are learning cooking and housekeeping at the home.

She said she stayed at a friend's home near Fifth and Pierce streets, and returned to the Creche when she became lonesome for her playmates.

Standard Oil Wins Point In Suit for 120 Million

The effort of the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey to escape being a defendant in the $120,000,000 suit of Grace Osborne and Louise Osborne Person against 47 large corporations and rich individuals, was sustained by District Judge Sears yesterday, and John O. Yeiser, attorney for the plaintiffs, says he will appeal immediately to the supreme court and file an affidavit of 400 pages.

W. D. McHugh argued for the oil company and held that legal service was not secured on the New Jersey corporation by serving papers on officials of the Standard Oil Co. of Nebraska. He said the former company does no business through the latter company, but is entirely separate and distinct.
