APOLLO—24th and Leavenworth—MADIE KENNEDY in "THROUGH THE WRONG DOOR," a story of a girl who is deceived by a man who marries her for her money.

HAMILTON—10th and Hamilton—MAE MARRIAGE in "THE BONDAGE OF BARBARA," and a Harold Lloyd comedy.

COMFORT—24th and Vinton—MON-ROE SALISBURY in "SUNDOWN TRAIL," and a Big-V comedy.

LOTHRO—24th and Lehigh—VIOLE DANA in "PLEASE GET MARRIED," and CHARLES CHAPLIN in "A DAY'S ROMANCE."

DIAMOND—24th and Lehigh—RUTH ROLAND in "ADVENTURES OF RUTH," chapter four, and MARIE WALCAMP in "THE STORY OF TEMPEST CODY," series and comedy.

It is safe to estimate that two-thirds of the movie fans of Omaha have been to the Rialto theater this week to see that good old southern screen production, "In Old Kentucky," featuring Anita Stewart. As nearly every person, young and old, like a horse race, to say nothing of the many other interesting features of this production, we add here that the picture will have its last showings at the Rialto today, and if you enjoy something thrilling, as well as to see some very clever screen acting, make it a point to be at the box office early, so as not to miss out on this big photo-production.

Sun and Muse—Many critics assert that "Pollyanna" is one of the greatest picture plays ever filmed.

The reason for this is that the philosophy upon which the story is based constituted a theme which at the present time has an unusually wide appeal. This production will be the feature at the Sun and Muse theaters for the last time today.

Strand—Lionel Barrymore repeats in the screen version of "The Coppehead" the striking impression which he made in this great drama of civil war times when it was produced as a stage play. The picture closes a week's run at the Strand today and is a production every person should see. It is well worth the attention of every admirer of really fine photoplays.

Moon—"Checkers" is about to leave us, and it's just possible we will not have another "Checkers" to thrill us for some time. The last performance of the William Fox racing photoplay, which has been drawing good houses at the Moon theater this week, will be given today. The picture is a big magnet, with its combination of humor, pathos and glowing romance.

Empress—The dramatic action of "A Man's Man," the photoplay attraction starring J. Warren Kerrigan, which is being shown at the Empress for the last time today, is as fast as a rapid-fire gun. From the first flash on the screen of the water tank station in the Arizona desert, where the mining engineer defends the young girl—then unknown to him—from the annoyances of a traveling salesman, to the final picture in far-off Sobranie, where he wins her heart and learns her real identity, there is not a foot of film that does not pulsate with intense romantic interest.

AT THE THEATERS

THERE are going to be some doings at the Gaiety this afternoon when Jacobs and Jermon produce their 1920 "Burlesque Review" for a week's engagement. Both in the completeness of their season and costume equipment, nothing will be seen at the Gaiety this season that begins to approach this attraction. The competent cast is headed by Billy Spellman, with Ed Schubert, Harlie Mayne, Irene Mera, Irene Leary, Irving Gluck, Billie Clark and Harry Emerson. An elaborately gowned chorus completes the organization. Tomorrow's matinee starts at 3.

That the "30 most beautiful girls in the world" are found in support of the famous Fanchon and Marco in their revue, "Let's Go," which concludes its week's engagement at the Brandeis theater today, with two performances, matinee and evening, is the proud boast of the stars themselves. Fanchon and Marco were headliners in vaudeville for several seasons, but their clever work in "Let's Go" discloses them at their cleverest.

This is farewell day for Gertude Hoffman at the Orpheum. She will present her series of dances and impersonations this afternoon, and again this evening. The curtain tonight is to rise promptly at 8 o'clock. The bill opening tomorrow is to offer two headline attractions, one contributed by Maude Lambert, musical comedy favorite, in combination with Ernest R. Ball, song composer. The other will be the one-act comedy, "Two Is Company," presented by Wilbur Mack and his company, which includes Louie Holly and Earl Bronson. Another featured act will be contributed by Miss Charles and Henry Rignetto, assisted by the Swanson Sisters and company.

The closing performance of "May Time" will be given at Boyd's this afternoon and evening, and with the end of this engagement closes the career of the beautiful theater. This company is one of the most competent groups of entertainers ever seen in Omaha, while the quaint and wholesome attractions of the play itself commended it to all. Miss Carolyn Thompson, Mr. Melville Stokes and Mr. William Norris have the leading roles.

When "Business Before Pleasure" comes to the Brandeis theater for four days beginning Sunday night, February 1, Omaha will be given the opportunity of seeing Abe Potash and Mawruss Perlmutter in the "illum" business. Harry First is Mawruss and Jules Jordan is Abe. The vampire, who causes all the trouble, will be portrayed by Miss Jane Lowe. A capable company surrounds the principal players.

Howard and Lewis, at the Empress, are a pair of clever farceurs and among vaudeville's cleverest funmakers. They offer a comedy song and dialogue conceit entitled, "Do You Like Me." The Eight Vassar Girls, offer one of the prettiest of musical numbers, playing a variety of instruments. The scenery is distinctive and elaborate.

Veteran Engineer Dies

John Stevenson, 74 years old, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Joseph M. Dougherty, 6537 Florence boulevard, Thursday night. He worked as a locomotive engineer for 25 years with the Union Pacific.

B. C. Grosse Dies of "Flu;" Wife Ill With Same Disease

Benjamin C. Grosse died at his home, 1420 Sherwood avenue, yesterday of influenza. He was employed as a pharmacist at the Sherman & McConnell Drug company. His wife is seriously ill of the same disease. A brother, John W. Grosse of Elgin, Ill., will take the body to Elgin for burial.

Gossard Corsets

For every occasion, for every activity; for women and misses who demand the unusual and exclusive.

Lightly boned corsets that give the uncorseted silhouette, the results are charming because of the fact that the figure underneath these revised details is straight and natural instead of stiff and set.

For figures full, stout, slender or average, our modern corset department has models galore, deeply hipped and skirted, but extending very little above the waistline. Models of beauty and comfort, hygienically designed.

Prices $3.75 and upward to $32.50.
