Famous Physicians Failed.

Mr. Hickson was found and the happy grandmother was given an opportunity to express her appre-ciation of his ministering. The little boy was paralyzed and eastern physicians predicted that he would live nly a short time, according to Mrs. Manassa. He had not only been taken to the most famous American physicians, but had been taken to Europe to consult specialists there, she said.

A number of other calls from paients who were treated by Hickson were received by Mr. Hick-son during the few hours which he remained in Council Bluffs yesterday afternoon, many of them indicating that cures or at least partial cures had resulted from his ministerigs. He said:

"I am overjoyed at the result of my mission here," said Mr. Hickson as he boarded his train for Kansas "Of course, the mission was somewhat small here, but I believe there was a great need for me, and I am glad that I came."

Mr. Hickson was escorted to the rain by Rev. W. E. Mann, pastor of St. Pauls Episcopal church in Confiil Bluffs, where the mission was eld during the past two days. No demonstration marked his de-parture. His next mission will be at Topeka, Kan. From there he will go to Kansas City, Mo.; to St.

Louis, and then to Chicago, he said.
"Healing is an extension of incarnation," said Hickson in his short services. "The moment a man's soul is clean and free from sin his physical, mental and moral sides repond immediately and he gradually becomes healthy and normal. That

Will Pass, in Speech at Illinois Capital.

Springfield, Ill., March 24.-Will-ian J. Bryan in three speeches here Wednesday set forth his views on popular government, particularly on the initiative and referendum, which is one of the principal proposals now before the Illinois constitutional convention. Mr. Bryan spoke before this convention in the mornng, addressed a business men's club hortly after noon and spoke again at a church meeting in the evening.

During the day Mr. Bryan expressed hope that the peace treaty would be disposed of before the opening of the presidential campaign.

"Senator Owen," said Mr. Bryan n speaking of the treaty fight, "has introduced a resolution that would permit a majority of the senate to ratify the treaty. He proposes to make it as easy to end a war as it is to begin one. I hope that this resolution will pass and thus make impossible a situation such as we have had for the last eight months."

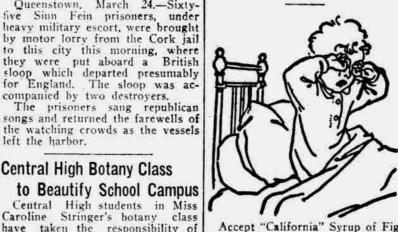

In all of his speeches Mr. Bryan emphasized his belief in popular government and in the initiative and referendum. Speaking to the con-vention, he declared "that the people have a right to have what they want; the people are the source of power and there is no other source to be trusted."
