Adams-Putnam Marriage Is a Surprise to Friends.

Mrs. Joseph Adams.

The announcement of the marriage of Miss Gladys Putnam, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Putnam, to Joseph Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Adams, comes as a surprise to friends of the couple. The ceremony took place Tuesday evening at the home of the bride's parents. The date of their wedding had been set for February 3, but, owing to the fact that Mr. Adams was unexpectedly called south, a change in plans was necessary. Father Leo Patrick of the Fairacres parish officiated. Only the members of the immediate families and a few intimate friends were present.

Myrtle Van Duser and Mary Louise Dodge, the flower girls, wore frocks of pink and lavender organ-die and carried baskets of roses and sweet peas.

Miss Alice Huntington, the bridesmaid, wore lavender organ-die and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bride was attractively gowned in black satin combined with black net. The bodice was plain and the skirt made short and tight. A corsage of violets and lilies of the valley, combined with black and gold tulle, completed her costume.

Gerald Stryker attended the groom as best man. Mr. and Mrs. Adams left immediately after the ceremony for the south. They will return to Omaha March 1 and will be at home at the Coronado apartments.

Community Service. Wednesday, January 21—The Ki-To-San and Wamm clubs will have dinner at the Community house at 6:30.

Volley ball game, the Wamm club, 7:30 p. m. under direction of C. B. Root.

Basket ball game at the Army and Navy club from 8 to 9 p. m., the Y. M. H. A. team.

CLUBDOM

CLUB life in Iowa is receiving a great stimulus, according to various reports from that state. The probable reason is that the next biennial meeting of the General Federation of Women's Clubs will be held in Des Moines. Clubs all over the state are feasting. The latest one to join this body of 2,000,000 women is an organization of girls. A story by D. L. Keith from Storm Lake, Ia., tells of their achievements:

"There is no organization of which Storm Lake is more proud than her J. U. G. girls. They have now received a new honor, in that they have been admitted into the lower Federation of Women's Clubs. They are the youngest club in the state federation, most of them being 11 and 12 years old. Mrs. Arthur Edson is their sponsor.

"Two years ago eight girls, most of them 11 years old, came to Mrs. Edson stating that they had organized a club for war work, and asking her to become their guardian. They wanted to help in the Red Cross work. They were immediately organized, and given something to do. The membership had to be limited to 15.

"Their first work was to help in the emergency hospital in Storm Lake. Ever since that time they have been doing helpful work. Among their achievements are the following:

"Made infant clothes for the Red Cross.

"Sent a box of jelly to Camp Dodge.

"Pieced and sold two silk quilts.

"Knitted five Afghans.

"Sent Christmas boxes to Camp Dodge for two years.

"Sent candy on Valentine day of last year.

"Collected phonograph records for the camp hospital.

"Made and sold kitchen holders.

"Made $17.50 by selling conservation cake recipe.

"Took care of a poor boy in a local hospital.

"Ran errands for the Storm Lake emergency hospital.

"Made 600 rag handkerchiefs during the flu epidemic.

"Filled all the boxes for Storm Lake's poor this year with fruit and candy.

"Held a bazar, the proceeds going to help their war work.

"They are now busy making things for their next bazar. They have earned every cent of the money that they have used in their good work. They have even sold popcorn to get money to help other people.

"They have deposited $18.38 in the bank during the time that they have been organized, every cent of which they earned. They recently saw two little girls at school who were rather poorly dressed, and at once provided some new clothing for them.

Mrs. H. W. Spaulding, the state federation president, in her letter to Mrs. Edson, says, "Tell them that I will be glad to welcome them as the youngest group in the state federation. I am sure that they are doing as helpful, constructive work as many of our older clubs."

U. G. G. girls are asked to join the federation because they have done such wonderful work. They started as a war work organization, but discovered that there is plenty of good to be done in peace times.

