CHARTER DIET HEARS WOOD ON U. S. PROBLEMS

Sets Forth Principles in Tribute to Washington Regarded by Many as His Platform.

Lincoln, Neb., Feb. 23.—(Special.)—Major General Leonard Wood, speaking before the state constitutional convention this afternoon, paid tribute to George Washington and, in so doing, set forth principles which were regarded by many as a summary of his own campaign platform for the republican presidential nomination.

Previously he addressed the local "Wood-for-President" club and later in the day he inspected the University of Nebraska cadets.

At the constitutional convention, General Wood said:

"Washington was one of the great founders and builders. We are the inheritors. The problem which confronts us is one of keeping alive and holding on to traditions and policies which have made us what we are. They are basic and elementary, as basic and elementary as the ten commandments and, from the standpoint of our national life, as important.

Protection for Industry.

"We must adhere absolutely to a government under the constitution, avoid class legislation, uphold the rights of property, the law, the constituted authorities. We must not permit the establishment in this country of an autocracy of either wealth or of labor.

"We must do all in our power to promote good business, to increase production, which is the only remedy for the high cost of living.

"We must extend the largest measure of opportunity to each and every citizen. We must establish conditions which will insure to every sound and normal man and woman a fair and workable chance to earn a living, to receive what each earns a fair and workable chance to marry and support a family and give the children a reasonable opportunity for a reasonable start.

Must Extend Agriculture.

"We must extend and maintain in a flourishing condition our agriculture, for it is the main source of our wealth and stability.

"We must establish industrial justice, with a square deal to both labor and capital.

"We must free business from the strangle hold of the excess profit tax.

"We must spread the war burden over a longer period of years.

"We must strive to have friendly relations with all nations, and entangling alliances with none. We must preserve our freedom of action, our freedom to respond to the only mandate which we, as a free people, can recognize—the mandate which comes from the American conscience—American public opinion.

"We must maintain a good and efficient army—not a large one—but an ever-ready navy.

Rigid Economy Needed.

"We should conduct our government on lines of rigid economy, each department of the government functioning strictly within its own constitutional limitations.

"We must build up a merchant marine as a means of developing our commerce and as a reserve for our navy.

"We must give our youth some form of brief training for national service—training which will combine industrial, vocational and citizenship training with a limited amount of military instruction. During this period of instruction we must take advantage of the opportunity to correct physical defects of the men through proper physical training and to rid them of diseases which threaten society and to teach them personal and general sanitation.

"We must maintain our judiciary free from intimidation and free from political influence.

"Our foreign policy should be a strong, but conservative one. We must remember that the stability of the republic depends very largely upon the integrity of the public school system. We must strengthen it and pay our teachers an adequate wage. No men or women are doing work of more vital importance to our country.

"We must bear in mind that the real bulwark of our defense is the love of liberty; that armies may come and go, but this force must be ever kept alive if we are to endure.

"We must see to it that undesirable immigration is kept out of this country; that we pay more attention to safeguarding the quality and stability of the race. We must devote ourselves to Americanizing the new comer on comprehensive and effective lines.

"We must always stand for one flag, one language and one loyalty, and that an undivided loyalty to the country of George Washington, to our country—America."

Over 300 Sons and Daughters of the American Revolution at the annual banquet given at the Lincoln hotel heard Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood, who was the principal speaker.

Dr. Benjamin Bailey of Lincoln was toastmaster and Mrs. Frank I. Ringer delivered the address for the daughters. George H. Hastings spoke for the sons.

A revolver was dropped on the floor of the mail car by the bandit, who locked three postal employees in a closet and placed three others in a vestibule. This gun was traced to Lauer, who told detectives that it had been stolen from him.

Omaha made the second largest gain in building during January, 1920, over the same month of 1919, of any of the larger cities in the country, according to statistics published in a recent issue of the American Contractor. Its gain is placed at 174 per cent.

Denver ranks first among the larger cities classified, with a building gain of 182 per cent. In Denver 204 building permits were issued during January of this year as compared to 86 permits issued in Omaha during the same period. The estimated cost of Omaha's building during the month is $3,117,250, as compared to $1,506,000 in Denver.

CHANGES IN PACT NEEDED, ASSERTS HERBERT HOOVER

Opposes U. S. Commissioner On Boards Except When Country's Interests Are Vital.

Baltimore, Feb. 23.—Herbert C. Hoover, former food administrator, declared today in an address at Johns Hopkins university his opposition to making the ratification of the treaty with Germany an issue in the presidential campaign. He insisted the injection of the arguments for and against reservations would "obscure our pressing domestic issues by conflict over a question in which the country already has made up its mind," and added, "it is my impression that there is no party credit in this position."

Assuming that the treaty would be ratified "some day" in "some form," he expressed a hope that it might serve to bring about a reduction of armament and the "development of engines of conciliation, of arbitration and codes and courts of international justice."

Except where the interests of the United States are vitally concerned, Mr. Hoover declared himself as opposed to American members on the various missions provided for in the treaty for the settlement of questions raised by the war. The loaning of money except to alleviate distress was also opposed. "Our best assistance in healing Europe's economic wounds lies in the promotion of the great processes of private commerce," he said, "not in loans from our government."

