

National Woman Suffrage Association Extends Congratulations

The most impressive, and probably the most representative gathering of suffragists ever held is that which gathered in Chicago to celebrate the ratification of the suffrage amendment. More than 2,000 delegates were in attendance, and the following resolution, introduced by Mrs. Robert E. Edwards of Indiana, was passed unanimously:

Whereas, the leader of the little group of women known as the anti-suffragists who for a decade have helped to defeat woman suffrage by discrediting all who advocated it are now directing their familiar slanders to Mr. Will H. Hays, chairman of the republican national committee, because they say he has influenced ratification in several states by appealing to the younger element in the republican party for the support of suffrage:

Be It Resolved: That the National American Woman Suffrage association with 2,500,000 organized women congratulate the republican party upon having a chairman who is astute enough to recognize the certain trend of public affairs and to attempt to lead his party in step with the inevitable march of human progress.

We extend to Mr. Hays our sincere gratitude for any and all help he may have rendered on behalf of ratification and assure him that our members being progressive women hope to align themselves with the "younger element" of the parties of their choice, whichever party that may be.

A Message From Hays.

"The suffrage amendment has passed," wrote Will H. Hays, republican national chairman, in a message of greeting to the convention.

The rapidity with which this was done by the republican majority and the overwhelming republican majority vote speak for themselves. The republican women, coming more and more into the rights of their full citizenship, are most important factors in the nation's political life.

The only just rule for a political party is that the rights of participation in the management of the party's affairs must be and remain equally sacred and sacredly equal. The republican women in the country constitute one-half of the party's membership. In the presidential campaign of 1920 it is my very earnest hope and well founded judgment that it shall be so everywhere. The republican women come into the party activity not as women but as voters entitled to participate, and participating just as other voters.

Mr. Hays declared the women voters could be trusted to support the things for which the republican party stands, including compulsory education, an eight hour day for women, prohibition of child labor, humanization of industry, a national budget system and the eradication of radical socialism and unrest.

A New Battle Cry.

A new battle cry for the women of the nation—a demand for equal voice and leadership with the man in the councils directing the destinies—was sounded by Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt at the opening session of the congress.

Mrs. Catt urged every woman voter to affiliate herself at once with one of the big parties. "There seems to be quite a good deal of opposition to the league of women voters," said Mrs. Catt. "Is it possible for us now to remain outside of the big political parties and obtain the things we wish without petitioning them? If we are still to be petitioners, what was the idea of getting the vote? More and more the parties are becoming the powers in this country. I don't know whether it is wise and right, but it is the trend of the present political parties. Instead of appealing to them, it is better to get on the inside and get the things you desire.

"As I read the signs, there is to be a continuation of the old familiar strife for the last 60 years. We have been trying to convince the men of the ability of women. You've got to convert the men.

"The league is going to educate women for citizenship. It will be non-partisan. The democrats from Alabama and the republicans from New Hampshire must get together in the league and be friends. Then each can return to her own party in her own state and vote.

"And I'll warn you that there is only one man in 25 who is big enough to understand how you can work in an organization of this kind and be nonpartisan. Some of you will be won over and fooled by them. But I wish to say that the suffragists for the last 30 years, more than any other body of women, have kept the flag flying for the principles of the constitution and the things for which this government stands. If you are going to be five years behind the political parties you might just as well have no league. You must keep five years in advance of them if you are to perform your part. And I have full confidence in the conscientious purpose and moral outlook of the body."

Statement by Miss Hay.

A half-century of effort and sacrifice lies behind the woman suffrage movement; before us unfolds a future big with possibility and promise as the woman of the nation begin to use their new political liberty.

Until they had a voice in the management of their government few women were partisan. Now, with the big problems of the nation to be solved, they must choose a political party in order that their influence and voice may count. It is inevitable that this cannot be accomplished as a woman's entity; there is too great difference of opinion regarding what is to be done and how it is to be accomplished. So, that they may be a real factor in meeting this crisis in the country, women should waste no time and effort, but choose one of the existing organizations and through its machinery make her influence felt and her voice count.

Personally I have chosen the republican party, and there are many reasons for this. Take, as an example, its record on suffrage. Straight through suffrage history it has been aided by the republican party, or by republican men. Moreover, of the 31 states which have passed the federal suffrage amendment 26 are republican; the state where special session has been called for February 16 is republican; and the only states so far which have refused to ratify have been democratic.

The republican party has been consistently forward-looking; it has been the party of vision, but not visionary; constructive yet conservative; progressive but practical; its aim the good of the country, not of a section.

American Legion Auxiliary.

Muskege (Okla.) women have organized what they claim is the first woman's auxiliary to the American Legion. Twenty mothers, wives, sisters and daughter of former service men comprise the charter roll of the organization.

Women's Industry Bureau.

A joint committee of the senate and house held a hearing on March 3 on the matter of establishing a permanent women in industry bureau. Women's organizations are much interested in the establishment of this bureau and many republican legislators favor it.

Rag Doll Supreme

The old rag doll still retains its supreme seat in the realm of child fancy, despite the invasion of airplanes that fly, bisque dolls that walk, talk and roll their eyes; wireless sets that wire and automobiles that auto, according to Homer Stephens, president of the American Toy Exhibitors, Inc., under whose auspices 600 American toy manufacturers are exhibiting their wares here.

"Although we have every form of toy imaginable which can and does please the heart of the child, there is nothing like the old rag doll," Mr. Stephens said. "There were more rag dolls manufactured and sold last year than ever before, and I understand the demand has increased this year.