"The members of the club are Eileen Carey, Louise Connor, Mable Kennard, Vivian Lewis, Helen Lewis, Ella Manchester, Esther Millard, Irma Mittelstadt, Helen Mittelstadt, Dorothy O'Leary, Louise Parkhill, Charlotte Schultz, Bernadette Tymeson, Margaret Van Wagoner and Helen Ward."

Music Department. The music department of the Omaha Woman's club will have a Swedish coffee party, following the regular rehearsal at the Y. W. C. A., Wednesday afternoon, at 2 o'clock.

A report of the Young Judean Convention, held here January 3 and 4, was given by Sarah Brookstein. The program was given by Bessie Handler, Mina Markus, Jennie Leibovitz, Bessie Farber and Bertha Hoffman.

Mu Sigma. Mu Sigma will meet Wednesday, January 21 at the home of Mrs. C. C. Belden, 4909 California street, Mrs. C. W. Axtell, leader.

Literature Department. The literature department of the Omaha Woman's club will meet at 10 a. m. Wednesday, January 21, at the Y. W. C. A., Mrs. W. S. Knight and Mrs. Edward Johnson, leaders. The book for discussion will be "Joan and Peter" by H. G. Wells.

Womans Club, R. M. S. The Omaha Woman's club, railway mail service, will meet Wednesday at the City Mission for an all day meeting. Box luncheon will be served at noon. Mrs. M. H. Backwell, leader for the day.

Dundee Woman's Club. Dundee Woman's club will meet Wednesday afternoon, January 21, with Mrs. Charles Leslie, 4931 Webster street. Mrs. George C. Edgerly will conduct a lesson on "The Inductive Criticism of Literature." Mrs. Roger Holman will be leader of current topics.

Improvement Club. The West Benson Improvement club will entertain at a card and dancing party at Sorensen's hall, Tuesday evening, January 21. All members, neighbors and friends are invited.

Lovelorn

BY BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Bad English.

Dear Miss Fairfax: This is the first time I have written you for advice, so hope my letter will not find the wastebasket until you have answered my questions.

There is a family who have moved into our neighborhood, who have a beautiful appearing daughter and a quiet, inoffensive son; but their grammar is simply a fright (a heap worse than mine), for they say: youn and ourn hison and heun, me and he, or I and him, and C, and C, and it simply gets on my nerves, but in spite of all, I like to be with them, but my parents are afraid if I am in their company too much I may drift into that habit of being careless in my talk.

Now these people are very particular about being dressed in the latest, but don't you think it would be better if they thought less of dress and more about their grammar? Do you think if they gave a few minutes each day to study they might improve?

Please answer through Lovelorn column, for I am in hopes they may read it and profit thereby, and oblige.

RITA. Clothes do not cover bad souls and bad English. I should think these young folks would take a course in English—could you suggest it? You will be embarrassed many times if you associate with them. If they are worthy of your friendship, do not be a snob, but fight their battles. If, however, they are not, why bother?

Thanks. Dear Lady: Your advice is indeed wonderful and as I read your columns daily, I have a pretty good chance of knowing.

The answers which you give are always clear and as though you had spent much longer thought over them, but I sometimes wonder if you do not become positively sick over such questions as these? I am 14 years of age, could I wear green?

Is it all right to let the boys kiss me? Or will they get mad? How should I do my hair? I have blue eyes.

Forever and ever they are the same, but in a while comes one that is like a cool breath from the north on a hot, sultry day, and makes us think more and more that we could do without the Lovelorn column.

For I can truly say that you make many people happy. I thank you. Sincerely yours, MISS W.

I thank you for the compliment. It is possible to retain my reason, when these silly questions are asked, only because I have been provided with a sense of humor. And it is contrast which gives us balance.

Don't Call Her. Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: A girl friend and I have went out together quite lately. The last time we were out she acted very nice and when I was going home she asked me to call her up the next night. I have called her up every night for a week when I get one of the family on the phone I asked for her, they say just a minute, then they say who is this? When I tell them who she is she is not there.

