WAS ALMOST DISCOURAGED

Constant Headache and Much Soreness and Pain Nearly Got the Rest of This Harrisburg Lady, But Cardui Made Her Well and Strong.

Harrisburg, Ark.—Mrs. J. M. Needham, living near here, states: "When I began working on me I suffered a great deal. I had so much soreness and pain in the lower part of my body I could hardly get up when I was down. I would have severe pains, all across my back, and my sides hurt me all the time. I would have headaches constantly, especially the back of my head and neck. I was almost discouraged with my condition when I thought of Cardui, and decided to see what it would do.

I saw an improvement at once after the first bottle. I kept it up and the result was wonderful. I grew stronger, better appetite, less pain, until I was well. I think Cardui is a Godsend to suffering women, and I certainly can praise it, and do so."

For more than 40 years Cardui has been in general use and in that time thousands have written to tell us how it helped them back to health and strength.

Folk Theater Notes. The Drama League meeting scheduled for February 2 at Blackstone hotel has been postponed for one week, owing to the opening of the Folk theater.

Dean and Mrs. Charles Ewell Craik of Louisville, Ky., will come to Omaha for the opening performance of the Folk theater under the direction of their son, Oscar Wilder Craik, February 2.

Mr. Thomas R. Kimball is responsible for the artistic design on the Folk theater programs.

Miss Gay Williams has made 12 large posters for Folk theater publicity.

Mr. Craik, director of the Folk theater, has been spending his spare moments at the Auditorium painting scenery for the Folk theater plays. It is his desire to carry out the Little theater ideas in curtaining and scenic effects.

Do not rip out the hem when children's ready made dresses are too long; just turn up the depth of original hem and run in by hand. Then it is only a few minutes' work to lengthen when necessary.

Famous Women

Jane (Welsh) Carlyle. Men of genius are not always nice as nuts, soft as old slippers. Noble women have found it very difficult to live with them. Milton's first wife, Mary Powell, a bad wife, found it so difficult that she broke off and ran away from him. From Milton, the author of "Paradise Regained," Jane Welsh Carlyle had a hard lamp to trim in the burning genius who was her husband. In the Carlyle meagre household of Craigenputtock, Scotland, the days were bleak beyond compare. The "two of them" lacked Heaven's best gift—Humor. If Jane Carlyle had passionately loved Carlyle she could have scrubbed her hands off for him; but she did not. And Carlyle said that her mental work for him was the "saving charm of her life." That remark is enough to make a wash board out of a woman's temper. She was a brave, stoic, but she left Carlyle at last—temporarily—and when her little dog fell out of the carriage when she was driving, Jane was found with her hands folded—dead. Did she love the dog, and would not die for a planet?

Shame! You moral weakling! The girl should snap her fingers in your face and tell you to get out. Has she questioned your past? And could you give an absolutely clean record? If you love her and have found her to be all that you desire, why not take it for granted that she is all right. She probably is, and you are so pusillanimous that you believe every vile story that men of your caliber tell. If you had been the right sort, when this boy tried to prejudice you against her you would have knocked him down. He probably wants the girl himself. You acted cowardly when this friend spoke ill of the girl, and now you are too much of a coward to face her with the story. No wonder girls favor cave men.

Broken Hearts. Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: We have read your advice to others and we have come to you for advice. We are two girls of 17 and we have

How to Make Up The Dolly Sisters

For the home, the street and social affairs. Sane, sensible suggestions by

How to Have Beautiful Hands. Beautiful hands are an index to a girl's character. The girl who cares for her hands is the girl who is immaculate in caring for her clothing, her hair, her body, her teeth. She interests you. If her nails are not cared for it indicates so many unpleasant things that you don't want to be one in that class.

If the hands perspire excessively and ruin your gloves get lycopodium powder at any drug store, or, after washing the hands, use dry boracic acid.

Lemon is a fine remedy for sunburned or discolored hands. It whitens them.

