

THE RED VIPERS WE NURSED IN OUR BOSOMS

(Photograph Copyrighted by Underwood & Underwood.)

The raided Red headquarters at 133 East 15th street, New York city, where a ton of literature, chemicals and internal machines was seized

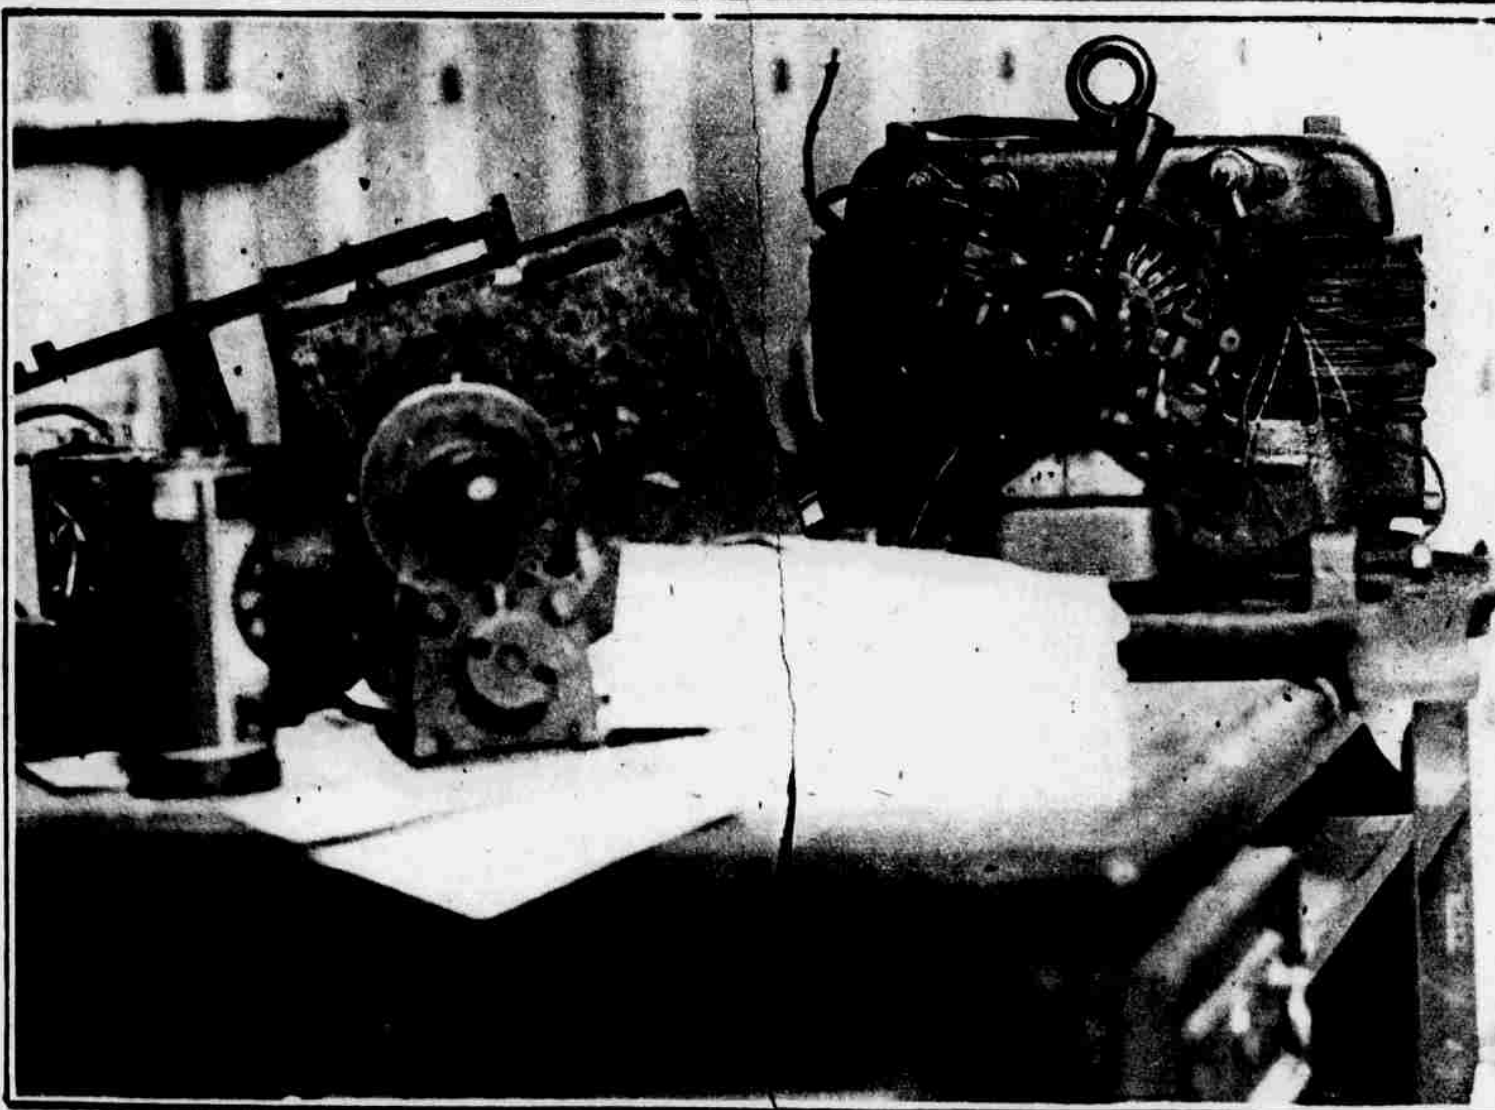

A rare animal picture—a fell fox brought to bay by hounds
(Photograph Copyrighted by Western Newspaper Union)

