

CREIGHTON FIVE NOSES IN AHEAD IN LAST MINUTE

Michigan Aggies Basket Ball Team Goes Down to Defeat in Last Minute; Score, 22 to 21.

Creighton's undefeated basket ball team barely nosed out a victory last night in the first game of a two-game series with the Michigan Aggies. The final count was 22 to 21.

The locals were beaten until the last minute of play when Eddie Mulholland crowned the glory of a long-sought rally by tossing the sphere into the basket for Creighton's winning tally.

Creighton took the floor a big favorite over the Aggies. Their decisive defeat of Indiana on the same court last week had instilled in the team all sorts of confidence.

One minute after the first toss-up Kurtz dropped the ball into the Michigan basket for the first score of the game. Half a minute later, Gilkey tallied for the Aggies. Score: Michigan, 4; Creighton, 0.

The visitors then turned their every effort toward guarding. The entire team centered about the Creighton basket.

Locals Jinxed. Creighton forwards took three shots to the Aggies' one. The ball hit perilously close on a majority of the shots but refused to drop into the net.

During the first half not a Creighton man could score but Kearney, The Blue and White center chalked up two field goals and two foul goals during the first period for Creighton's only 11 points.

Creighton opened the second period with the same kind of play, shooting often but without avail.

Referee Klue called seven personal fouls on the visitors during the second period and "Chick" Kearney made each foul but one count a score.

Not until the last five minutes of play did a Creightonite succeed in making a field goal. With the count of 17 to 12 against them the Creighton team suddenly rallied.

Kearney and Haley each scored a field goal. Score, Aggies 17; Creighton, 10. Captain Barrett tallied for the visitors and Mulholland scored 2 points for Creighton. Score, 19 to 18, Aggies.

Kearney sent the stands into a frenzy a moment later when he pushed the Creighton team into the lead for the first time during the contest.

Heasley made the Creighton glory short-lived and scored a field goal. With the score 21 to 20 in the Aggies' favor and but 30 seconds to play, Kurtz committed a personal foul.

Kearney had a golden opportunity to tie the score but failed to make the free throw good, the first one of seven he had failed to make. Eddie Mulholland seized the ball as it dropped again into the mass of players, backed up a step and tossed it into the net without touching the hoop. Score, Creighton, 22; Aggies, 21.

The same teams will mix tonight at Creighton gymnasium.

A big purchase of William A. Rogers' 1881 Silverware will be placed on sale by the Union Outfitting Company next Saturday at many dollars less than such high-grade silverware is selling for today.

The enormous saving is due to the fact that heavy orders were placed with the maker early last year and previous to heavy advances in the price of metals.

The result is an opportunity to buy silverware at prices that may not be offered again in months to come.

In the purchase were a number of 26-piece sets put up in lined cases. There are also many dozens of knives, forks, spoons and teaspoons which can be purchased separately or by the dozen.

The sale is just another convincing evidence of the great buying power of the Union Outfitting Company and its ability to lower prices because of its location out of the high rent districts, where, as always, you make your own terms.

FIVE MEN NAMED FOR JOB AUGUST HERRMANN QUIT

Carl Mays Reinstated—Major and Minor Leagues Fail to Get Together For Conference.

Chicago, Feb. 11.—Major league club owners in joint session received the recommendations of the joint nominating committee for chairman of the National Base Ball commission to succeed August Herrmann, whose resignation became effective Wednesday.

Five names were submitted by the committee and final decision was left to Presidents John Heydler of the National and B. B. Johnson of the American, who will announce their decision at their discretion.

The names of the men submitted according to club owners were: Judge K. M. Landis, Chicago; William Edwards, New York; State Senator J. E. Walker, New York; Harvey T. Woodruff, sporting editor Chicago Tribune; J. Conway Toole, New York.

Retiring Chairman Herrmann declared to newspaper men that he favored the selection of Woodruff as his successor, because of his opinion that a newspaper man was best fitted for the position. A high official in the American league said he eliminated as the federal judge would not be chosen.

Commend Herrmann. A resolution commending the work of Herrmann as chairman of the commission since its inception was presented and adopted by the 16 club owners.

