

WOMEN CANNOT VOTE FOR EVERY STATE OFFICER

Republican Women's Committee Issues List of Constitutional Offices Eligible for Feminine Ballots.

So much confusion has arisen in the ranks of the newly fledged women voters of the state over the definition of the term "constitutional officer" that the republican women's committee has issued a list of those officers and also a list of the officers created by the legislature.

Since the constitution of Nebraska can only be amended by direct vote of the people and the legislature can only give the right of suffrage for such offices as are created by the legislature, the law which has given the right of suffrage to Nebraska women refers only to those offices created by the legislature.

Women, then, may vote for presidential electors, county attorney, county clerk, county assessors, clerk of the district court, registrar of deeds, county treasurer, county sheriff, county superintendent of public instruction, county surveyor, county commissioners, public defenders, city commissioners, members of the Water board, members of the Board of Education, judges of the municipal court and constables. They may not vote for United States senators, congressmen, govern-nor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, auditor of public accounts, state treasurer, state superintendent of public instruction, attorney general, commissioner of public lands and buildings, railway commissioner, regents of the state university, state senators, state representatives, supreme judges, district judges, county judges, police judges and justices of the peace.

CLARK INTIMATES MOREHEAD PLAYS BIPARTISAN GAME

State Democratic Gubernatorial Candidate Frankly States His Position.

Ralph Clark of Stella, candidate for the democratic nomination for governor with the support of the Hitchcock organization, made a frank statement yesterday of the peculiar circumstances surrounding the candidates of himself and former Governor Morehead.

Clark intimates that Morehead was playing a bipartisan game in co-operation with Arthur J. Weaver of Falls City, republican, and changed his mind twice in a few days time. He says:

Some Surprise Expressed.

"Some surprise has been expressed to me by democrats because two candidates for governor, namely, Mr. Morehead and myself, are in the primary contest from Richardson county. This condition is peculiar and calls for an explanation. "While I had cherished the ambition to be governor of my state some day, it was not my intention to be a candidate this year because my Richardson county fellow-citizen, Mr. Morehead, was regarded as a candidate for governor by myself and by many friends of his throughout Nebraska. So long as Mr. Morehead had any intention of being a candidate I was for him and had no thought of entering the race myself.

"For several months Mr. Morehead had been urged by his friends to run and petitions were filed and it was generally understood and believed that he would be a candidate. Suddenly, on the day before the filings for primary nominations closed, Mr. Morehead positively declined in writing to be a candidate. When I learned of this, I immediately filed as a candidate for the democratic nomination for governor.

Further Frank Statement.

"In this connection I deem it but fair to the loyal democrats of Nebraska to make a further statement. Arthur J. Weaver of Falls City, a close personal and business friend of Mr. Morehead, had been talked of as a prominent prospect for the republican nomination for governor. Mr. Weaver's friends proposed the elimination process by which all the republican candidates were asked to decline and leave the field on the republican side to Mr. Weaver and Governor McKelvie. Mr. Morehead declined to be a candidate for governor in the democratic primary on the very day that the press brought the news of Mr. Weaver's probable success in eliminating the other republican candidates, aside from Governor McKelvie. But the other republican candidates finally refused to be eliminated and Mr. Weaver thereupon withdrew his intention to be a candidate for governor in the republican primary. To my surprise, Mr. Morehead changed his mind immediately after Arthur Weaver had withdrawn and made his belated filing as a candidate for the democratic nomination.

"I am now in this fight to the end and ask the support of all fair-minded democrats who love their party and are jealous of its honor."

FROST FAILS TO WHOLLY DESTROY NEBRASKA FRUIT

Blizzard and Freezing Temperature of Saturday and Sunday Hurt Fruit, But Not Irreparably.

Reports of a total loss of the Nebraska fruit and berry products as the result of the blizzard and freezing temperatures which swept over the state Saturday and Sunday were declared "greatly exaggerated" by J. J. Smith, local fruit grower and secretary of the Nebraska Fruit Growers' association. The loss, while heavy, Mr. Smith said, would not be over 50 per cent.

Mr. Smith's estimate of the probable damage done by the storm is based on reports he has received from throughout the state.

These reports indicated that temperatures ranging around 18 to 23 degrees had killed growing buds and

FOUND CARDUI GREAT BENEFIT

South Carolina Lady Suffered Until She Couldn't Stay Up or Go Anywhere. Tells How Cardui Helped Her Get Well.

Batesburg, S. C.—In telling how she found relief from troubles that had caused her much suffering, Mrs. E. E. Oswalt, of this place, says: "Each month I would begin to suffer with my back and head. My limbs would ache and I would chill. I wouldn't be able to stay up, no matter what I wanted to do, or where I wanted to go. My people tried giving me different medicines and teas and tonics, yet I didn't get any better.

"Some one told me of Cardui, and I began to take it. I noticed it helped me. I kept it up. After a few months I didn't have any trouble. For about six months I used it, before

"I found I was all right, and from that day to this have never had any trouble at all. I have taken it since, a bottle or two in the winter, especially when I have been exposed, and would take a cold, for I consider it the best thing a woman can take to tone up the system, keep off nervousness, and increase the appetite. I certainly know it has been of great benefit to me."

If you are weak, nervous, or suffer from womanly troubles, such as Mrs. Oswalt mentions, take Cardui, the Woman's Tonic.

caused heavy damage to practically every growing thing with the exception of strawberries and grapes, which were little injured. The loss was especially heavy in apples, plums, pears and cherries. Raspberries and other small fruits were also hard hit. The pear crop of Nebraska, it was said, was practically wiped out.

The exact extent of the injury caused by the unseasonable weather cannot be determined at this time.
