Makes Plans for Summer

Mrs. T. F. Quinlan

Mrs. T. F. Quinlan spent the summer two years ago at Long Beach, Cal. The golden sands and lapping waves of the seashore are luring her back. With her three sons, Gerald, John and Tom, jr., she will leave June 1 for a sojourn in that great out-of-doors.

Informal Affair. Mr. and Mrs. Morris Cohan were honorees at an informal affair given at their home Thursday evening. Those present were Misses Betty, Evelyn and Eva Cohan, and Messrs. and Mesdames Max, M. Jack, Joe and D. Cohan, H. Rimmerman, H. Krasne and I. Klein.

Benefit Lecture. The illustrated lecture on Rome and the Temples of God which will be given Easter Sunday night at Creighton auditorium by the Catholic Women's Research club, will be first shown Easter Sunday afternoon at 2:30 for sisters of the different communities. The proceeds of the evening lecture will start a library fund for the new Mercy home at Nineteenth and Davenport streets, where the Sisters of Mercy have taken up the work of providing homes for working girls coming to Omaha.

Miss Winifred Lathrop arrived Saturday from Rockford college, Illinois, to spend the spring vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lathrop. Miss Lucile Lathrop will not return, as the University of Colorado, which she attends, will not have a vacation period.

Misses Elizabeth and Meliora Davis have returned from New York City, where they stopped on their return from Sea Breeze, Fla.

Arthur Crittenden Smith, jr. returns Monday to St. Marks school, after spending his vacation with his parents.

Vesper Service. Sunday, March 28, opens health week at the Y. W. C. A. with a talk by Dr. Abbie Virginia Holmes during vesper service, from 5 to 6 p. m. The vesper service is in charge of the gymnasium department and a social hour will follow with a program of special music.

Health Week. The other lectures by Dr. Holmes will take place on Monday at 7:30 p. m., Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. and Thursday at 7:30 p. m. in the auditorium of the Y. W. C. A. The general topic of the series is "The Business of Being a Woman." These lectures are open to all girls and women of Omaha, and a most cordial invitation is extended to all to take advantage of this opportunity of hearing Dr. Holmes, who has been lecturing for the past two years before students in the colleges, universities and normal schools.

A special course of lectures have been arranged for girls of the high school age on Monday and Tuesday afternoons at 3:30 and a third lecture, the time for which will be announced later.

On each day of health week a free clinic will be held from 11 a. m. to 2 p. m., at which time special advice will be given on feet and posture. We hope that many will avail themselves of this opportunity.

Col. Edwin A. Havers of New York City, who for years has been lecturing on the Chautauqua platform on historical subjects, is now devoting his time to industry. On Thursday evening, April 1, at 8:30 p. m., he will give an illustrated lecture in the Y. W. C. A. auditorium on "The Evolution of the Pen." Beginning with the stone age, the ancient writers on stone, he carries you through the history and romance of the days of Abraham up to the present day. He comes to Omaha very highly recommended. The mayor of New Haven, Conn., says: "The story told by Colonel Haver is a story that shows the civilization of the world in a manner that thrilled the listeners."

This lecture is free and will be given following the health lecture by Dr. Abbie Virginia Holmes and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Day Nursery Is Orderly Home

Mrs. William Archibald Smith, chairman of the Day Nursery, is expected home today from a three weeks' stay in Excelsior Springs. During Mrs. Smith's absence, Mrs. George A. Joslyn has had complete charge of the Day Nursery. Under her efficient management the nursery is running with the smoothness and regularity of the well-ordered home. Despite many other duties Mrs. Joslyn has been at the nursery each day from 8:30 in the morning until 5 or later in the afternoon except on Fridays when Mrs. Baldrige has been in charge.

The children in the nursery range from 4 months to 5 years. Mrs. Katherine Glenn, the head nurse, has demonstrated the ease with which all of the children, although representing different homes, may be induced to take their afternoon naps at the same hour.

Before children may be admitted to the nursery they must be registered by the parent or guardian. Assisting Mrs. Joslyn in caring for the children and in sewing are Mesdames W. S. Robertson, J. C. McKinnan, Roy Page, C. L. Blisard, Ed Agee, H. H. Baldrige and group, E. A. Pegau, George Ashton, Stevenson, Robert Garrett, Hal Fritchett, Osborne, Milton Peterson, Jack Webster, Misses Marion Welker, Helen Pierce, Nan Murphy, Elsa Storz, Gertrude Stout, Virginia Ofutt and Elizabeth Bruce.
