T the Boyd theater for the farc-A well week of its career Messrs. Shubert will present their great company of the long New York run in "Maytime." William Norris, Carolyn Thomson and Melvin Stokes are the featured artists. "Maytime" is so far removed from the tough and tumble, jazz-jangle of conventional musical comedy that the announcement of its re-advent in this city is calculated to bring a wave of genuine joy to all who love that which is best in both music and drama. Its sweet and often serious comedy of sentiment, with the dainty and tuneful melodies run-ning through it, its splendid com-pany of presenting artists and the exquisite series of scenes and costumes with which the Messrs. Shubert have dressed it, make of this an altogether ideal attraction for an creating at the theater.

The action of "Maytime" covers over 60 years of time in "little old New York." The piece is played in four acts or episodes, which start in 1840 in Weshiesters. in 1840 in Washington Square, and end in a fetching scene in a dress-making establishment of the present time. P. T. Barnum is one of the characters in the play and "Jump. Jim Crew," the famous dance which your grandparents indulged in during the days of crinoline, is only one of a score of unique and altogether charming dances. Then there is the lovely song "Will You Remember, Sweetheart," which has sung its way into the heart and memory the world over. Miss Carolyn Thomson will again be seen as the heroine, Ottillo Van Zandt, Miss Thomson sang this role for a year in New York and was also the original Otille of the Chicago cast, with John Charles Thom-es playing opposite her. William Norris, comedian of many memories. will be seen as Matthew Van Zandt, of which role he was the originator on Broadway, while Mélvin Stokes, the possessor of a fine tenor voice, will be the Richard Wayne, and singer of the lovely song, "Will You Remember." There are many more of the original New York cast, including Douglas Wood, Arthur Albro, Tebby Webb, and Edna and Genevie Temple, Amy Leicester, Edward F. Nannary and Nina Valieri, Ruth Watson, Iseth Munro and William Blaisdell are newer members. will be seen as Matthew Van Zandt,

Fanchon and Marco, the dancing artists and stars of "Let's Go!", the revue which held forth in San Francisco for 10 capacity weeks, will be seen at the Brandeis for the entire week, starting tonight, with matinees on Wednesday and Saturday. "Let's Go!" makes no claims

The a plot for it is a merry hodge. In the capacity of the capacity of the capacity with the capa ville turns; dancing is interspersed throughout and one novelty follows another with rapidity. Fanchon and Marco scored effectively in their tours of the Orpheum circuit, but they are seen at their best in "Let's Go!" But Fanchon and Marco have seen to it that the supporting cast is the best that could be secured. ong others in the company are Arthur West, blackface comedian; Madame Ida Gold, prima donna; Dave Lerner, Eileen Miller, Nelson and Chain and Mildred Mayo, not foregetting the chorus, composed of the "30 most beautiful girls in the world."
