

TEL JED SOKOL ATHLETIC MEET STAGED SUNDAY

Nearly 200 Persons Participate in First Gymnastic Tournament and Exhibition Since 1914.

Thel Jed Sokol hall, 2220 South Thirteenth street, was the scene of gymnastic competition for the first time since 1914 when nearly 200 men, women and children participated in an exhibition yesterday afternoon.

Competing in the gymnastic numbers were men from the Tel Jed Sokol of Omaha and representatives from the South Side and Dodge, Neb., turning societies. Women representatives of the same organization, and children, offered calisthenic and dancing exhibitions as part of the program.

O. Chavard of Omaha spoke during the meeting on the advantages of gymnasium work. He explained the physical development and mental alertness that result from systematic training, and the good health that must follow.

Members of the Tel Jed Sokol are already in training for the state tournament to be held at Crete, Neb., in August. Strong teams are to be sent from the local society and members are confident that their representatives will carry off first honors.

Amateur Players Seek Positions With Teams In Omaha Association

There will be no shortage of amateur base ball players in Omaha this season.

Scores of applications have been received by the Bee Clearing House during the last week from local stars, ex-servicemen, former stars and youngsters who are anxious to make their first appearance.

These players are ready to sign up with members of the Omaha Amateur Base Ball Association, and are manager in need of players should get in touch with the Clearing House at the earliest possible time.

Although the Greater Omaha, class A, Inter-city, class B, Saturday church league, will not be in the field this season, four other leagues, the Banker, Boy Scout, American Legion and Industrial league will appear on the diamonds and with the City, American, Booster, Gate City and Commercial leagues already set for the opening, the fans will witness many snappy games the coming season.

The Bankers' league, with four teams already entered, will meet Wednesday night for final organization, while the Boy Scout, American Legion and the Industrial leagues will also get under way this week.

Managers are lining up their teams and will start the season on Sunday, April 18, providing the weather conditions permit. The Banker, American Legion and Gate City leagues will meet tonight at the city hall to make final plans and adopt the 1920 playing schedules.

The Cudaby Paritans have reorganized with a fast semipro team, and are arranging a schedule of games. Those elected to a meeting last week are as follows: W. T. Allen, president; J. T. McDonald, secretary and treasurer; John Mogeson, manager, and Emil Swanson, captain. Among players signed are: Potach, Lane, Badura, Wachtler, Norgard, Bezdritze, Trummel, Swanson, McAndrews, Wolf, Krug, Christenson, Alter and McIntyre, the fans can expect to see some snappy games.

Maxine Dempsey May Not Testify Against Her Former Husband

Washington, April 4.—Maxine Dempsey, divorced wife of Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight boxing champion, probably will not testify against the champion when his trial comes up in San Francisco in two weeks on charges of evading the draft law.

If the champion waives the right of excluding her, which is a privilege accorded to the defendant under the federal court procedure, she may be called to the stand, but otherwise she will not figure in the trial of the champion.

This was discussed here Saturday by Miss Annette Adams, United States district attorney for the northern district of California, who left tonight for San Francisco, after consulting the Department of Justice regarding Dempsey's prosecution scheduled to begin April 17.

There are two counts in the indictment against Dempsey, the first charging conspiracy with intention to evade the federal selective law. The second count charges him with the violation of the law itself.

Jack Kearns, his manager, will be tried on a conspiracy charge, but it was in no way personally involved in the charge of actually evading the law.

The price paid by the Kansas man was $1,500. The filly was wintered by Roy Owens, now quartered at the Ak-Sar-Ben track, and was considered one of the most promising youngsters in his string.

TRACK TALKS By Coach Henry F. Schulte University of Nebraska

The initial position. Two positions acceptable: the side stand and the facing stand.

In the side stand: 1. Stand facing at right angles to the direction you wish to put.

