OMAHA WOMEN COMPLETE LONG TRIP IN ALASKA

Mrs. Ruth Wilson First One of Her Sex to Visit Mt. McKinley National Park.

Seattle, March 27.—(Special Telegram)—The record of being the first white woman to visit the Mount McKinley National park in Alaska, with miles and miles of mushing and a caribou and other big game scalps to her credit, and best of all, she says, with her health entirely restored after a year in the wilds of Alaska, Mrs. Ruth Wilson, pretty young Omaha widow, arrived in Seattle Friday on the steamer Alaska and is to spend a week here before returning to her home in Nebraska.

Mrs. Wilson is the wife of the late Frank H. Wilson of Omaha, former vice chief of the Nebraska Telephone company who was killed at Fremont, Neb., in 1918, and a sister-in-law of L. B. Wilson, general superintendent of the Nebraska Telephone company. She was formerly Miss Ruth Campbell of Council Bluffs.

After being selected for overseas work in the war and having the armistice put an end to those activities Mrs. Wilson suffered a nervous breakdown and set out on a 3,000-mile journey to visit her brother, William Campbell, mining man at Fairbanks, Alaska.

From the time she arrived at Fairbanks until she returned to Seattle, Friday, Mrs. Wilson's experiences have kept her at the highest pitch of enthusiasm over the wonders of Alaska. From Cordova she made the trip to Fairbanks and Chitina over the Copper River railroad, took the long haul 300 miles by stage coach across the Alaska coast ranges. Starting in April, 1919, she was on the move by train, automobile, dog sled, steamboat and afoot for nearly a year, spending most of the time on the Kantishna river, tributary of the Tanana river, by which she penetrated into the deserted wilds of the interior.

Starting September 1, she was on the first steamer to make the trip up the Kantishna to the deserted mining camp, Roosevelt City, since the gold strike was made there in 1906. The steamer carried two barges loaded with supplies for the day's trip and for Mrs. Jee Q. Quigley, the only people left at Roosevelt City. It was the first supplies they had received, except by pack, in more than 12 years.

A hunting trip into the Bear creek country which netted nine moose, five black bear and two glazier was the first experience with the Quigleys and then a trip was undertaken to the Mount McKinley National Park and Wonder Lake that entailed a 10 day boat trip up the Tanana river into the Kantishna country and Big Moose creek canyon, believed by scientists to be the old bed of the McKinley river. Days of hiking followed, with good hunting all the way. Mrs. Wilson had her first shot at big game and brought down a caribou with her first shot. Mountain goats and bear were later added to her trophies. On one hunt nine fine fawns were killed and Mrs. Wilson gave permission to bring a couple of heads out.

WOMEN ORGANIZE TO BACK HITCHCOCK FOR PRESIDENT

Mrs. Newbranch Named Head of New Club—Plan Active Campaign.

A "Hitchcock - for - President Women's club" was organized Saturday afternoon at a meeting held at the Fontenelle at which 50 women were present. Mrs. Harvey Newbranch was named president of this club, Mrs. W. E. Bolin, secretary, and Mrs. Frank L. Ellick, treasurer. The following women, who were present and pledged active support to Senator Hitchcock's candidacy, were named on the executive committee: Mesdames S. Nathan, T. Konecky, Frank Kutak, James C. Dahlman, Frank Selby, Albert Sibbensen, Henry Doorly, Richard Horton, Herbert Daniel, Mary Hopkins Jolly, C. H. Creighton, W. A. C. Johnson, J. M. Daugherty, George Parks and Miss Sofia Rauber.

This club plans an active campaign in behalf of Senator Hitchcock. Meetings will be held and literature circulated.

J. H. Mithen, president of the men's Hitchcock club, called the meeting to order, and Arthur Mullen, Nebraska member of the national democratic committee, urged the women to support Senator Hitchcock as "the highest type of citizen, whose personal and political life has been an open book, and who is recognized as the dominant figure in democratic politics today."

Fernando headquarters for the club have been opened on the mezzanine floor of the Fontenelle.

