

PRETTY FRENCH GIRL GETS MANY OFFERS OF AID

Madeline Babin, Heroine of War Romance, Is Tendered Marriage Proposals and Financial Help in Letters.

By International News Service, Kansas City, Mo., April 17.—Offers of marriage, of homes, of legal aid and financial aid, condolences and commendations are being received daily by Madeline Babin, French girl in the war romance of Lee Shippey, Missouri poet, newspaper man and Y. M. C. A. secretary.

Madeline seems amazed at them all and answers only those from friends whom she met in Paris, as she waits with her mother and her sister, Georgette, the outcome of the demand by Shippey's wife that she be sent back to France.

Recommendations in Miss Babin's case have been sent to Washington by Warren Long, of the United States bureau of immigration here.

Attorney Will Help.

Among letters received by Madeline is one from Miss Jean Chamblin, in charge of the Y. M. C. A. office in Paris, where Madeline worked after the death of her father. Miss Chamblin is now in New York. She spent much time at the Babin home and knew Madeline well. Miss Chamblin's letter, a cheery one, concluded by stating that an attorney here had been notified to visit Madeline and do all he could to help her.

Another letter came from Leonard Robinson, former sergeant in the A. E. F., who lives with his wife at North Platte, Neb. The Robinsons offered the girl refuge in their home. Robinson became acquainted with the Babins while stationed in Paris. He obtained Madeline's address through the police upon learning from a press dispatch that she was in America.

Many Would Wed Her.

In the scores of letters received at the Babin home daily, a legal bond of wedlock seems to be the prevailing idea as to the best way to relieve the girl of her distress. One young man who signed the name of Frank Weston, asked Madeline to meet him at the Pontiac hotel in St. Louis. There, he said, they could look one another over and, if suited, could be legally married.

Madeline says she has received word from Lee Shippey since her story was bared in the press, but seems reticent about telling in what way. She says, however, that she has not received a letter direct from Shippey.

Shippey's sister, Virginia, and his mother, who live at Long Beach, Cal., both have written warm letters of encouragement, telling her to be brave and patient, the girl says.

Wood Makes One-Day Campaign in Nebraska

(Continued From Page One.) fight class legislation to a finish. Any kind of class legislation is bad. Class legislation marks the beginning of the decadence of a government. We want nothing of it, but we do want to establish a very general condition under which men and women who are thrifty and industrious can work at a wage which will enable them to live and save money for a rainy day; to marry, to raise a family and give to their children a reasonable start in the world.

"Honesty on the part of those who employ labor means a liberal wage and an interest in the men who work for them. Honesty on the part of labor means loyalty to the man he works for and a good day's work for a good day's pay."

Condemns 'Fakers.'

He condemned fakers who mislead the workers and he condemned political fakers who seek to gain personal popularity by arraying one racial group against another. He asserted that capital and labor must each be given a square deal, because they are one and inseparable, and together they produce what is known as prosperity.

Refers to Lincoln.

"You have got to introduce the human element into the relations between those who direct work and those who work. You cannot put the thing over with a club. We have absolutely got to meet the issue on the basis of absolute fairness," he continued. "Generally speaking, Abraham Lincoln put the whole statement about as concisely as anyone can, when he said: 'Let not him who is houseless tear down the house of his neighbor, but rather let him build one for himself, thus, by example, showing confidence that his own when built will stand.' That is the whole doctrine of labor and capital—respect for the rights of property, thrift, industry and work. We have all got to work. We want to preach work. We need plain, simple honesty."

He declared that every man who claims to be an American citizen should endeavor to bring together in a homogeneous mass all of the racial groups, get rid of the hyphen and measure a man by the way he does his duty to his country.

"Steady" should be our watchword," he added. "Chaos and lawlessness are rampant in Europe and a spirit of restlessness exists in this country. We want conservatism and we should keep our feet on the ground."

Favors Retrenchment.

He favored mustering out of a large army of salaried unemployed government employees, because the country is carrying a tremendous financial burden and he urged that the struggle hold which excess taxation has on American should be removed.

"We should place in administrative places men who are instinctively anxious to surround themselves with the best advisers they can find. No man is more dangerous than he who thinks he knows it all," was another thought.

He said the republican party during the war subordinated itself to the leadership. Destructive criticism from parties and persons who decried and a constructive policy was urged. The advent of women in politics was regarded by the speaker as a token of better things. Women casualties should be occupied by men who are qualified for the positions, rather than qualified for political preferment, he insisted.

Strong Foreign Policy.

On the thought of foreign policy, he said: "We have tried to rule the world with a verbal message. We want a strong, dignified, but positive foreign policy, seeking friendships without alliances, a policy that will protect our citizens even in China or Mexico. We need the Roosevelt policy of 'speak softly, but carry a big stick and you will go forth.'" He reviewed his military policy, explaining that he testified before congress that an army of 200,000 to 250,000 should be adequate for peace needs and he defended the four-months' military training bill which was reported out of committee at Washington. He said this should be known as "training for national service" rather than military training. He added that the bill will never be lifted from the committee unless the people wish that it be done. His opinion of the league of nations was that this country does not want a league until it has been thoroughly Americanized, following the time-honored doctrines and policies of this country.

"We are the sole judges of when and where we shall fight," he declared. "Let us take the league of nations after it has been completely Americanized, the Monroe Doctrine to remain untouched and we to be the judge of when we shall act and when we shall not act." "Agriculture is the main source of our wealth. We must not let our agricultural interests languish," he admonished.

VOTE FOR C. G. CARLBERG, Republican Candidate for State Senator

NEWS ITEM—The General Manager of the Water Board, who takes over management of Gas Plant under city ownership, has requested City Council to make provision to pay off $1,000,000 of gas bonds each five years. He states that under city ownership rate should be $1.85.

I stand for Dollar Gas, knowing that it is a possibility by virtue of the purchase of the Gas Plant by the city of Omaha. Occupation taxes and general taxes now paid by the Gas Company, as well as the annual dividends paid to its stockholders, will be eliminated under municipal ownership. However, if it is the intention of the general manager to pay off $1,000,000 in debt each five years, we will not get Dollar gas. It is a gross injustice to saddle the entire cost of this plant on this generation in order to present the next generation with a debt-free Gas Plant. We are entitled to Dollar gas NOW. There is no justice in paying $1.35 for gas in order that we may be generous to posterity. If the repayment of the Gas Bonds is spread over a period of fifty years we will get Dollar gas immediately, but if we are to pay for the plant in fifteen years we will have to pay more for gas than we did under private ownership.

If nominated and elected to the State Senate I pledge myself to promote legislation that will insure Dollar Gas NOW.

I earnestly solicit your support at the primaries, April 20th.