2. Carry the weight on the rear leg.

3. The forward leg should swing up forward full lever in order to aid in hitching the body across the circle.

4. The first hop should place the rear foot short of the middle of the circle.

5. Alight on both feet. The body crouched slightly. Rear leg bent. Off arm fully extended.

6. Reverse (Don't forget the shoulder hitch and the off arm lever).

7. From start to finish the body must not "hang" or hesitate one instant. The speed of action must be progressive. Most of the success of the effort lies in the continuous increase of the speed of the motion across the circle.

Most young shot putters check or hang in the middle of the circle. Remedy this by carrying the body well ahead of the rear leg as you make your first hop.

Facing stand.

1. Take your stand facing directly in line with your putting point.

2. Rear foot paralleling the edge of the circle.

3. Kick your free leg straight forward several times. When you are well poised start your first hop as your leg goes forward and up.

4. Twist at your hips and alight as in the side stand. (The rest of the action to the finish is the same as in the side stand).

The advantage of this form is the fact that the putter alights from his first motion with the putting shoulder hitched well back.

General points to watch: 1. Stop a bit short of the center on your first gliding hop.

2. Keep the weight forward to avoid a hang.

3. Develop a good shoulder hitch.

4. Use the off arm as additional leverage for the put.

5. Have as many fingers as possible behind the shot. (Use all of your fingers and thumb behind the shot. That gave him a fine wrist snap at the finish).

6. Carry the shot against the side of the jaw and neck until the last instant.

7. The putting shoulder should be lower than the off shoulder for four-fifths of the putting action.

OMAHANS FAIL TO WIN PLACES AMONG LEADERS

Bowen Furniture Co. Team High Among Omaha Bowlers in A. B. C., But Fail To Land in Money.

Peoria, Ill. April 4.—(Special Telegram)—Out of five starters in the five-man event of the A. B. C. here Saturday night, Omaha could not deliver a single winner. None of the teams was able to muster up a total which would insure the return of their entry money.

The Bowen Furniture Co. team with 2,616, was high among the Omaha pin mashers, but as 2,688 is low among the prize winners they will not receive any remuneration for their efforts. The Omaha Boosters dropped 2,358. Beau Brummels 2,545. Chamber of Commerce, 2,453 and the Convention City team 2,554.

In order to land among the prize winners in the two-man and individual events here Sunday, the Omaha bowlers will have to roll counts better than 1,112 in the doubles, 572 in singles and 1,794 in all-events, as these are the low counts marked up among winners today. Ad Jedicka headed the Omaha shooters Saturday night with a 628 total in his three games. He hung up counts of 212, 214 and 202.

Table with columns for Team Name, Total Score, and Individual Scores. Includes teams like Bowen Furniture Co., Omaha Boosters, Chamber of Commerce, etc.

TWO SANDLOT PRODUCTS SURE OF THEIR JOBS

Freyrick and Skups Practically Assured of Berths on Pa Rourke's Base Ball Club.

Two products of Omaha sand lots are practically assured of berths on the Omaha Western league base ball club according to a letter received in Omaha from Pa Rourke Saturday. They are Ed Freyrick and Stanley Skupa, both pitchers.

Freyrick pitched for the Armour's the last of last season. His first introduction to Omaha fans was in 1917 when he played on the base ball team of the local navy recruiting station.

Skupa started last season with the McCaffrey Motors in the City league. Then he jumped to play in Wyoming but finished the season with Ernie Holmes' White Sox.

Freyrick looked particularly good, according to Rourke, and Jack Lelivel, manager of the Rourke's, believes he will make a good Class A hurler.

Skupa is described as a willing youngster with a good assortment of stuff. He is still very green, however.

Walter Nufer, star infielder with the Union Outfitting Co. last year, who is with the Rourke's at Okmaha, gco, probably will be farmed out for experience. Rourke, however, will keep a string attached to Nufer, as the local lad is regarded as a good prospect. Nufer is still less than 20 years old.

Welch and Alverest, outfielders, are not quite ready for Class A company and probably will be farmed out. The same applies to Earl Smith, recruit pitcher.