COUNCIL BLUFFS WOMAN IS FOUND IN LAKE MANAWA

Body Discovered by Boys Identified as That of Miss Matilda Wiesehann.

The body of Miss Matilda Wiesehann, 62 years old, of Council Bluffs, was found in a foot and a half deep lake in Lake Manawa yesterday morning by five boys, Merle Dawson, D. O'Hanlon, Glenn Goss, Marvin Hooper and Robert Harper, who went to the lake early in the forenoon for a Saturday outing.

The boys noticed a cape lying by the old hydroplane wharf and looking over the edge of the breakwater the partly submerged body of the Coroner Cutler was notified and took charge of the body. The woman apparently had fell into the water early the previous evening.

The discarded cape is the only indication of suicide, although it is known that Miss Wiesehann had been very dependent since the death of her brother, William Wiesehann, last November. Both were unmarried and had been living together for several years. The death of the brother broke up the home and the women had been living part of the time with Chris Petersen. Thursday afternoon she left the Petersen home in a known car, Mr. E. Smith, a known local resident, was wandering about the lake front. The purse found in her pocket contained only 50 cents. So far as known now she has no relatives in this country.

Creighton Wins Debate With Colorado College

Creighton university debating team last night won the debate with the Colorado State Agricultural college at Lincoln held at Creighton auditorium last night.

In this connection it is significant that H. J. McLaughlin of Hatcher, another of the republican candidates for governor, was in Omaha yesterday morning. He was in conference with prominent republicans, who would not divulge the nature of the business in hand. Mr. McLaughlin is six feet six inches tall and weighs 250 pounds.

Advertising-Selling League To Be Guests of Smith & Co.

Nearly 400 members of the Advertising-Selling league will be guests at a dinner and entertainment in the company's plant. E. R. Gurney, president of the Lion Bonding and Surety Co., will speak on "Merchandising and Wealth." A. C. Smith, Ward Burgess, Guy Kiddoo and other officials of M. E. Smith & Co., will make a short talk. "The Mystery Show," said to be one of the most elaborate amateur minstrel shows ever produced in the city, and several other "stunts" also will be on the program.

$20,000 Gift Given Flanagan Home by Mrs. Ben Gallagher

The Father Flanagan home for orphaned and neglected boys, 4206 South Thirtieth street, was given a deathbed gift of $20,000 by the late Mrs. Ben Gallagher, who died March 11.

According to Father P. A. Flanagan, the money will be used in the fund to build a new home for the boys. Mrs. Gallagher was reputed one of the richest women in the city. She gave large sums of money for charitable work.

Creighton Students Will Give Play Early in May

A play in four acts entitled "The Hidden Gem" by Cardinal Wiseman will be given by the students of the Creighton arts college and high school about the first of May. The students are being coached by Professor Bakewell of the arts faculty and moderator of the oratorical association. The cast will include 20 players, those already chosen are Harold Downing, Thomas J. McGovern, Deibert Lyon, Ralph E. Svoboda and Thomas J. Russell.

When Do We Eat?

"When—Do We Eat?" a poster designed by Arthur Sholes, a fifth grade pupil of the Walnut Hill school, for the annual poster contest of the Nebraska Humane society, tells its own story and will make a strong appeal to all lovers of dogs. This young lad was deeply touched by a little neighborhood dog, whose owner seemed to forget that animals as well as human beings have to eat, and when subjects were chosen for the poster decided to picture this poor little hungry dog.

This is only one of scores of every-day examples from real life which the children have developed into wonderful posters. Every phase of the need of kindness to animals, birds and children has been utilized either by showing real conditions or the opposite. The children have exercised unusual thought and care in developing their ideas and the ability they have shown in design, color and action is marvelous.

Over The Political Fence

The republican gubernatorial situation was made more definite and certain yesterday when E. M. Pollard of Nehawka announced from Lincoln that under no circumstances will he withdraw from the primary race. He stated that he was not responsible for the situation which prompted certain republican candidates to agree on one man to oppose the governor. The only change in the situation since the conference was the withdrawal of John H. Bachelor of Valentine, who was the last to get into the field. Mr. Pollard's determination to remain in the primary race upsets the predictions of several republican politicians, who stated yesterday that before next Tuesday the field would be limited to Governor McKelvie and another man.