It seems queer that she is not there whenever I call. Do you think she would change if I would forget her for a while and go with other girls? If you do.

PLEASE TELL ME. I should try staying away from her, at least, if I were you. It would probably work one of two ways: She would come back to you or you would become interested in someone else. One is as good as the other.

Etiquette. Dear Miss Fairfax: I am a constant reader of "Advice to Lovelorn" which is printed in The Omaha Bee, and I have come to you with a question which I wish you to answer by return mail, if you please. MISS W.

When escorting two young ladies along the street, should a young man walk between them or to one side? Thanking you in advance for the information. W. E.

Walk between them.

Prunella and Beaurious—I am truly sorry that I haven't a list of men waiting for such golden opportunities as you girls offer. Perhaps you try too hard to be popular. Usually the indifferent but pleasant girl wins the friends.

Hints to the Hostess

Paper flowers are an economical centerpiece to use for entertaining as they can be used over and over again and are much cheaper in the winter than a bouquet from the florist's. Besides they are so cleverly made that they will deceive many for real flowers. Among the blossoms one can purchase ready made, or make one's self, are roses, rose buds, chrysanthemums, carnations, holly, violets and poppies.

Tiny keepsies are a nice surprise to put in a child's birthday cake. Tiny ones measuring about three or four inches high are also attractive favors to place at each cover at a grown-up luncheon or dinner.

Children's stationery—the kind decorated in colors, makes attractive score cards for any kind of a guessing contest because there are two sheets of white paper on which to keep scores and they are already prettily decorated.

Some of the most attractive place cards are those that have little upstanding decorations. These are made with the usual space for the name and then a figure of a girl or a flower painted, cut out and then bent up straight from the back edge. Butterflies, too, are most jaunty this way.

Among the little articles that make pleasing favors at cotillions, a bride's luncheon to her bridal party, a Christmas party or just as dinner favors are. Strings of beads, vanity cases, tiny Dresden ribbon bags containing mirrors, handy small pencils, tiny pin cases or pin cushions, hat pins, enamelled napkin rings, calendars or small gaily decorated tin candy boxes filled with tiny candies.

28 IDLE HENS NOW LAY 27 EGGS A DAY

And this was in Cold Winter Weather. Mrs. Davidson's Plan is Simple.

"I fed a 50-cent box of Don Sung to my flock of 28 hens that were not laying. But they are laying now. I receive as high as 27 eggs a day and never less than 22."—Mrs. Jennie Davidson, Yates Center, Kan.

Mrs. Davidson wrote this letter in February. Figure her profit on two dozen eggs a day from hens that "wouldn't lay" during January and February. We'll make you the same offer we made her. Here it is:

Give your hens Don Sung and watch results for one month. If you don't find it pays for itself and pays you a good profit besides, simply tell us and your money will be promptly refunded.

Don Sung (Chinese for egg-laying) works directly on the egg-laying organs, and is also a splendid tonic. It is easily given in the feed, improves the hen's health, makes her stronger and more active in any weather, and starts her laying. Try Don Sung for 30 days and if it doesn't get you the eggs, no matter how cold or wet the weather, your money will be refunded by return mail. Get Don Sung from your druggist or poultry remedy dealer or send 50 cents for a package by mail prepaid. Burrell-Tugger Co., 875 Columbia Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind.

Wednesday

Chocolate Waffles.

In a bowl lay six ounces of sifted flour, four ounces of powdered sugar, a little vanilla extract and four ounces of powdered chocolate, dilute with four egg-yolks, half a pint of double cream, partly whipped, and four egg-whites also partly whipped. Arrange the paste with a spoon on a waxed baking sheet into very thin round wafers, two and half inches in diameter and bake in a hot oven. As soon as done roll them on a small wooden stick half an inch in diameter.
