

NEAR EAST FUND SUBSCRIPTIONS TAKE BIG JUMP

Many Omahans Follow Footsteps of Great Emancipator and Aid Starving in Armenia.

Starving Armenians will forever remember with gratitude the birthday of the Great Emancipator as it was marked by emancipation from hunger of many of them. At a meeting of the executive committee to perfect plans for the near east relief campaign in Omaha the following subscriptions were announced:

- Dr. H. Gilford $1,500
Mrs. J. M. Patton 1,000
Mrs. George A. Joslyn 1,000
H. H. Burdette 500
Dr. W. M. Callahan 500
Mrs. A. Roberts 500
W. J. Reynolds 500
W. J. L. 500
George A. Hoagland 500
J. D. Waddell 500
G. W. Wathen 500

That the rallying cry, "We must not let them die as Christians and Americans," was heard even in far-off California was evidenced by the following message from G. W. Wathen: "Am glad to subscribe $500 for the starving children."

Do not hesitate to send in your pledge to Near East Relief committee, 101 Bee building, because you are not able to make large ones. Your prosperity and ability are the proper considerations.

(Modes of Today)
A smooth, hairless skin always follows the use of a paste made by mixing some water with plain powdered delatone. This paste is applied to the hairy surface 2 or 3 minutes, then rubbed off and the skin washed, when every trace of hair will have vanished. No pain or discomfort attends the use of the delatone paste, but caution should be exercised to be sure that you get real delatone.

Funeral Services for Airplane Inventor to Be Held in Home Sunday

H.W. Ashmuser

Funeral services for Henry W. Ashmuser, designer and manufacturer of the Ashmuser airplane motor, and owner of the Ashmuser manufacturing company airplane factory at Sixty-fifth and Center streets, who died of pneumonia yesterday, will be held at his home, Sixty-second and Center streets, at 2 o'clock afternoon. Burial will be in the West Lawn cemetery.

Mr. Ashmuser was born in Denmark. He came to Omaha with his parents 40 years ago. With the exception of a few years spent in France and Germany he lived here until 1908, when he established an experimental plant on Long Island, N. Y., to study aeronautics. Previously he had been proprietor for several years of the Grand Electric company in this city.

After Mr. Ashmuser had spent months in aeronautic research, and had designed and tested his first motor, he established a manufacturing plant at Providence, R. I., where he lived for 10 years before returning to Omaha a year ago and building his factory on Center street. He is survived by his widow, his mother, Mrs. William Ashmuser, his four brothers, Chris of Albany, N. Y.; William of Arizona, and Fred and Andrew of Omaha, and three sisters, Mrs. John Kurtz, Mrs. George Yates and Mrs. Clarence Bode, all of Omaha.

Short talks on the life of Abraham Lincoln were made by several members. Copies of The Bee were referred to in a historical discussion of the great hail storm in August, 1875. It was announced that during the past four months an average of 10 deaths a month had occurred among members of the association. Several membership applications were approved.

HINES REFUSES TO LET OMAHANS SHIP OUT CORN

Grain Exchange Appoints Delegation to Hurry to Washington to Make Personal Appeal.

Director General Hines, in a telegram to Otis M. Smith, president of the Omaha Grain exchange, positively refuses to rescind his order prohibiting the shipment of corn out of Omaha from February 8 to 18, according to a statement made by Mr. Smith yesterday.

An urgent request was wired Mr. Hines by the Exchange following the refusal of Hale Holden, regional director of the railroad administration, to take action in behalf of the grain men. His reply was received yesterday in a night letter from Washington.

Going to Washington. The next step taken by Omaha grain men will be the delegation of a special committee of Exchange members to go to Washington Monday to confer with Mr. Hines and seek a recall of the order.

Mr. Hines' telegram stated that no corn shall be shipped out of Omaha until February 18, but that empty terminal grain elevators of the city districts for more grain. The purpose of the order is to move surplus stocks of corn from country markets to the large terminal elevators.

Mr. Smith asserts that these elevators already are filled to capacity, and the inability to ship out is causing such a congestion that there is no room for country stocks. Several terminal grain elevators of the city closed down Wednesday as a temporary measure.