"All toy manufacturers have inventors who turn out new articles every year. This year's innovation is the popular priced toy phonograph, which plays any record and costs but a few dollars. Toys this year have been made especially to promote what might be called 'juvenile engineering.'

"They are built for the purpose of insulating the constructive spirit in the child, and we have found a market for those things even among the grown-ups.

"But the American child still demands his 'rag doll.'"

To Protect Women's Citizenship.

It is high time to get away from the old idea that the wife is the chattel of the husband, Representative Rogers, republican of Massachusetts, told the house immigration committee, in urging enactment of a law under which American women, marrying aliens and remaining in this country, would retain their citizenship after adoption of the suffrage amendment.

Mr. Rogers declared his measure did not protect wealthy "American title hunters," adding that he was not interested in extending the right of citizenship "to women who think so little of it that they go abroad to live."

In pointing out that his measure would not give the right of citizenship to an alien woman marrying an American, Mr. Rogers said this was done so that to be naturalized "a woman would have to go through the same machinery with the man."

Mrs. Maude Wood Park, president of the National League of Women Voters, endorsed the Rogers bill.

Y. W. C. A.

The C. A. A. C. held its regular monthly meeting Wednesday evening at the Y. W. C. A. Following the dinner Mrs. Carrie A. Campbell talked to the girls. The question of sending a delegate to the convention in Cleveland was discussed. The club voted to send their president, Miss Jean Berger, to Cleveland on April 13 as a representative of the physical department from the Omaha Y. W. C. A.

Miss Stowell talked to the club of her plans for health week, which is to be held from March 23 until April 3. Dr. Abby Virginia Holmes, who has for some time been traveling throughout the country for the national board of the Y. W. C. A., giving her course of lectures on social education, has been secured. On Sunday, March 28, the physical department will have charge of the services, at which time Dr. Holmes will talk and close with an outline of her lectures to be given during the week.

On Tuesday evening, March 9, the Tuesday and Friday morning class of married women entertained their husbands at a "Gym" party. All lined up in the gym and about 60 people took part in a sample class lesson, marching, setting-up exercises and relay races being in order. The feature of the evening was a match volley ball game between the women and their husbands. The husbands won the match and the ladies treated the group to homemade goodies.

Prominent attorneys are addressing these classes, and the open forum following the lecture proves most interesting. The Foch club is the presiding club tomorrow evening, Mr. Alfred C. Munger will conduct the class, taking up lessons five and six. "Counts and Elections" in Mrs. Wheeler's "Handbook for Nebraska Citizens." The clubs cordially invite anyone interested in these programs.

Read Her Letter

Dear Dr. Crook:— I have been wearing the new plates you made for me about ten days now, and I feel I ought to tell you how comfortable and satisfactory they are. My friends tell me I look fifteen years younger.

I don't mind telling you now that it took me over a week to make up my mind to come to you and have my teeth out, as I have always suffered agonies in a dentist's chair. It was my sister, Mrs. E. C. who made me come after she had her work done by you. Doctor, I can truthfully say that you extracted my teeth without the slightest pain whatever. My only regret is that I did not come to you five years sooner and saved myself five years of trouble.

MRS. E. C.

What Story Does Your Mirror Tell?

One of Refinement and Care, or One of Indifference and Neglect?

By Madame Mares

Here Is Another Face Cream

NATURAL beauty, if neglected, will quickly fade—while the woman who is careful of her complexion, hair and other attributes to attractiveness will outdistance her indifferent sister. And at the age of 30 to 35 beauty is with the one who best cared for herself.

There is an old and true saying: "Be fair to your face and your face will be fair."

But in your selection of toilet requirements, it is, by no means, necessary to be extravagant or to think that cut-glass bottles always contain the most desirable preparations.

There are a number of very simple and easy to use beautifiers that it is even best to make at home with your own hands. Here are a few of them—and you are welcome to use them. Every one has been tested, time and again and you may depend upon them absolutely.

For a Vanishing Cream

Get from your druggist two ounces of etol and mix with one tablespoonful of glycerine in half a pint of water. The rich cream which is the result makes the skin plump and vigorous, almost baby-like, and causes even deep wrinkles to disappear in quick time. This is because the pores are made smaller and the texture of the skin highly refined, and as a result hundreds of wrinkles are bound to leave. Your friends will wonder at the change in your appearance. The etol sells for about fifty cents and you probably already have enough glycerine.

A Hair Remover Used Like a Skin Lotion

You'll see how wonderfully easy it is to get rid of any superfluous hairs by simply moistening them with sulfo solution. It is almost magic. The hairs just dissolve away, and the skin is left smooth and white—no red or irritated spot to tell that you used anything to remove the hairs.

This comes usually in original bottles selling for a dollar, and it is not advisable to use a cheap depilatory.

Ever Hear of Dissolving Blackheads?

You will never get rid of blackheads by pinching them, or by face-sweating. Here is a remarkable method, instantly successful. Sprinkle some peroxin on a wet cloth. Then rub the blackheads with this for a few moments. You will find that they will all vanish very quickly. Peroxin is the only thing that will do this. Any druggist can supply you with the peroxin for fifty cents.

And Here Is Your Shampoo

Pitmy secretions which form on the scalp, and dandruff scales, are all removed in remarkable fashion by eggol. Dissolve a teaspoonful of this in half a cup of water. This gives a glorious latherly shampoo and leaves the hair silky. For twenty-five cents you can get enough eggol for a dozen head-washes. Soaps contain oil-consuming alkali which should be avoided.
