

PACKERS MUST HAVE MORE LIVE STOCK, THEY SAY

Superintendents of Omaha Plants Say Their Killing Gangs Are Idle Because of Shortage.

Superintendents of the various packing plants on the South Side are asking for more live stock to keep their plants going and say the need for more live stock is most urgent. According to the Swift & Co. management that firm is killing sheep and cattle and will start killing hogs as soon as the supply equals the demand. Two and three cars a day are sent out loaded with fresh meat and it is reported the company is getting back their refrigerator cars faster than they can send them out. The fresh meat surplus accumulated on account of the strike has been worked off and the management is greatly concerned over the scarcity of live stock.

Hog Gangs Idle.
The killing gangs in the cattle and sheep departments of Morris & Co. are working full time, but the hog gang is reported idle due to the shortage in the receipt of hogs. Officials of the company announce that the killing gang will resume work Thursday and that they have had no trouble in moving the output of the plant. As soon as live stock receipts return to normal killing gangs in all departments at Cudahy & Co. will all be returned to work, according to an announcement made Wednesday and it was said that the killing gangs were reduced to from 50 to 65 per cent due to the strike. "We are working all our men," said Oakley C. Willis, general manager of Armour & Co., "and are holding our killing gangs on full time, ready to take care of all live stock our buyers can secure. We want more live stock. The congestion of last week in our refrigerators has been relieved."

No effect From Strike.
At the Skinner plant it was reported that only a few men of the killing gangs had been laid off on account of the strike and that the improvement of traffic facilities would insure the operation of the plant to full capacity by Friday. The Skinner people said they could use more hogs than they were able to get.

The strike situation is said not to have affected the small independent packers, as their meat products were sold in local territory.

Company Pays $12,500 In Settlement Just Before Hurt Boy Dies

Fremont, April 14.—(Special).—Last night the Fremont Stock Yards and Land Co. paid into district court $12,500 for 16-year-old LeRoy McGhee, whose back was broken at the stock yards in 1918. This morning the boy died. Seven other children in the McGhee home today are mourning the loss of their brother, who has been their constant care since his injury. The family is one of the poorest of the city and has received help from the Charity club. Last fall the boy recovered judgment for $20,000 from the company which appealed to the supreme court. Yesterday settlement was made on that appeal and to secure the dismissal of a second suit for $75,000 begun by the father, Herbert McGhee.

Sound Out State Farmers On Potato Growers Body

Farmers of Nebraska who have been identified with potato culture are being sounded out by the agricultural bureau of the Chamber of Commerce concerning the organization of a state association of potato growers. The purpose of this association will be to increase marketing efficiency and stabilize potato supply from the viewpoint of commission men and consumers. H. F. McIntosh, manager of the bureau, has already secured the services of experts at the state farm. He believes that the present effort to perfect this organization will be successful.

State Delegate-at-Large Attacks Senator Johnson

Fremont, Neb., April 14.—(Special).—L. D. Richards of Fremont, the only Wood candidate for alternate-at-large to the republican national convention who was not endorsed by the Johnson forces, tells why in a statement published today in which he attacks Johnson and declares his friendliness for General Pershing, next to Wood.

"If elected, I will support Nebraska's preferred candidate if it shall be other than Wood although I hope such candidate will not be Mr. Ross of Lexington or Hiram Johnson of California, for the reason that Mr. Ross, under certain conditions, might be the candidate of William Jennings Bryan and Mr. Johnson is responsible for Mr. Wilson's re-election, he (Johnson) carrying California by something over 200,000 votes for senator while Mr. Hughes lost the electoral vote by a few thousand," asserts Mr. Richards.

"The fact remains that Johnson double-crossed Hughes in 1916. Such action in politics and business does not appeal to me."
