TOP PRICE PAID FOR FAT LAMBS AT STOCK YARDS

Go at $2 Higher Than Any Price Ever Paid Before
In the Month of January.

Fat lambs are selling at the local yards nearly $2 higher than they ever sold any previous January, which is partly attributed to the campaign for "Eat More Lamb."

Two loads of choice lambs were sold Wednesday by J. T. Stack of Shelton, at $20.05, which was the first sale to go over the $20 mark this season. Mr. Stack said he fed about 3,000 lambs this season, and will place them all on the local market soon.

A deck of lambs was brought in Wednesday by Henry Kahlen of Schleswig, Ia., which included 64 head of golden hocks weighing 64 pounds each. They brought $20.10 a hundred. This is the highest paid for lambs since last April, and the top price ever paid in January.

Kearney Ranchmen Give Up Chickens To Raise Rabbits

Ed Powell came in from the "1733" ranch near Kearney Saturday with a load of cattle that brought $12.50 a hundred, which is considered good for the class that made up the herd.

According to Powell, the "1733" ranch got its name from the fact that it is located at a point 1733 miles from either Boston or San Francisco. The ranch originally consisted of 5,000 acres, but has been reduced to 1,640, and is devoted to the raising of pure bred cattle of all breeds.

Mr. Powell said a number of ranchers near Kearney had given up raising chickens and are devoting their time to the raising of rabbits as a substitute. They say rabbits can be fed at considerable less than chickens and point out that the meat of a rabbit is more delectable than chicken.

"Short and Tall" Hold Up South Sider for $20

Ellis Lacy, 506 South Thirteenth street, was held up at Twenty-seventh and Y streets at 6:45 p. m. Tuesday night and relieved of $20 by two unmasked men with revolvers, according to a report given to the police.

One of the men is described as over six feet tall, and wore a blue cap and overalls, while the other was five feet seven inches, with dark overcoat and black cap. They are thought by the police to be the two men known as the "short and tall" robbers who have committed a number of holdups on the South Side in the last two weeks.

Endeavor to Link Socialists in U. S. With the Bolsheviks

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 28.—In its effort to link the socialists of America with the bolsheviki of Russia, in a conspiracy to overthrow organized government here, the prosecution at the "trial" of the five suspended socialist assemblymen charged with disloyalty succeeded in introducing in evidence the testimony obtained by the joint legislative committee investigating radicalism from Ludwig C. A. K. Martens, self-styled Russian soviet ambassador to the United States. The assembly judiciary committee conducting the investigation admitted the evidence after protests by the socialists' counsel. Attorney Seymour Stedman then demanded that, if the testimony be read at all, it be read in its entirety. The reading began and seemed due to continue for two or three days when Mr. Stedman and committee counsel reached an agreement whereby the testimony is to be printed and presented to the defense. Then both sides will read into the record such portions as they desire.
