CHALLENGE OF BRYAN BROUGHT HITCHCOCK IN

Nebraska Senator Tells Why He Became Presidential Candidate in Address in Hastings, Neb.

Hastings, Neb., April 14.—(Special.)—United States Senator G. M. Hitchcock, speaking here tonight in behalf of his presidential candidacy, stated that one of the circumstances which led him to become a presidential candidate was the challenge issued by W. J. Bryan at the Jackson day dinner at Washington, against the leadership of President Wilson and the inference that Mr. Bryan would be or might become a candidate for the democratic nomination for president.

"I felt that if Nebraska were to present a candidate to the national convention he ought to be a man who is at least in harmony with the present attitude of the democratic party and not one who is attempting at this time to displace President Wilson as leader of the party," the senator said.

crats give me their support and I appear without any substantial opposition, the senator continued, "except such as is offered by the candidacy of Mr. Ross of Lexington, whom I do not know, but I note that he enjoys the backing and support of Mr. Bryan, so I assume he has passed the test of Mr. Bryan's standards for the office of president."

SAYS OMAHA IS BEING GOUGED ON SUGAR SALES

Denver Man Alleges Profiteers Are Cornering Market and Keeping Prices Up Here.

"Why the people of Omaha stand for the big sugar price gouge is a thing I cannot understand, when merchants of other cities of the state and the west are selling granulated beet sugar at a small margin of profit," said J. M. Wardlaw of Denver, who was a visitor at the local stock yards Wednesday.

"I am a stockholder in the Great Western Sugar company," continued Mr. Wardlaw, "and have made it my business to look into the prices paid for sugar in Omaha as compared with other sections of Nebraska and in the city of Denver. In the latter place, fine table granulated beet sugar is being retailed at 15 cents a pound and in some places it is as low as 14 cents. Powdered sugar is only 18 cents; cube sugar, 20 cents, and cane sugar, $17 a 100-pound sack.

Sold Much Cheaper.
 "I found that in western Nebraska and in the North Platte valley, sugar is selling at retail for 14 cents, while in Denver, where I visited a week, the price has not gone above 15 cents for granulated beet sugar. Yet I use sugar as sold in some places as high as 24 cents a pound and in the most of the retail stores, not less than 20 cents. I made special inquiry as to the price of beet sugar quoted by the Great Western Sugar company, and was told that it was being sold for 12 cents a pound to the wholesale houses at present, and that in January, several hundred tons was shipped to Omaha for 10 1/2 cents a pound. I have found that there is plenty of sugar on the market or that it has been turned out by the scores of sugar factories of the west, and there should be plenty.

Limit Purchase Here.
 "In the face of all this I find in most stores in Omaha a customer is limited to a purchase of two pounds of sugar for which he has to pay at least 20 cents a pound and the merchants tell you the wholesale houses refuse to sell them over a sack or two at a time.