The infield is airtight, according to Rourke, despite the retirement of Ed Hemmingsway, who was expected to play third base. Wiedell will be the regular third sacker.

He retired Jimmy Austin, according to Rourke. He is the same type of hustler. Sam Maulins is making good at short and with Gislason at short a rare keystone combination will be seen in action at Rourke park this summer.

Rourke is sweet on Patterson, a Cuban pitcher. He not only is a dandy hurler, Rourke writes, but he is a good all and bangup hitter. Joe Wiedell, brother of the third baseman, looks like the goods, according to Rourke, and probably will be held.

C. Lingle and George Hale will easily take care of the backstopper department and all that is needed to make the team about as strong as it is possible for a Class A club to be is a good hitting outfielder and a right-handed pitcher. Pa has Rourke and Rourke declares he will land them before the season starts.

Rourke is particularly happy over the acquisition of Jack Lelivel. He believes Jack will make the best manager Omaha has had in years. Lelivel is hitting great guns in Okmaha and Rourke expects he would not be surprised if the Omaha manager leads the league in hitting. Lelivel will play first base.

Final plans for the opening of the first indoor base ball league at the Young Men's Christian association were completed at a meeting held Saturday afternoon.

The league will open its season on Tuesday night, when Dyer's Old-Timers club will play the Parish Club, starting at 7:45 o'clock. On Thursday night Mahoney's All-Stars meet the Bowen Furnitures.

The league will consist of four teams this season and will play a three-round series. Medals will be given the winners.

Many well-known base ball players among them being Eddie Dyer, Eddie Lawler of the Murphy-Dig-Its, Ernie Adams, Ike Mahoney, George Parish, Spellman and others, have entered.

Dempsey Case Postponed.

San Francisco, Cal., April 4.—The cases of Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion of the world, and his manager, Jack Kearns, indicted by a federal grand jury in connection with Dempsey's alleged evasion of the selective draft were called in the United States district court Saturday and went over for two weeks, at which time, it was announced, the cases would be set for trial. Neither Dempsey nor Kearns appeared in court.

Outlaws Have Hard Sledding.

All those Idaho towns do not seem so keen for outlaw base ball and paying salaries of a thousand a month to jumping ball players. Twin Falls, after efforts to finance such a team, has decided to give it up. The money was not forthcoming from the fans.

George Wingfield to Ship Thoroughbred Harness Horses East

Sacramento, Cal., April 4.—George Wingfield of Reno, Nev., has been in Sacramento several days preparing to ship out his string of thoroughbred horses that have been working at the state fair grounds during the winter. Walter Heath, Wingfield's trainer, has had 30 horses under his care.

The racing string will go direct to Havre de Grace, Md., where the season opens April 16, next meeting will be at Pimlico. The horses also are entered in the principal stakes throughout the east.

How Shall the Government Be Reorganized and Set On Its Feet Again As An Efficient Going Concern

By LAWRENCE F. ABBOTT of the Outlook.

For the Federal Government is at present completely disorganized. It is politically bankrupt and is well along on the road towards financial bankruptcy. It has no permanent policy. Its various heads of departments are following conflicting policies. The abrupt and startling dismissal of Secretary Lansing, the resignation of Secretary Lane, the discouraged retirement of important ambassadors like Francis in Russia, Page in Italy, and Fletcher in Mexico, have disclosed the fact that important functionaries of the Government go to bed each night without any intelligent idea of what they are going to do the next day.

Who knows what is to be the final solution of the railway problem, of the merchant marine problem, of the Mexican problem. To be sure we have not come to a full stop, but we are running on momentum only, and we shall come to a disastrous stop if some new, wisely directed impulsive force is not introduced into the machinery of government.

It is of little use to argue about who is to blame for this situation. What is needed is to realize the situation and to set about in a common-sense and efficient fashion to remedy it. If we begin to understand that, to paraphrase President Cleveland's effective abolitionism, we are face to face with a condition of government—not a theory of government—we shall be in a frame of mind that will enable us to deal with the coming Presidential problem intelligently.

