Marhoff-Henrickson.

The marriage of Miss Lillie Henrickson, daughter of John H. Henrickson, and F. H. Marhoff of New Orleans, son of Mrs. H. H. Marhoff of Omaha, took place Wednesday evening at the Immanuel Lutheran church. Rev. O. E. Henry officiated.

Mrs. J. R. Henrickson, matron of honor, was gowned in silver cloth and carried an arm bouquet of red roses. Miss Olga Johnson of Moline, Ill., one of the bridesmaids, wore a gown of pink taffeta. Her shower bouquet was of lavender sweet peas. Mrs. H. E. Snyder, the other bridal attendant, wore lavender taffeta combined with silver lace. With this gown she carried pink sweet peas.

Marjorie Murray, the flower girl, wore a frock of white organdie. Fred Snyder, the ring bearer, wore a suit of dark blue velvet.

The bridal gown was of white charmeuse combined with silver and lace. The long veil which fell to the hem of the gown was of rose point lace. The bride carried a shower bouquet of white roses, lilies of the valley and orchids.

F. F. Pitts acted as best man. The ushers were J. R. Henrickson and H. E. Snyder.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Pitts for immediate relatives and intimate friends.

The bride's traveling suit was of henna peach bloom trimmed with squirrel fur. She wore with it a small toque of gray and her corsage was of orchids and roses.

After an eastern trip, Mr. and Mrs. Marhoff will be at home in New Orleans February 15.

Mrs. Johannes Returns.

Mrs. Charles E. Johannes returned Tuesday from Red Oak, Ia., after spending four days there as the guest of Mrs. B. B. Clark. Mrs. Johannes was guest of honor at many social functions in Red Oak, including a dinner given by Mrs. Clark and a card party and supper on another occasion. Mrs. Philo Clark entertained 15 guests at luncheon for Mrs. Johannes and Mrs. Edward Hays was also a luncheon hostess for the Omaha visitor.

Mrs. B. B. Clark, Mrs. Philo Clark and Mrs. Edward Hays were among the visitors in Omaha during the general federation board meetings early this month, when Red Oak club women were invited to attend the Omaha Woman's club open meeting, at which general federation officers spoke. Mrs. B. B. Clark is treasurer of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. Johannes' visit with Mrs. Clark, however, was entirely social in its nature.

In Honor of Mrs. Hanighen.

Mrs. John J. Hanighen, jr., who is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Damrich, at Mobile, Ala., has been honored at a number of affairs given in her honor. Mrs. Damrich entertained at a bridge tea for her daughter. Miss Roberta Ollinger, who was a bridesmaid at Mrs. Hanighen's wedding, gave a luncheon for this Omaha matron. Mrs. Hanighen was also honor guest at a bridge party given by the members of a club to which she formerly belonged. The society columns of the Moblie papers contained detailed descriptions of the various gowns worn by this visitor. Mrs. Hanighen will not return to Omaha until the latter part of February.

Card Party.

A card party will be given Friday afternoon at the South Side Odd Fellows' hall by the women of St. Rose parish.

Dance Postponed.

The dancing party which was to be given Friday evening at Lyceum hall, Twenty-second and Locust, by the Columbian circle, has been postponed until Monday evening.

For Esther Wilhelm.

Mrs. H. R. Bowen entertained informally at luncheon at the Blackstone, Thursday, in honor of Miss Esther Wilhelm, whose marriage to Samuel Cooper of Pittsburgh takes place January 31. Bride's roses and ferns formed the centerpiece of the luncheon table. Covers were placed for Mesdames C. M. Wilhelm, George Stirrat, Robert Garrett, Leonard Trestor, Isaac Carpenter, jr.; Misses Erna Reed, Olga Metz, Margaret Baum, Gertrude Stout, and Mary Cooper of Pittsburgh.

Dancing Party.

