CITY WAIFS ALL ANXIOUS TO RIDE THAT FARM HORSE

Manager of Bureau Says She Could Provide Farmers With 100 Boys From Omaha.

The song, "How Y' Goin' to Keep 'Em Back on the Farm," doesn't apply in Omaha, according to Mrs. Mabel Walker, manager of the employment bureau of the Chamber of Commerce.

In fact there is a strong "back to the land" sentiment in Omaha, Mrs. Walker says. An appeal for a boy who would like to live on a ranch by Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Woltz, Kennebuc, S. D., published in The Bee two days ago, has resulted in an avalanche of telephone calls from youths eager to try farm life.

Give Waifs a Chance. "Each and every applicant believes he is just the boy for the job," Mrs. Walker said, "and as only one boy is wanted the others will be bitterly disappointed. I believe there are at least 100 boys in Omaha who would be better off on farms, and if farmers will write me I will furnish them with the finest kind of boys. Farmers do much to solve our social unrest problem by giving city waifs a home."

HOLLAND AND EX-KAISER AWAIT MOVE OF ALLIES

Sentiment for Deposed Hohenzollern Below Zero in the Netherlands, Journal Asserts.

The Hague, Jan. 24.—The Dutch government and the former German emperor have settled down to await the allies' next move. Only one Dutch newspaper, the Amsterdam "Nieuws," went beyond approval of the government's action and, while heartily approving the stand on national honor, said:

"Sentiment for the former kaiser here is below zero, and we believe only an extremely small number of Dutchmen would be found of the kind who had been called to account some way or other for the terrible responsibility which rests upon him. The Dutch people do not feel like standing as a bulwark about the former kaiser, and the best part of our government's note is its total absence of sympathy for the accused."

The Brussels newspaper, Le National Beige, has commented bitterly on the refusal, saying in effect that Holland thereby proves herself, as always, a friend of the German junkers and an enemy of the entente. Holland meanwhile is going forward with her plans to join the league of nations. The press indicates that not much opposition is expected and that Parliament probably will vote Holland's participation with little discussion.
