

FURIOUS GAME ENDS IN FAVOR OF CORNHUSKERS

Referee and Coach Plead With Crowd for Courtesy and Clean Sportsmanship—Final Score, 25 to 18.

Lincoln, Neb., Feb. 20.—(Special Telegram.)—With the score tied, 10 to 10, five minutes before the end of the game, the Huskers staged a furious spurt which gave Nebraska a 25 to 18 victory over Notre Dame at the University armory Friday night.

The oldest follower of Husker cage battles does not remember a rougher, more fiercely contested game than this proved to be. Brandy was sent to the bench after committing four personals and Bekins, for Nebraska, was removed for shoving. Referee Jones pleaded with the hooting crowd for courtesy toward visitors and officials and Coach Schulte appealed for clean sportsmanship.

For the first 10 minutes of play the guarding was so close that the score stood, 3 to 2, in Notre Dame's favor. Both sides shot miserably. During the half Smith netted the only field goal for Nebraska while Captain Mehre got two and Brandy got one for Notre Dame.

The Catholics scored first in the second half. Field goals by Mehre and Brandy for Notre Dame and by Russell, and Bekins for Nebraska, tied the count, 13 to 13. Pickett replaced Patti and started on his rampage. Goals in quick succession tucked the game away. A second game will be played Saturday night.

"TWO AND THREE" "PUTTING THE NEXT ONE OVER" WITH "BUGS" BAIR

The next cabinet will be union men, like the underwear you see advertised in the street cars. They will demand an eight-hour president. The last eight-hour president we had was Judge Hughes.

In the future all cabinet members will have to pass the civil service examination. This will do away with the hiring and firing of members who were weighed and found republicans. There should be a law against naming a secretary just as he accepts his job and has the swivel chair adjusted to his right height sitting down.

In the old days the retiring secretary used to hand his successor his portfolio. Now they hand each other timetables. It's no cabinet. It's an employment bureau.

The president has explained why he gave Lansing the work. But the explanation is something like a no-tipping sign in a barber shop. It doesn't mean anything. Official Washington doesn't know the real reason for the shindig, but they understand that Henry Cabot Lodge was observed dropping rafts in the White House toothpaste.

Another version is that a gent about the size of Lansing was spotted talking with a United States senator. That's enough to get anybody fired in Washington this administration.

About six dozen assorted sizes and shapes of cabinet members have been given the air. It's the first year that the White House had checking privileges have paid a dividend.

Bill Bryan has the giggle on the other boys. He got fired from the cabinet while resignations were still stylish.

When a prominent politician gets appointed to the cabinet now, all the reporters wheel up and take his post-mortem statement containing his reason for the rash act. Still, in spite of the transmission troubles, this has been a great administration. Here are a few of the diplomatic triumphs:

The European war is over. For Europe.

The United States is a land flowing with milk and honey. Which was all right if it weren't all wrong. The weather is damp enough without adding milk and honey to it.

We're one note ahead of Mexico.

The flu can be cured outside of the three-mile limit. When it gets colder than that the victim breaks out in a rash of decimal points and it is a clipped herring.