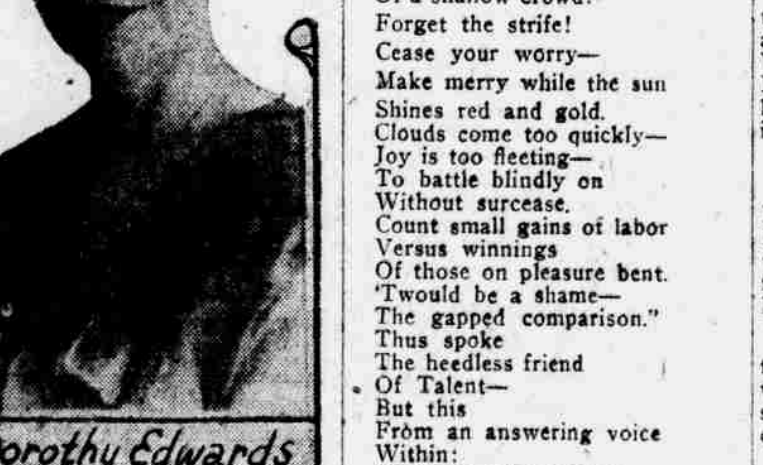

Of course, red hands often indicate a disturbance that is inward. Perhaps the clothes are too tight. Even tight garters may cause red hands.

If the redness is not from inter-pungent causes a good remedy is suggested by a friend who used with success this mixture:

Lanolin ..... 100 grams
Paraffin ..... 25 grams
Oil of violets ..... 6 drops
Extract of vanilla ..... 6 drops

When they are healed use plentifully any good grease cream.

Dorothy Edwards to Act in Play Given by Folk Theater

Miss Dorothy Edwards is one of those who will take part in a play to be given by the Folk theater, the evening of February 2, at the Boyd theater. She will play the role of Laura in Barrie's "A Well Remembered Voice."

Miss Edwards has appeared in a number of amateur theatricals here, having been in a number of plays presented at Central high school when she was a student there and also at the University of Omaha, which she is now attending.

been keeping company with two boys of 20. We have gone with them for about a year and they have been very true until lately, but we have found out that they have been calling on other girls and some of them are friends of ours. Now really, Miss Fairfax, do you think we ought to keep on going with these boys or give back their rings and find other boy friends? It would break our hearts to do this, but whatever you say we will do. Do you think these girls are true friends when they know that we are engaged to them?

Thanking you for your advice we remain, TED AND BOB.

Young hearts are easily mended, even when they are smashed to pieces. You are all too young to take this matter seriously. I see no reason why you should not continue to be friends with these boys.

Permanent Wave. Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I am coming again for information. Would you know where I can get the permanent wave put in the hair and what does it cost? Thanking you in advance and for past favors, yours respectfully, MRS. D. E. S.

The permanent wave is given at two different places in Omaha and the cost is $2 a curl, you to determine the number of curls you want. I cannot give you the addresses through the paper.

Civil Service. Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: Kindly answer in The Bee where I can obtain information as to examination, requirements, etc., regarding railway mail clerk, customs and excise, translator, internal revenue service, clerk Panama canal service, clerk departmental service and immigrant inspector. I am sincerely, A. E. C. Z.

Write to Miss Viola Coffin, care Postmaster, Omaha, Neb.

Miss Thirteen.—In regard to a debate on capital punishment, consult books in your public library. Ask your instructor for a list of authors who deal with this subject.

A Book Worm.—Yes, a book worm is better than a gadabout. For advice on books consult the librarian in your city. She will give you valuable suggestions.

Anxious.—We have no information regarding ventriloquists.

Lonesome.—The Community Service entertainments, or the young people societies of your church ought to enable you to make the acquaintance of desirable young women.

SOCIETY

Higgins-Opper. The marriage of Miss Alice Opper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Opper, and Michael J. Higgins, son of Mrs. M. Higgins, took place Saturday morning at St. Bridget's church. Rev. T. P. O'Callahan officiated. Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Blessing were the only attendants.

Old Gregory has Driving Power. Sixty-five years old, but still keen and active, a power in business and among friends. What is at the back of his "drive"? It's health—lungs sound, blood pressure normal. And back of his health are regular habits—proper elimination. Yes, it's largely this habit of regular bowel evacuation that keeps "old man Gregory" young. The poisons of constipation effect more destructive changes in the body than perhaps any other cause. Keep your system free of these poisons by habitual, daily movements. If you have difficulty in cultivating this habit, remember that by an entirely new principle Nujol will keep the poisonous waste moving out of the body. Every other form of treatment either irritates or forces the system. Nujol works on the waste matter instead of on the system. Nujol prevents constipation by keeping the food waste soft, thus helping nature establish easy, thorough bowel evacuation at regular intervals—the healthiest habit in the world. It is absolutely harmless and pleasant to take—try it. Nujol is sold by all druggists in sealed bottles only, bearing Nujol trade-mark. Write Nujol Laboratories, Standard Oil Co.