A Community Center dancing party will be given next Friday night at the auditorium of the Benson city hall. Mrs. Abbie Werhli is chairman of the dance committee.

Tri-City Birthday Club.

Mrs. W. A. Wilcox will be hostess to the Tri-City Birthday club at her home Friday. Each club entertains the club once a year, the date being the birthday of the hostess.

Birthday Party.

Helen Hurst entertained at her home, Thursday evening, the occasion being her eleventh birthday. Those present were Frances O'Marro, Viola Schiffbauer, Florence Emery, Margaret Emery, Florence McCann, Gottlieb Morgeson, Henry Matheson and Richard Schiffbauer.

Guest at Nurses' Dinner

Mrs. Joseph Cudahy

Mrs. Joseph Cudahy, president of the Visiting Nurse association of Chicago, will be guest of honor and speaker at the annual meeting of the Omaha Visiting Nurse association to be held in the south room of the Chamber of Commerce, Friday, January 23, at 12 o'clock. Members and friends are cordially incited to attend.

CLUBDOM

SCHOOL boards all over the country are recognizing the need of higher salaries for teachers to meet the increased costs. Salaries are being raised in spite of contracts made some months ago calling for a specific sum as payment for the school year. The board of education in Des Moines recently voted a 10 per cent increase in their pay roll for teachers in their city. The raise becomes effective Monday, January 26. Unlike many increases, this one begins with those receiving the lowest salaries and diminishes as it reaches those "higher up."

Therefore, teachers receiving the lowest wages will get an increase of 20 per cent, those getting more will receive a slightly smaller percentage of increase, and so on up to the higher salaried teachers, who will get about 5 per cent more, while 20 of the highest salaried will get no increase at all.

Dispatches of January 22, announce that the teachers' strike in Chicago has resulted in an average increase of $50 a month, effective after February 1.

Miss Stearns in Portland.

Miss Lutie Stearns of Milwaukee, club woman and social service worker, who spent several weeks in Omaha last spring, is now in Portland, Ore., in the interests of the national dairy council. "A Woman's Opinion of an Ideal Democracy" was the subject of a recent address given by her before the Civic league there. According to the Portland Oregonian, she said:

"Democracy should be brotherhood interpreted in terms of government."

"The problems of the age which must be solved before an ideal democracy is possible, she specified as social problems—capital and labor, poverty, the wage system, industrial disturbances, accidents and sickness. Poverty she classed as a social disease, which will vanish with the approach of democracy nearer to the ideal. The ideal democracy will also see to it, she said, that motherhood is properly recognized and that proper aid and education are given to the mothers before and after the birth of the child. It will also see to it that every child is fed scientifically and with sufficient food for proper development."

Scottish Rite Women.

The Scottish Rite Woman's club will give a card party Friday afternoon, January 23, at the Scottish Rite cathedral.

"Two a Week" Ratifying the Federal Suffrage Amendment.

Suffragists are elated over the rapidity with which ratifications of the federal suffrage amendment are falling into place. "Two a week," says Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, contentedly, speaking of this week's harvest, Oregon and Indiana, "is a pretty good average, although we are looking for a final blaze of glory in which all the unratified states will scurry to get on the honor roll of 36 ratifying states. It is not going to be pleasant for the women of any state to have history record that they were finally enfranchised by the men of states other than their own."

"Last week the honor roll added two states, Kentucky and Rhode Island. This week Oregon and Indiana. It is interesting to note how often the east and the west, the north and the south have been bracketed in ratification gains. California and Maine came in together, so did New York and Kansas, so did Minnesota and New Hampshire. We take this to be indicative of a new bond of union which will be cemented by the enfranchisement of women."

Indiana in writing its name on the honor list of 36 ratifying states, completed a varied and interesting chapter in the history of woman suffrage after a strenuous campaign by the Women's Franchise league of which Miss Helen Benbridge is now president.

