Cattle—Estimates for today's cattle receipts called for 2,800 head or about half the size of yesterday's run. Total for the five days reached 29,100 head which is 10,000 larger than for the same five days a week ago, but 4,000 less than the run a year ago. With a relatively small number of cattle on hand prices held fust about steady and there was very little with any quality here. All grades of butcher stock sold at unchanged prices from yesterday. Stockers and feeders were also steady on the light supply.

The market on heavy hogs was very slow and lifeless, it being largely a question whether salesmen could dispose of them or not at prices all the way from $13.60 to possibly $14.25. Sheep—Arrivals of sheep and lambs were of limited volume, as is usually the case towards the close of the week. A broad and fairly active demand existed on local packing account and bulk of the offerings changed hands at relatively strong prices. Most of the good lambs brought $18.50 to $18.75, with common and plain grades selling on down the list. There were no choice light lambs on sale. A few fat ewes landed at $12.75, wethers and yearlings continue scarce. Feeder trade presented no new features and values were considered nominally steady.

New York Financial News

By NEW YORK TIMES.

Chicago Tribune-Omaha Bee Leased Wire.

New York, March 12.—The stock market ran into extensive selling today after quotations of industrial shares had displayed a generally firm tone during the initial hour of business. When the forward movement was in progress the petroleum group and some of the motor issues recorded more vigor than the others, oil stocks being influenced by emphasis laid in the last few days upon the shortage of crude material and a consequent stiffening in prices of refined products.

Two major influences were evident in the reaction of the afternoon which left net declines of 2 to more than 3 points among the active shares, excepting a few specialties. Chief of these was a spirited upbidding of call money from 7 to 15 per cent; the other was the desire of traders with good-sized profits to make sure of them in advance of the week-end.

Next Monday the first installment of income taxes falls due and it is expected that the strain upon the money market will also be increased then by sizable payments on account of state income tax payments, although the period for such payments has been extended by the state comptroller to March 31 by an eleventh-hour decision.

Money Market Stable.

It would be easy to lay too much stress upon the rise of call loan rates, however. The bulk of the day's borrowing was at 7 per cent, a level at which the market had been fairly well stabilized during the week, and whether the total of tax payments to the government next week reach many hundreds of thousands of dollars or are less than estimates, the funds will be distributed among the banks and will shortly be available, in large part, for temporary use in loans.

The immediate money and credit situation is to be studied more in the light of time loan rates than in the fluctuation of call loan interest figures. If, as is believed in some banking quarters, bank statements will show shortly the intensive effect of curtailment of credit use in mercantile lines, it is more than possible that some easement of time money quotations will come as improved railroad transportation permits a freer movement of goods to market. Such a development would not of itself facilitate an upward movement of stocks, as the liquidation of goods presupposes lower prices and lessened industrial profits. Also it is not to be forgotten that information continues to come from shipping circles of light outbound cargoes on North Atlantic ships, a matter of vital importance to export trade statistics.

Railroad Stocks Decline.

The market for railroad stocks seemed to be rather thin and prices receded easily under realizing sales. Speculation in this department has evidently passed out of the sphere of influence cast by the enactment of the railroad law and traders are waiting for a fresh impetus. Railroad managers have insisted that the public should not expect too much of the carriers in the readjustment period and the same sort of patience might be recommended to followers of the securities. There is a deal of financing to be arranged for and it is not impossible that the roads will not know how they are to fare in this respect until the six months' period of continued government assistance has advanced far.

The foreign exchanges were again reactionary. Sterling hesitated for a time around Thursday's final quotation of $3.72 for sight drafts and then receded to $3.69. The recession of the rates in other allied countries were moderate and business was reported light.

Grain Trade Notes.

Modern Miller says: Weather in the winter wheat country is quite unfavorable. Unseasonably cold and continued drouth is in much of the belt and plant continues to deteriorate. Kansas will show heavy abandonment of acreage and promise in Missouri is poor.

Rain must be had in sections of the southwest, including Kansas, Oklahoma and one or two other states; Hessian fly reports are numerous and are covering a larger territory.

Winnipeg Grain Exchange posted following notice today: "That as a preliminary towards de-control, the Canadian wheat board feels free to start with lake tonnage and give shippers and exporters assurance that they will not be interfered with. Shippers or exporters can make their own arrangements with individual vessel agents as the chartering committee will be dissolved and each vessel company will do its own business."

Chicago Grain

By CHARLES D. MICHAELS.

Chicago Tribune-Omaha Bee Leased Wire.

Chicago, March 12.—Bulges in grains met more opposition than of late and the markets were nervous with a lower range. At the close corn and oats were ⅛c to ½c lower, rye unchanged after showing a good gain early and barley 1¾c lower. A good advance in foreign exchange was without effect on the export trade.

The corn market acted tired and there was selling by some of the largest longs on all bulges openly and through commission houses.

Liverpool sold 500,000 bushels May corn early and kept the pit element digesting it the rest of the day. Although the outside cash markets were showing a better tone and the trade here better with more buyers in, the undertone was weaker at the close, with the exception of a few local bulls there was more disposition to sell than to buy.

Cars Scarice in West.

With country roads breaking up, farmers' deliveries are expected to decrease and the run of corn and oats will have to be from interior elevators which are said to hold fair stocks. Cars are scarce on all western roads with no immediate prospects of any betterment in the supply.

Lard was bought by New York cotton oil traders, but net gains were only 10c. Export buying of wheat was lighter and prices 2c lower. Rye exporters bought 76,000 bushels in all posisitions at the best prices of the season.

Sentiment was decidedly in favor of a reaction in corn, and long gains came out freely on all the upturns, only to disappear in a mysterious manner on the declines. One of the leading local bulls on the way to the rostrum to which line went over was less than the closing figure on May, and he wanted to get back. March finished at $1.52¾, July, $1.42½, and Seeptember at $1.32¾.

France bought 300,000 bushels hard winter wheat at New York late Thursday, but bids in the west today were on a lower basis, with unconfirmed reports of 15,000 bushels No. 2 hard being sold at $2.68 track New York, prompt shipment, or 2c under the outside figure of the previous day. Offerings at Chicago were small, and prices about unchanged. No. 3 hard sold at $2.47. Receipts of wheat at that figure at Minneapolis, but no sales abroad were claimed. Futures on the whole reflected the action of other grains and closed slightly lower. No 2 on track ½@½c over May at $1.74. Receipts, 7 cars.