Hope for immediate ratification of the treaty rested, he said, in the acceptance by the "lesser reservationists" of the proposals of the "mild reservationists." The two combined, he said, could secure ratification.

HOFMANN GIVES OMAHA RECITAL TREAT OF YEAR

Great Pianist Rouses Vast Audience to High Pitch Of Enthusiasm by His Art.

By HENRIETTA M. REES.

The piano recital by Josef Hofmann, given at the Brandeis theater last evening under the auspices of the Tuesday Musical club, proved to be an event in the local annals of music.

For many years Josef Hofmann has stood at the forefront in the world of pianists, with one season after another bringing added lustre to his fame. This is the first time he has appeared in Omaha for a long period of years, and the interest in his recital was so great that the Brandeis theater was not only filled to capacity, but a large body of seats upon the stage were completely occupied.

The interest soon was transformed into enthusiasm, which increased as the program advanced, and which became a regular ovation at the close of the third number, and from that time on extra numbers were the rule. It is not often that an audience of this great size will unanimously remain seated at the close of the last number of a piano recital in Omaha, but this was what happened last evening, and three extra numbers were added at that time.

Remarkable Technic and Taste.

Mr. Hofmann is a great artist. He is one of the few who is able to interpret his numbers with the utmost musical taste, and yet impress them with such a distinct individuality of style. There is no phrase too small or too trivial to be made interesting and to hold its proper place in the total of the general scheme, and the broad lines of the music are presented with a clearness and sweep which vividly portrays his masterly conception of it.

Mr. Hofmann possesses an incomparable technical equipment, yet this is invariably subordinated to the delineation of the musical idea of the complete number, which, in his hands, would express. In a quiet and unassuming manner Mr. Hofmann presents a melody here or a rhythmic contrast there in a familiar number which many other pianists pass unnoticed, or great smashing chords ring out in fortissimo passages as amazing as unexpected for the amount of effort.

One of the most remarkable things about Mr. Hofmann's playing is the tone which he brings from his instrument. This is invariably full and resonant, and capable of the finest discrimination of shading and expression.

Beauties of the Program.

The program opened with the "Sonata in C Major," opus 53, by Beethoven, which Mr. Hofmann interpreted with true regard for its

With Fingers! Corns Lift Off

Doesn't hurt a bit to lift any corn or callus right off. Try it!

For a few cents you can get a small bottle of the magic drug freezeone recently discovered by a Cincinnati man.

Just ask at any drug store for a small bottle of freezeone. Apply a few drops upon a tender, aching corn or callus and instantly all soreness disappears and shortly you will find the corn or callus so loose that you lift it off with the fingers.

Just think! Not one bit of pain before applying freezeone or afterwards. It doesn't even irritate the surrounding skin.

Hard corns, soft corns or corns between the toes, also hardened calluses on bottom of feet, shrivel up and fall off without hurting a particle. It is almost magical.

Ladies! Keep a tiny bottle on the dresser and never let a corn or callus ache twice.

THIN PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Bitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the soft, rounded lines of beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness and weakness are often due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bitro-phosphate, which is inexpensive and sold by most all druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back.

By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements, bitro-phosphate should produce a welcome transformation in the appearance; the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

Increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy, which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, should soon disappear, dull eyes brighten and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health.

CAUTION—While Bitro-Phosphate is unparalled for the relief of nervousness, general debility, etc., those taking it who do not desire to put on flesh should use extra care in avoiding fat-producing foods.

When two Wives Meet

Secretly, every wife is fiercely ambitious for her husband—his success, appearance, strength—his standing among his fellow men.

Be worthy of that wife of yours. Keep healthy! Strength, appearance, success depend on health.

Living habits today are largely artificial—indoor—sedentary. To be healthy, we must regard Nature's laws. And one of the first of her laws is "Avoid Constipation. Keep the poisons of intestinal matter moving out of your body."

By an entirely new principle Nujol will keep the poisonous waste moving out of the body. Every other form of treatment either irritates or forces the system. Nujol works on the waste matter instead of on the system.

Nujol prevents constipation by keeping the food waste soft, thus helping Nature establish easy, thorough bowel evacuation at regular intervals—the healthiest habit in the world.

It is absolutely harmless and pleasant to take—try it.

Nujol is sold by all druggists in sealed bottles only bearing Nujol trade mark. Write Nujol Laboratories, Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey), 50 Broadway, New York, for booklet "Thirty Feet of Danger."

The Easiest Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the fingers tips.

By morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

ASK YOUR DRUGGIST

It is a marvelous portrayal of the human body at its best. One beholds in its composite details a true symbol of strength. It presents a figure of striking appearance in its erect carriage, clear skin, sparkling eyes, strong limbs, steady nerves and firm muscles; fairly vibrating in animation—keen, alert, fresh, and sprightly; with an air of unbounded confidence and a face radiant in color and illumined with a glow of hope and cheerfulness.

Could Nature have taken you for her model? Suppose you study yourself in the mirror of the present and compare your looks, your feelings and your condition with the general characteristics of this picture of the human body in perfect working order, all parts of which are sound, well organized and disposed, performing their functions freely, naturally.

If you fall in any single point of resemblance, you are not the picture of health. It is imperative, then, that you look to a means to rebuild your strength, energy and vigor—to bring your body up to a normal state of efficiency in all of its parts.