WANTED: A BUSINESS MAN. When a great corporation with rich assets, but with a depleted treasury, extravagant expenses, decreasing production, and dissension in the board of directors, faces bankruptcy, what do the stockholders do? They choose a new president who can reorganize the concern, select efficient department heads, cut down expenditures, transform the assets into productive capital, increase the output, and work in harmony with the board. The people of the United States, who are the stockholders of the Government, and who are paying for their holdings in immense assessments of taxes, begin to see this analogy. That is why one hears them talk of a "business man" for President. That is why they are interested in Herbert Hoover and Leonard Wood. These two men are being considered by the stockholders, not by the manipulators.

General Wood's record as an organizer in this country during the war is too recent and too familiar to need description here. He created the Plattburg idea and the training camps for the A. E. F. under his guidance were models of efficiency.

LEST WE FORGET. We Americans are sometimes a forgetful people. I wonder if we are not in danger, under the glamour, on the one hand, and the fear on the other, of militarism—I wonder if we are not in danger of forgetting that General Wood's great services to his country were really in the domain of civil government. Three of the best judges of modern government have not forgotten it. And they are all three civilians.

WHAT ELIHU ROOT SAID. From December, 1899, until General Wood came out of Cuba in May, 1902, I kept track of what was done, and studied the subject as carefully as any business man ever studied his own business or any lawyer ever studied a case which he was to try. I went to Cuba three times and I went all around the island and visited the camps and the army posts and the prisons and hospitals and asylums and the schools and public works; I talked with everybody I could get hold of, and got all the information I could get by conversation with soldiers and civilians and Americans and Cubans. I read the reports and I inspected the course of the government in Cuba, and I knew what was going on; and I feel under a debt of the greatest gratitude to General Wood for what I think is one of the most conspicuous and meritorious pieces of work ever done by an American.

Lord Cromer, the greatest colonial administrator that Great Britain has produced, who put modern Egypt on its feet, and whose two volumes on the Egyptian problem are the master work on colonial government in the English or, for that matter, in any other language, is reported by Eric Fisher Wood to have said that "Leonard Wood's work in Cuba was the best colonial work of the century, that he was the only man in government who was completely fitted to carry on the work which Cromer himself had initiated in Egypt, and that he only regretted that Wood was an American and not a British subject."

FAIR PLAY FOR ALL. And, finally, Theodore Roosevelt, who if he were alive and well, would undoubtedly be elected president next November, confirmed in 1917, what he said as follows in 1903: "Leonard Wood four years ago went down to Cuba, has served there ever since, has rendered services to that country of the kind which, if performed 3,000 years ago, would have made him a hero mixed up with the sun god in various ways; a man who devoted his whole life through those four years, who thought of nothing else, did nothing else, save to bring up the standard of political and social life in that island, to teach the people after centuries of misrule that there were such things as governmental righteousness and honesty and fair play for all men on their merits as men."

The testimony of these three witnesses is high praise, indeed. But might it not at least lead us to read the records and ask ourselves: If what we really want is to have our Government reorganized on a plane of efficiency, with competent men appointed who will work ably and harmoniously to give us a fair return for our taxes, do we need to look much farther for a President than Leonard Wood?

Plan to Arouse Fresh Interest in Amateur Base Ball This Year

Detroit, Mich., April 4.—Plans to arouse increased interest in sand lot base ball were discussed at a meeting here recently of the National Base Ball Federation. A campaign will be conducted this season to interest the larger cities in the United States in organized juvenile base ball, and group the cities into regional districts.

One of the aims of the federation is the establishment at Washington of a national department of recreation, which would provide the means for all athletes in the country unable to purchase their own equipment.

New rules reducing the size of balls and bats used by boys under 16 years of age, and providing for seven instead of nine-inning games probably will be adopted by the conference here.