Under the leadership of its retiring president, Mrs. Richard E. Edwards of Peru, a business partner in the Peru chair works, the Franchise league achieved three brilliant victories. It gained presidential suffrage in 1917, regained it in 1919, and after a long effort succeeded in gaining a special session for ratification on January 16, 1920.

Dancing Masters Offer High Standards

Dancing is a most popular amusement in Omaha among young and old. It is said that any amusement which attracts widely must be considered from time to time to determine whether or not it measures up to the standards of the majority of the people. It is perhaps easier for a few to misrepresent the majority in dancing than in almost anything else. With the idea of standardizing dancing, the American national association of masters of dancing, at their conferences in New York City, launched a campaign for dancing that can in no way offend the most refined tastes. The association maintains that since dancing in an interpretation of music, cheap, vulgar music of the extreme jazz type, "invites cheap, vulgar, meaningless dancing."

The following tempos have been adopted:

Waltz: 48 measures to minute; two step, 54 measures to minute; one-step, 66 measures to minute; fox trot, 40 measures to the minute.

The music should be bright and cheerful, properly accented and the phases well divided. The "Ten Plain Don'ts" issued by the association are practical and worthy of consideration. They are as follows:

1. Don't permit vulgar, cheap jazz music to be played. Such music almost forces dancers to use jerky half steps and invites immoral variations.

2. Don't permit young men to hold their partners tightly. Oftimes this is the fault of the gentleman's partner. Both dancers should assume a light, graceful position.

3. Don't permit partners to dance with cheeks close or touching. When dancers put their cheeks together it is simply a case of public love making.

4 Don't permit "neck holds." The gentleman's arms should encircle his partner's waist, his hand resting lightly at her spine, just above the waist line, and lady's left arm should not encircle the gentleman's shoulders or neck.

5. So-called "shimmy" dancing is a shaking or jerking of the upper body while taking short steps, or standing still and should not be tolerated. Short side steps first right, then left, when done continuously are not conducive to refined dancing and should not be permitted. Teachers should not teach any steps or movements that cannot be controlled.

6. Don't permit dancers to take either exceptionally long or short steps. The proper dancing step should be the same as a natural walking one, except in exhibition dancing, which belongs to the stage and not to the ballroom.

7. Don't dance from the waist up; dance from the waist down.

8. Don't permit dancers to copy the extremes that are now used on the modern stage.

10. For the bnefit of refined people, don't hesitate to request objectionable dancing couples to leave the room. Remember that the majority of people want to dance clean.

A battle there was Before me—
As there is
Before everyone—
And I could not win
In life's conflict
With my puny strength
And alone.
For no general
With all his power
Ever works
Without his men.
So I scanned my troops—
Both rank
And file—
And discovered my habits
Were soldiers.
Among them
Lurked cowards—
Weaklings and thieves—
Bandits—
Highwaymen
And mauraders.
All of these outlaws
Were hampering me,
But among them
I counted
Brave recruits—
Dauntless—
And unafraid
To tackle a raid—
On the enemy.
General Idea
Stood at attention—
Acknowledging Future
As the reigning king.
We summoned soldiers—
Good Habits—
And culled out the trash
And the mold.
Courage and honesty—
Determination—
Sincerity
Integrity
And Loyalty
Were the officers—
The affinities of success.
They symbolized nerve
And a will to win—
Put muscle
Into the moral spine.
Together we charged—
Together we fought—
Till over the top
Of Self-control
We smiled
As we saw
The end of the road—
The cherished road
Called Victory.

Afternoon Coffee

A woman never appears to better advantage than when presiding over the tea table, or coffee table, as the case may be. For this service a tea cart may be used, or everything may be brought in on a tray to a low table in the living room.

An appealing informal afternoon refreshment combination consists of fruit salad, nut sandwiches and coffee eggnog. The portions of salad should be small and arranged individually on salad plates, with a garnish of lettuce. A seasonable combination consists of squal parts of halved grapes, sliced apple, diced pineapple and bits of orange, put together with mayonnaise to moisten. Each salad may be decorated with halved grapes and a bit of candied cherry.

