

NAMES NURSE IN SUIT AGAINST DR. W. O. HENRY

Wife of Former Omaha Physician Charges Husband With Infatuation for Another Woman.

Filing suit for divorce from Dr. W. O. Henry, 61 years old, former Lord Lister hospital surgeon here, on ground of desertion, attorney for Mrs. Henry in Los Angeles was instructed by the court to prepare a new complaint naming Hazel Henderson, nurse, said to be employed in Dr. Henry's office there.

Dr. Henry and Mrs. Fanny L. Henry have been married for 38 years. They made their home in Omaha for 20 years and are widely known in the city. During his residence in Omaha Dr. Henry was a partner of his brother, Dr. E. C. Henry, present head of Lord Lister hospital.

Graduated in Omaha. Miss Henderson is a graduate of the Lister hospital. She is 23 years old. Older graduates of the hospital say that the attraction between she and Dr. Henry began during her training at the hospital here.

She is described as exceptionally handsome. Soon after her graduation from the hospital she moved to Los Angeles and became the doctor's office girl, they say.

The reputed love of Miss Henderson for Dr. Henry, despite his age, was brought out by Mrs. Fanny L. Henry in her testimony in a suit for divorce on the grounds of desertion, and made the subject of a powerful court room sermon by Judge J. C. Jackson on the subject of "Why a man late in life should change his wife."

Denies Desertion Decree. When the facts came out that another woman was involved, the judge denied the decree on the grounds of desertion and directed the attorney to file a new complaint, naming Miss Henderson as the co-respondent.

After 38 years of wedded happiness and now in the sunset of life, Mrs. Henry declares, a younger and more beautiful woman has stolen the love of her husband and asked her to give him up.

Miss Henderson wrote Mrs. Henry, confessing her love and broached a divorce suit. In the letter she asked that Dr. Henry be given up to her.

Reads Wife's Reply. Judge Jackson read the wife's reply and declared it a powerful sermon and the exposition of a "sin in the sight of God."

Mrs. Henry persisted that she did not want to go into divorce court, but that finally her feelings were crushed and her outraged dignity demanded retribution.

Dr. Henry, she declared, has asked her to leave so that he could certainly "be off with the old love and on with the new."

In her note to Mrs. Henry, Miss Henderson wrote in part:

Admits Love for Doctor. "I really loved the doctor long before he really knew who I was. It was no plot or premeditated plan that weaned him away from you. It was simply a case of loving him in spite of myself."

Mrs. Henry's letter upon which the sermon of Judge Jackson was based said:

"Our friendship, my sorrow and my forgiveness are small compared to how you stand in the sight of God. One of the commandments says: 'Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's property.' It includes a husband and you have no right to my husband. This is God's law and not mine."

Took Nurse Into Home. She told Miss Henderson that the doctor was 23 years old, and she 19 years old when they were married. They were happy together, sharing their joys, sorrows and disappointments.

Says He Is Willing To Run for President

The world, Nebraska men and women have been held in high esteem and have occupied positions of influence and importance. The graduates of our educational institutions stand among the foremost in science and letters, and our statesmen have ever made themselves felt in the councils of the nation.

"The foundation of progress and prosperity in our state has always been its agricultural interests. The wealth of the state rests upon the intelligent industry and skill of the farming element. Once described as the great American desert, Nebraska has been transformed, through hard work and scientific methods into a veritable garden spot. Although scarcity of help greatly curtailed their efficiency, no class of citizens in the union did more to sustain the allied peoples and their armies during the war than the farmers. They must not in future be surrounded by hampering restrictions, onerous regulations, or adverse market conditions which prevent the fulfillment of this duty toward the millions of people the world over who depend upon them for food supply. It is to the solution of these problems for the people of our state that our minds and energies must be turned.

Nebraska Labor Patriotic. "Labor in Nebraska is especially honorable and the laboring man there is held in high esteem. Through his intelligence he occupies an important place in the community. He is not carried away by vague or idle theories of government and does not follow false or revolutionary leaders. Nebraska labor maintains a sane and patriotic attitude towards our institutions and stands ever ready to defend them. It is for all of us to see that he always receives the consideration due him and his family and that he be not allowed to suffer in competition with cheaper labor in other foreign lands.

"The community spirit in Nebraska is the basis of our prosperity and progress. There the welfare of the whole people means the welfare of the individuals. More than in any other state in the union does this principle bear full fruit. Our pioneer people have not forgotten that it was the integrity and patriotism of the communities of colonial days from which sprang the great principles of government handed down to us by our forefathers. It should be our duty as Nebraskans to further encourage community interest in all that goes to make our people happy and prosperous.

"I am not unmindful of the very cordial remarks that have been made this evening with reference to myself. Speaking of the great office with which you have been kind enough to connect my name, that my whole life has been devoted to the service of our country, and while in no sense seeking it, I feel that no patriotic American could decline to serve in that high position if called upon to do so by his people."