Yesterday being a holiday, there was no grain market. The local market was unaffected Wednesday by the inability to ship out grain, according to Mr. Smith. He stated that the price was somewhat higher on the exchange, on the heels of a sudden drop in price Monday. The market continues to be somewhat congested, because many country shippers have refused to move their corn.

Browne Wires Appeal. Lincoln, Feb. 12.—Commissioner Thorne A. Browne of the Nebraska Railway commission sent a telegram to Director General Walter D. Hines of the federal railroad administration asking him to permit grain movements from primary terminals.

Unless such movements were permitted, the telegram said, the beneficial effects of Mr. Hines' recent orders to railroads in the middle west to give preference to grain shipments from elevators would be "completely nullified."

Omaha is congested with grain and dealers will not buy because they are unable to fill contracts under present conditions, Mr. Browne said, adding that "this will undoubtedly break the market, in which event country shippers will refuse to make use of cars furnished."

To Wash Away Those Wrinkles and Crowsteet

If your face is disfigured with wrinkles, no matter what the cause, you can quickly dispel every line, even the most obstinate, by using a simple, home-made wash lotion. Merely dissolve an ounce of powder-saville in a half pint which has ingredients found in any drug store. Bathe the face in this, and— presto!—you scarcely believe your own eyes when you look into a mirror and behold the marvelous transformation!

The remarkable astringent action of the saville so lightens the skin, wrinkles are literally pressed out. Best of all, this result is not purely temporary, for the lotion also has a healthful tonic action, which tends to strengthen and tone up the weakened tissue, and added benefit may be expected with continued use. Use this once a day for awhile; it cannot injure the most delicate skin. The treatment itself leaves no trace—no one guesses the secret of your increasing youthful appearance.

MANUFACTURERS 'MADE IN OMAHA' DINNER SUCCESS

Prize Awards Cause Amusement as Valuable Gifts Made Here Are Distributed.

Products of Omaha's factories, jobbing houses and retail stores were distributed among 400 guests and members of the Omaha Manufacturers' association at the 10th annual "Made in Omaha" dinner of the association at the Chamber of Commerce last night.

It was truly a "made in Omaha" affair, from the elaborate dinner, complete from soup to nuts, to the prizes which were distributed later. The program included vocal solos by Dale Marshall, C. P. Swanson, H. G. Paul and C. F. Helgren.

The real amusement began when the distribution of prizes was started. Al C. Scott, president of the association, had charge of the distribution. He first urged everyone to insist on Omaha made goods when buying.

Will Clean Street Cars. He then turned his attention to a large platform table sagging under the weight of Omaha-made prizes. One of the first prizes awarded was a bottle of hair tonic, C. R. Glover, 1515 City National bank building, whose growth of hair has ceased to be as luxuriant as in years past, received the tonic. "It's a frame-up," he declared, but he accepted the prize nevertheless.

R. A. Leusser of the Omaha and Council Bluffs Street Railway company won a large floor brush donated by the Weims-Omaha Brush company. "Now I'll be able to keep the street cars clean," he smiled.

The Olympia Candy Kitchen, 1518 Harney street, was fined $10 and costs in police court yesterday on complaint of Inspectors Thomas Zaack and Orland Huyck of the State Department of Agriculture, bureau of pure foods. They couldn't be built now for twice $71,000

When the talk turns from politics to railroads, and the traveler with the cocksure air breaks in with, "There's an awful lot of 'water' in the railroads," here are some hard-pan facts to give him:

American railroads have cost $80,900 a mile—roadbed, structures, stations, yards, terminals, freight and passenger trains—everything from the great city terminals to the last spike.

A good concrete- and asphalt highway costs $36,000 a mile—just a bare road, not counting the cost of culverts, bridges, etc.

Our railroads couldn't be duplicated today for $150,000 a mile.

They are capitalized for only $71,000 a mile—much less than their actual value. Seventy-one thousand dollars today will buy one locomotive.

English railways are capitalized at $274,000 a mile; the French at $195,000; German, $132,000; even in Canada (still in pioneer development) they are capitalized at $67,000 a mile. The average for all foreign countries is $100,000.

Low capitalization and high operating efficiency have enabled American railroads to pay the highest wages while charging the lowest rates.