A slight increase in admission to the Chicago games of 1920 also was decided upon at the joint meeting of the two leagues.

While the owners of the American league franchises refused to discuss the "pact of Chicago," which ended the factional fight in the organization at an early hour today, supporters of the minority faction which included Jacob Ruppert, New York; Harry Frazee, Boston, and Charles Comiskey, Chicago, claimed a victory for their side and asserted that "Johnson's wings had been clipped."

On the other hand, the admirers of Mr. Johnson and his loyal "five" Connie Mack, Frank Navin, Phil Ball, Clarke Griffith and James Dunn, declared that Johnson was victorious.

The reinstatement of Carl Mays was said to be automatic. The awarding of third place in the American league race for 1919 to the New York club, was declared to have been a sportsmanlike move by Frank Navin.

Failure of the major league to get in touch with the minor leagues prevented the holding of a joint session at which it was hoped that a new agreement would be reached.

The sale of Darrin Davenport, pitcher of the St. Louis Americans to the Washington club, the signing of Charley O'Leary, former American league infielder, as coach of the New York Americans, the signing of Harry Stevenson as trainer of the Chicago Americans and the sale by the Philadelphia Nationals of Outfielder Lee Callahan to the Indianapolis American association club were announced during the day.

GREATER OMAHA LEAGUE BEGINS SECOND ROUND

Live Stock Exchange Throws Scare Into Commerce Quintet; Bowens Put Up Great Game.

Starting the second round of the schedule in the race for the championship of the Greater Omaha basket ball league, the Bowen Furniture Co., Commerce High and the Omaha National Bank teams were victorious last night at the Y. M. C. A.

The Bowens easily defeated the Townsend Gun Co., 40 to 21, outclassing their opponents throughout the entire contest. The furniture lads played one of the best games of their career. Root and Bromley's shooting starred for the Bowens, the former making 14 points and the latter 12. Ernie Adams' basket shooting and guarding of Allen and Riddell featured for the Gunners.

Lynn Smith, the big Genoa Indian, recently signed by Coach Gus Miller of the Bowens, was unable to make his appearance at left forward last night on account of illness.

Although the Live Stock Exchange, full-order of the league, lost to Commerce High squad by the score of 27 to 22, the South Siders threw a big scare into the camp of the high school warriors and for a time threatened to take home the bacon.

Dickman and Graham were the point getters for the Live Stock Exchange and the guarding of Jones and Engh were also of great importance.

Despite the fact that the Beddoes lost by a 26 to 13 score to the Omaha National banks, they must be given credit for the scrappy fight they put up. The Banks are veteran players, while the Beddoes are newcomers. Led Burkeford, with 14 points, was chiefly responsible for the Banks victory, while Ritchie and Koran's guarding also starred.

TORTURING RHEUMATISM

No Respector of Persons. If you will get it fixed in your mind that in many forms Rheumatism is a blood disease and cannot be cured by local treatment, you will then by proper treatment begin to get the permanent relief you have been seeking for so many years.

In this article we want to explain to you the cause of this most painful of all diseases, also offer suggestions, founded on reason and long years of experience, which will enable you to secure the right treatment if you are afflicted with any of the various forms of Rheumatism.

Rheumatism is often a specific blood fermentation, a souring of the circulation from an excess of uric acid accumulating in the blood stream. This uratic impurity comes usually as a result of constipation, weak kidneys, indigestion and stomach disturbances. These systematic irregularities may not be of marked severity or of long duration, but each has a direct effect on the eliminative members of the body, which prevents the proper removal of the waste products. This refuse remains in the stomach and bowels, and souring forms uric acid, which the blood quickly absorbs.

Rheumatism is usually manifested in the joints and muscles. It is here its sharpest twinges of pain are felt, and stiffening of ligaments and tendons first commences. The pain of Rheumatism is caused by the contact of the sensory nerves with the gritty, acrid formation which uric acid causes to accumulate in the corpuscles of the blood about the joints. The stiffening of muscles and joints is usually gradual. Constantly the blood deposits the uric acid into the