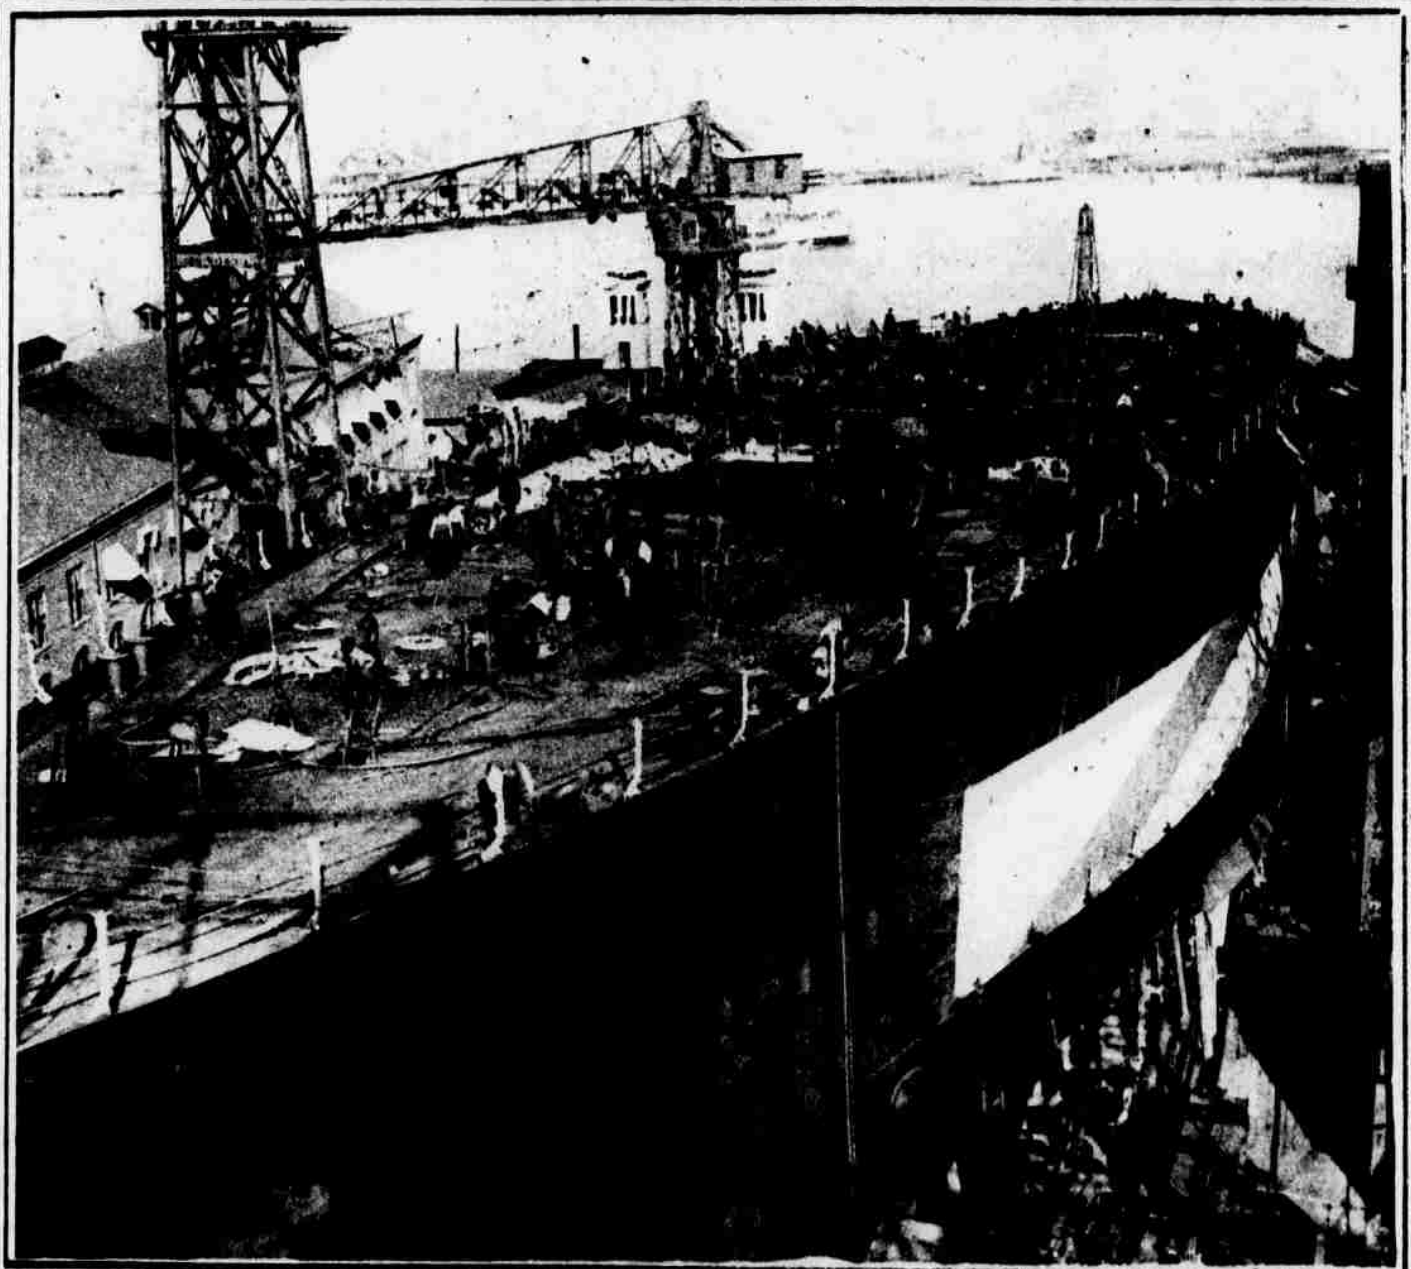

Vials and bottles of chemicals seized

A view at Enham Village Centre—showing how England is training her soldiers into useful citizens
(Photograph Copyrighted by Underwood & Underwood)

Dynamos, batteries, motors, etc., which were used in the Reds' secret laboratory

A comprehensive view of the new super-dreadnaught California, recently launched at the Mare Island Navy Yard
(Photograph Copyrighted by Underwood & Underwood)