The coffee eggnog should be made in the kitchen. To do this brew some strong coffee, combine it with one-fourth the amount of boiling milk and allow three-fourths cupful to each person, pouring it on a well-beaten egg. Add a drop or two of vanilla, transfer to tall glasses and serve, topped with whipped cream. Then pass the sugar.

BY BEATRICE FAIRFAX

His Sister's Snubs.

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I have a sister, who was adopted by my aunt about 10 years ago on account of sickness on mother's side of the family. Mother thought she could not support us two and my grandmother because she was divorced and had to earn the money herself. My sister was adopted with the understanding that mother could see her at least four times a month; now my aunt will not let mother go near her. I do not know why it is, it may be that (she) my sister is getting a little sense now, for she is only 14 years old. She has never heard the truth of this thing and therefore does not know, but, Miss Fairfax, it is not right for a foster mother to tell my sister lies about her real mother, is it?

I went to see her before Christmas. Just as I got there she was ready to go down-town, so I went with her. She would not let me pay the car fare, and when we got in the car she would not sit with me. She deliberately sat with some one else. Do you think that is right for a sister to do to a 15-year-old brother? She is old enough to understand, isn't she?

Whenever I go to see her I know I am not welcome, but I try to make myself welcome. Now, Miss Fairfax, what do you think mother and I should do, forget her, as I have tried to do, or what?

Hoping to see my letter in print soon, yours very truly,

MOTHER AND I.

I cannot understand this attitude of your sister. Either she is laboring under a false impression, misstatements or falsehoods, or else she is just at that age where she doesn't know what she wants. It is difficult for me to explain her actions, since I have not heard her side of the story.

Rings, Etc.

Dear Miss Fairfax: I want to ask you for a little advice. I am engaged to a boy of 21, and I am 18. Now what I want to know is this: Should you take off your engagement ring and then put it back on after the band ring is placed on, or should it be left on. And what would be nice for a hope box? Hoping to see my letter in print, I thank you in advance. BLUE EYES.

Leave on the engagement ring. Your hope box is a matter of taste.

They Need Brain.

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: We are two old maids and very lonesome. We live on the edge of town. How is my writing? I am considered a good writer in my city.

Why are we so lonesome? We go quite a lot, but still are lonesome. The boys are crazy about us and wink at use when we go up town, but never ask us to go with them.

Are silk stockings appropriate for winter?

Would liver be all right to serve at a wedding breakfast.

My hair is beginning to turn gray; should I dye it?

People take us for 20 and 21, but we are 33 and 34. We are tall and use rouge and powder; have brownish gray hair.

Answer as soon as possible. Your two constant readers and friends,

THE SLEEPING BEAUTIES.

Your writing looks like the efforts of a child rather than an old maid. If the boys are crazy about you and still you are lonesome, I fear there is nothing I can offer in the way of entertainment, but do not get the mistaken idea that because boys wink at you they love you—rather it shows an attitude of disrespect. Silk stockings are all right with high shoes, but ridiculous for low quarters. Liver for a wedding breakfast is all right if you like it. If you admire gray hair wash it. If you prefer dark hair wash it—and dye it. I fear your lonesomeness is due more to lack of brain than attention.

X. Y. Z.—Postpone the trips with your fiance until after your marriage. Even though his sister accompanies you, there remains opportunity for criticism. You should never visit his home when others are not there.

A Never Failing Way to Banish Ugly Hairs

(Aids to Beauty)

No woman is immune to superfluous growths, and because these are likely to appear at any time, it is advisable to always have some delatone powder handy to use when the occasion arises. A paste is made with some of the powder and water and spread upon the hairy surface; in about 2 minutes this is carefully removed and the skin washed. You will then find that your skin is entirely free from hair or fuzz. Be sure, however, to get real delatone.