Searches State for Sister He Has Not Seen for Years

Harrold, S. D., April 14.—(Special.)—Jesse Baumgardner of this city is making a statewide search for his sister whom he has not seen since she was 3 years old. In the early 80s Mattie and Lila May Baumgardner, then little girls, left Green county, Wisconsin, in the care of Sam Bechtel who adopted them three years after the death of their parents.

It is believed Bechtel went to the Black Hills, although this fact was never established. In later years Bechtel returned to Wisconsin with the news that one of the girls had died of diphtheria and that the other had married. Baumgardner is searching for the married sister, not knowing her present name.

M'KELVIE MAKES ATTACK ON G. O. P. HEADS IN OMAHA

Governor Charges That Supporters of McMullen Who Unite Against Him Are "Political High-Binders."

Lincoln, Neb., April 14.—(Special.)—Governor McKelvie made a vigorous attack today upon Omaha Republicans who have organized for the support of Adam McMullen of the Howells-Ure-Smith faction of the republican nomination. McMullen's supporters, the governor charges, are political high-binders.

The governor's statement resulted from recent announcement that leaders of both the conservative and the Howells-Ure-Smith factions of Douglas county republicanism had united for McMullen.

"Political high-binders." Specifically included in those whom the governor denounces as a "band of political high-binders" were W. G. Ure and Victor Reynolds of the Smith-Howells-Ure group and Frank Shotwell and J. C. Kinsler of the conservative wing.

The governor's statement follows: "The tie-up of the Omaha bosses alarms me not a bit. It has been my observation that the good people throughout the state who believe in clean government are against anything that that crowd is for. Furthermore, if I can't be governor without yielding to the dictation of that gang I'll gladly return to private life where I can at least retain my self respect. They supported me in the last campaign, but when they found that I insisted upon being governor of Nebraska and not for their little band of political high-binders, they began plotting my defeat, and they have been at it ever since.

Predicts Success Here. "They are working now under the guise of party success, but had I followed their advice in matters of political appointments and policies, the party would have been lying prone upon its back long ago. Instead I addressed my efforts to the making of appointments that are creditable to the party, and the platform pledges have all been redeemed. If this will not secure party success, we ought to be defeated.

"I will have a fine vote in Omaha despite the trickery of that handful of political high-binders. When I speak in Omaha next Saturday evening, I shall pay my further respects to them. Meanwhile, let this suffice."

Martinez and a companion killed the officers when the latter attempted to place them under arrest in a North Platte card room. The companion of Martinez was shot and captured, dying not long afterwards. Martinez made good his escape.

See Hand of Reds In Railroad Strike

Chicago, April 14.—Improved freight traffic conditions were reported today in the central west, with "insurgent" railroad men returning to work at several points, but the industrial situation in Ohio and Michigan reached a crisis as a result of stoppage of fuel supplies and in the far west a dozen passenger trains were reported stalled in southern California.

Both insurgent leaders and officials of the "loyal" brotherhoods predicted the battle of the strikers would be a "finger affair," but brotherhood heads declared the insurgents gradually were losing strength.

Railroads in the Chicago area declared that 50 per cent of the switch engines in the district were operating, largely with the help of more "loyal" brotherhood men from other cities. Railroad officials and newly employed men were aiding in moving freight.

Brighter at Cleveland. Several roads reported additional men at work at Cleveland, with some freight moving, but the situation apparently remained unchanged. Warnings to travelers against attempting long trips east, west or south in view of possibility of the strike extending to passenger service were issued by the railroads.

Serious interference with passenger service was reported by the Santa Fe road in southern California and the situation became increasingly serious. Reports from northern Pacific cities showed continued improvement.

Announcement of a stringent embargo on all perishable fruits at San Bernardino caused alarm among growers of oranges and lemons.

Passengers Are Tied Up. At Los Angeles 175 freight handlers and clerks walked out, increasing the seriousness of the freight tie-up.

Strikers at Hillyard, Wash., near Spokane, met today to vote on ending the walkout, and the insurgents at Everett, Wash., returned to work last night. Return of strikers at Sparks, Nev., opened the Southern Pacific's channel from Sacramento. At Ashland, Ore., a new walkout occurred, but was said to involve only a few men.

Coast Tied Up Tight. A meeting of all strike leaders on the Pacific coast was called for today in San Francisco.

Slight relief from freight congestion was reported at Kansas City, and at St. Louis the situation was pronounced unchanged. Railroad executives predicted that the strike would be settled by the end of the week. A strike of switchmen on all roads at Wichita, Kan., was set for today.

Seventy-five freight conductors and brakemen went out at El Paso, Tex.

Wilson Enjoyed Meet. Rear Admiral Grayson, the president's physician, said the president had enjoyed meeting with his advisers.

"It did him good," declared Dr. Grayson, adding that meeting people was good for Mr. Wilson.

Cabinet officers declared the president had been in excellent humor and had laughed and joked with them. They expect that meetings of the cabinet will be held weekly in the future.

Shortly after convening at noon today the senate at the request of Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, re-appointing leader, went into executive session to consider the nominations.
