M'KELVIE RAPS HIS OPPONENTS IN STATEMENT

Defends Civil Code Bill as Party Pledge Before Starting on Campaign.

Lincoln, March 22.—(Special.)—Governor McKelvie started Monday on a campaign favoring the civil code bill and his own candidacy for the republican nomination for governor. Before leaving he issued the following statement:

"It is interesting, albeit amusing, to note the activity on the part of certain ones who are seeking to consolidate the opposition to my re-nomination. This is being done under the guise of a desire for party success. Evidently these party well-wishers would measure the success of the republican party by men and not principles, for it must be admitted that under the present administration every party platform pledge has been redeemed. I think it is evident to the most superficial student of politics that the reputation of an administration that has thus kept faith with the people would be the very thing that the opponents of the party would want in the final election.

Code Big Issue.

"The issue in the forthcoming campaign is clearly drawn and cannot be altered. It is simply a question of whether Nebraska is to have a business administration, the backbone of which is the civil administrative code (a republican party platform pledge), or whether for purposes of furthering personal animosities this whole program is to be thrown into the scrap heap and the state returned to machine control.

50-50 Split Demanded By O'Neill Women in Election

Suffrage Wave Spreads to Western Nebraska City And Pioneer Women Park Baby Buggies and Autos in Street While Nominating Ticket.

O'Neill, Neb., March 22.—(Special.)—The masculine population of O'Neill is scared. It is not only scared, it is disturbed, alarmed, shocked, and in a state of confusion. The women of O'Neill have demanded a 50-50 representation on the municipal tickets at the April election. They are going to have half of the offices or they are going to take them all, so what is a fellow to do? Insurance statistics say that there are more women than men.

The men believe it after a mass meeting of the women, held in O'Neill's largest auditorium. How the deuce do women pull off a monster mass meeting that way without it being tipped off to the enemy in advance? That's what the men would like to know. Three men can't get together for a little private political confab without the scouts of the opposition knowing of it hours in advance.

Surprise to Men.

The first time the men of O'Neill knew of Saturday's contemplated meeting was Saturday noon, when they were told to hurry up and get through eating, as there was to be a meeting up town. Just like that. No explanations.

their mothers. One masculine member of the present city administration advised his wife not to attend the meeting. She was there and his mother was nominated to a place on the city council. He will not be renominated now.

Girls Keep Secret.

Saturday's mass meeting of the women was a clean town and that teachers in the public schools be paid a living wage. They decided that the best way to secure these things was to elect a woman member of the city council from each of the three wards, secure representation on the school board and to either select or endorse a candidate meeting their requirements for mayor. They carried out a portion of their program by nominating Mrs. W. T. Evans, Mrs. David Standard and Mrs. Arthur J. Hammond for the city council.

Want Clean Town.

The women of O'Neill have a definite idea of what they want in city affairs. A very definite idea. They want a clean town and that teachers in the public schools be paid a living wage. They decided that the best way to secure these things was to elect a woman member of the city council from each of the three wards, secure representation on the school board and to either select or endorse a candidate meeting their requirements for mayor. They carried out a portion of their program by nominating Mrs. W. T. Evans, Mrs. David Standard and Mrs. Arthur J. Hammond for the city council.

ADVERTISING. ACID IN STOMACH SOURS THE FOOD

Says Excess of Hydrochloric Acid is Cause of Indigestion.

A well-known authority states that stomach trouble and indigestion are nearly always due to acidity of stomach—and not, as folks believe, from a lack of digestive juices. He states that an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach retards digestion and starts food fermentation, then our meals sour like garbage in a can, forming acid fluids and gases which irritate the stomach like a toy balloon. We then get that heavy, lumpy feeling in the chest, we eructate sour food, belch gas, or have heartburn, flatulence, waterbrash, or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead, get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast while it is effervescent, and furthermore, to continue this for one week. While relief follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salt is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble with excellent results.

Important to all Women Readers of This Paper.

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder trouble and never suspect it. Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease. If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased. You may suffer pain in the back, headache, and a feeling of ambition. Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and may be despondent; it makes any one so. But hundreds of women claim that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, by restoring health to the kidneys, proved to be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions. Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine will do for them. By enclosing ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., you may receive sample size bottle by Parcel Post. You can purchase medium and large size bottles at all drug stores.
