

Brighten up the Home

Clean and Refurnish Your Home This Week

The entire week of April 12 to 17 is to be cleanup week in Omaha and the following proclamation has been issued by the Mayor of the City:

It is possible this year to be a help in the cleanup campaign. Following is the mayor's proclamation:

To the People of Omaha: I want to appeal to all citizens to make the week commencing April 12 a cleanup week. Let us all clean up our yards and premises and get rid of the winter's accumulation of trash, snow and other material that are injurious to health and destroy the beauty of property. To permit this accumulation of trash to remain when warm weather comes will breed disease and ruin the city streets. Nothing desirable should be stored for the beauty of its homes and from this as well as streets so much from this as will hurt the city and about the city who will have to pay the expense of taking up your trash. Clean up your trash and call the city's attention to your rubbish. The city's trash trucks are so busy that they cannot haul the trash. The license fee for cleaning them is $1.00.

What Is Your Home Asking for Today?

Yes, anybody's house can talk, but only a well-kept house can be heard by the housekeeper. That's why homes are so different. The careless housekeeper gets so used to seeing things that are not right, that finally she can't notice things when they are wrong. But the ambitious housekeeper can't go through her house at any time and not hear it asking for something that will make it more attractive or more comfortable.