When J. Dean Ringer, Omaha police commissioner, appeared blindfolded and garbed as a desert slave, heading a long line of novices at the Shrine ceremonial in the auditorium Friday afternoon, a mighty roar arose from the throats of 1,500 bloodthirsty Shriners.

Of the 450 candidates making the journey, J. Dean hopped the highest as he labored over the burning sands. He passed every test known to the ancient order, and came out smiling.

At the last oasis in the desert at which the caravan stopped, J. Dean was so anxious to ease his parched throat with the cooling and refreshing waters, that he thoughtlessly "got out on a limb." That ended it all, J. Dean was through.

Four Held in Connection With Attempt to Sell Whisky

Harry Morgan and John Gilbert, living at the Conant hotel, and Elmer Olsberg and Clarence Miller, giving their address as the Paxton hotel, were arrested last night in connection with an attempt to sell 300 gallons of whisky at $45 a gallon.

Police were tipped off to the scheme, by L. J. Ward, 1539 North Sixteenth street, to whom the liquor was offered.

The total amount asked for the 300 gallons was $13,500, the money to be turned over when the whisky was delivered. According to Ward the men claimed the whisky as three-year-old stuff, and said they had it hidden near the city. They were held for investigation, and will be tried in police court tomorrow morning.

Son of Judge Lee Estelle Enlists in Signal Corps

Arthur M. Estelle, 20-year-old son of District Judge Lee S. Estelle, enlisted in the United States army recruiting station here, and left last night for San Antonio, Tex., for assignment at one of the radio stations of the military intelligence division, where he will take a course in radio operating and engineering.

He previously served one year with the signal corps during the world war. He is a grand nephew of Maj.-Gen. Arthur Murray, former chief of artillery in the United States army, and his father is a civil war veteran.

AWARD PRIZES IN AUDUBON SOCIETY NATURE CONTEST

Katherine Baxter Wins First Place—Boy Scouts to Take Bird Census.

Prizes for the winners in the Audubon society's nature question contest were awarded Saturday evening at the public library by Dr. S. R. Towne of the Audubon society. The lucky ones were: Katherine Baxter, first prize (a pair of hiking boots); Ethelton Brown, second prize (kokak); David Waterman, third prize (pair of field glasses); Barton Quigley, fourth prize (Chapman's "Bird Life").

Those receiving bird and flower guides as prizes were: Genevieve Johnson, fifth prize; Mary Sears, sixth; Esther Nystrom, seventh; Wilbur Bridges, eighth; Elnora Baxter, ninth; Mike Drakulich, tenth. The society turned over to the local Boy Scout organization the work of taking a bird census of the Fontenelle bird reserve. Charles F. Perkins, the Boy Scout bird expert, submitted plans for the census. The bird reserve is to be blocked off into tracts and a Boy Scout who is good on birds will be captain of a group of scouts who will take a census of birds and nests. On a tree where a nest is found the scout will put the name of the bird and other data on a small tag.

Humane Officer Bradley reported that posters by the school children are coming in rapidly. Some posters will be used to advertise the lecture of William L. Findley, who will speak at the Masonic temple next Thursday evening.

Dr. S. R. Towne told Mr. Findley's wonderful motion pictures of bird and animal life. Birds on the nest and birds dancing are shown by Mr. Findley, says Dr. Towne.

Charles Perkins gave a talk on birds, illustrating it by free-hand cartoons showing the characteristics of the water birds and borers.

South Side Morris Company to Distribute Profits Every Three Months

A change in the method of distributing profits of Morris & Co. to employees has been made, according to J. H. Kenna, manager of the local plant.

The directors of the company state that they realize a little extra money is needed occasionally during these unusual times and they have decided to pay members of the profit sharing plan every three months instead of waiting until the end of the year, as was first planned.

