> Boston Wooj. Boston Wool.
>
> Boston, Jan. 23.—The commercial bulletin tomorrow will say:
> Interest of the wool trade centered during the past week chiefly upon the British government auction. Prices for fine wools showed an advance over recent sales, the wool being especially choice.
>
> Medium wools were about steady and low grades were excedingly dragg, with havy withdrawals. The primary markets are generally strong on the fine wools. Manufacturers report little change in the situation.

New York Coffee. New York Coffee.

New York, Jan. 32.—An opining decline of 1 to 9 points was followed by rallies in the market for coffee futures here today, owing to covering, higher Brazilian cables and reports of a little buying here by houses with Brazilian connections. May sold up from 15.80 to 15.90c and closed at 15.89c, with the general list closing net 9 points higher to 2 points higher. Business was quiet during the entire day. Closing bids:

Chiese Grain and Provisions.

Chiese, Jan. 23.—Prospects that the stopp... of eastbound grain shipments would soon be ended had a builtsh effect today on the corn market. Prices closed strong, 1% to 2% on the higher, with May, $1.35% to $1.35% and July, $1.33 to $1.33%. Oats gained %c to 1% of the corn market. Prices closed strong, 1% to 2% on thigher, with May, $1.35% to $1.35% and July, $1.33 to $1.33%. Oats gained %c to 1% of the corn market provisions, the finish varied from 17c deciline to 5c advance.

Belief that the traffic tiese east would prove brief, dominated the corn market from the beginning. Strength which consequently developed was given emphasis by reports that the embargo had already by the products. Absence of any immediate likelihood of increased receipts here tended also to keep the market on the upgrade, especially as a heavy snow storm was in progress and there were forecasts of a cold wave. Threatened labor difficulties a prices were highest of all.

Confidence that oats would soon be moving again to the east made the oats market ascend with corn.

Sharp breaks in the value of hogs wakened provisions, but something of a rally ensued owing to upturns in grain.
