

OMAHANS AT THE STATE UNI WILL FORM BIG CLUB

Students From Metropolis
Propose to Organize to Promote Their Interests.

Lincoln, April 18.—(Special).—Considerable mystery has surrounded some posters which have appeared this week on the university campus bearing the word "Omaha" with a question mark above and below. The facts have leaked out that the numerous students from that metropolis are proposing to organize a great big club which will become, no doubt, an important factor in the life of the university. Outsiders may not know, but there is great rivalry among the students from Omaha who enter the various fraternal organizations on the campus and what one group of them starts the rest look upon with suspicion.

In the matter of an Omaha club as now proposed this suspicion must be laid aside for the suggestion started with a member of the faculty and another of the administrative force. A meeting will be held of all Omaha students in the university Thursday, April 22, at 7:15, in the auditorium of the social science building. Chances are very will be there and has promised to speak. A member of short talks by students and professors will be made.

A quartet composed of Floyd Provater, Eugene Maxwell, James Collier and Charles Samuelson promises to enliven the occasion with some real university music.

Omaha has five high schools, all of which send students to the state university. Altogether there are over 200 students from that city in the institution. These students are sponsors for the coming meeting: Dorothy Hipple, Helen Wahl, Melvin Bekin, Lucille Nitsche, Ray Stryker, Jess Patty, Ruth Hutton, Isabelle Pearsall, Austin Smith, Gladys Mickel and Jean Landale, but many others are assisting, and it is expected that the full Omaha contingent will be out for the meeting.

A "master key" burglar entered the home of E. N. Bovell, Carlisle apartments, 625 South Eighteenth street, and carried away $200 worth of jewelry, according to a report made to the police yesterday. The loot consists of two rings, a watch and a diamond stick pin.

Mrs. Bovell told the police she put the jewelry away last Tuesday in a bureau drawer and when she went to get it yesterday it was missing.

The Johnson-Wood combine is expressly designed to defeat the will of the people of Nebraska by "knifing" Pershing at the convention. You can beat it by voting for the above delegates, who will carry out the will of the people of Nebraska, and not that of any secret conference.