The first guarantee will be paid April 15, for the first three months and the final settlement, adjusting the 5 per cent to be set aside each year out of the earnings of the company, will be made next January.

Last January the company distributed throughout the country $250,000 and it is announced that since then the membership of the profit-sharing plan has greatly increased.

Night School Will Hold Commencement Thursday

The night school of the South High will have its commencement exercises Thursday evening, when Dean Ringer will deliver an address and Superintendent of Schools J. H. Beveridge will present the diplomas.

Thursday evening the following program was given by the school: Address by Principal Marrs, musical number by Miss Marie Novak; guitar solo by Mrs. Chase; playlet, "Harmony Junction," with following cast: Station agent, John Maddox; stranger, Roland Kroll; porter, Harold Hancock; tramp, Charles Moore; and Miss Pearl Pearson will officiate at the piano.

South Side Brevities

New phonograph and records, South 17th. For Sale—Fumed oak buffet, 2518 A St.

Chicago, March 23. Greetings to the patrons of the Flynn Store. We have good news to tell you. The young ladies, especially of South Omaha, will benefit. Just the most beautiful lines of suits, spring coats and silk dresses you could wish to see, and you will be asking like many have done, "What for the products of this buying, evidence of our origin?"

We wish to notify the public that our men's suits have been used without our knowledge and without our consent in connection with the Bryan campaign committee. —Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Kocourek.

Pedestrian Robbed of $20 By Pair of Negro Holdups

Harvey Peterson, 2866 Corby street, was held up and robbed of $20 in cash at Thirtieth and Lake streets last night by two negroes at 9:30.

Peterson was on his way home, when suddenly confronted by the two men who were carrying revolvers. "They took all I had," exclaimed Peterson, ruefully examining his pockets. "Clean sweep, I'll say."

Both negroes ran north along Lake street after the robbery, telling Peterson to remain where he was.

Presents 120 Volumes To Creighton Library

Dr. Hermann von Schulte, professor of anatomy in the Creighton Medical college, has presented the arts library with 120 volumes on history, science, literature and art.

Davis Goes Abroad

John A. Davis, who has been serving as a professor of physical training at the Stevens Institute of Technology, sailed for Europe a few days ago to train Poland's athletes for the Olympic games. While abroad he will also help in the training of Rumania's Olympic candidates and will accompany the Rumanian team to Antwerp next summer.

For PLAYERS OF WHIST DR. A. R. METCALFE

LOCKING one's partner is one of the most aggravating plays that can occur. But when the declarer blocks a suit for himself the play becomes ludicrous. A nice example is shown in the deal which follows.

THE DECLARER ROLLED UP EARLY THROUGH THE FIRST NINE TRICKS, BUT WATCHED THE DISCARDS CAREFULLY. HE KNEW THAT NORTH HELD THE ACE OF HEARTS AND THREE SPACES WITH QUEEN AT THE TOP. THIS KNOWLEDGE SHOULD HAVE MADE A SMALL CLAIM EASY, BUT THE DECLARER TOOK A TRICK BY FALLING TO PICK UP THE ACE OF SPADES BEFORE THROWING NORTH IN WITH A HEART.

Thus, although he compelled north to lead away from the queen of spades, he was unable to capture that card.

The declarer was not only obliged to force the bonus for a small slam but was also compelled to forego the course of his opponents.

Cause for Worry

An innocent vaulting pole nearly caused the Illinois university track team to miss the westbound Overland Limited train at the Union station Saturday morning.

The team of 18 men, in charge of Head Coach W. H. Moore, is on its way from Champaign, Ill., to the University of California at Berkeley, Cal., where it is to train for the Olympic games in Europe. It arrived in Omaha on a Burlington train, in a special car, and changed to the Limited for St. Paul.

The vaulting pole, which is 20 feet long, was removed from the baggage car of the Burlington train. No place could be found for it on the new train. The special car was too short. Baggage cars were all locked. Members of the team asked that they would never go on without the pole. Coach Moore was frantic.
