

WINE MERCHANT SAYS REVENUE MEN ARE ROUGH

Baltimore Liquor Dealer Charges He Was Kidnaped From British Island by U. S. Officers.

Chicago Tribune-Omaha Bee Leased Wire. Washington, April 22.—An international incident has been created by the arrest at Bimini, Bahamas, about three weeks ago of Charles Vincenti, millionaire wine merchant of Baltimore, by four American government agents on charges involving the irregular removal of liquor from bond.

Beyond the assertion that Mr. Vincenti went on board "willingly," the Department of Justice refuses to verify or deny the reports of the kidnaping of the wine merchant. The department has conducted an investigation to determine whether the arrest was made at Miami, Fla., as one report stated, or at Bimini, and is now awaiting the protest momentarily expected from the British government to which the colony promptly complained of the violations of its territorial rights by the American officials in arresting Vincenti on British soil without the production of extradition warrants. So unceremonious was the removal of Mr. Vincenti that residents and visitors gathered at the Bimini Bay Rod and Gun club dock, on hearing the outcry from the Aquaria, believed their friend was being kidnaped, and two fishing boats manned with volunteers pursued the Aquaria for 12 miles. After a broadside had been fired at the American boat, it dove to and explanations were exchanged, after which the fishing boats returned to Bimini and the Aquaria proceeded to Miami.

WIFE PUTS CHECK ON JOYOUS LIFE OF KANSAS MAN

Better Half, Assisted by Court, Applies Brakes to Continuous Round of Pleasure.

Chicago Tribune-Omaha Bee Leased Wire. Chicago, April 22.—Mrs. Florence L. Sheppard, assisted by the courts, began to salvage what is left of the fortune her husband, H. Wade Sheppard, fell into when a Louisiana oil well in which he was interested suddenly became active. Sheppard, who was leading a prosaic sort of life in Wichita, Kan., immediately sold his holdings, secured $150,000 cash and came to Chicago to show the people herabouts a touch of high life.

He started in by parting his name in the middle, leasing a luxurious suite of rooms at the Congress hotel, bought four automobiles, including one de luxe car exhibited at the motor show, price $10,000; a $15,000 diamond ring and a five-day continuous champagne dinner, supper and breakfast orgy, in which many chorus girls figured. This performance was repeated in St. Louis. His bill at the hotel has run up to $1,500 and he has paid $5,000 down on his $15,000 diamond ring. His wife's injunction stops further payments, and a new Marmon car he had ordered will not be delivered.

His wife permitted him to go to the ball game Wednesday, but he rode in a street car, as bailiffs were guarding his four costly automobiles. His wife fears there is very little left of the $150,000. She wants what is left and also separate maintenance. They have no children.

Censure Chinese Official For Missionary's Death

Vancouver, B. C., April 22.—The murder on March 19, of Dr. James R. Menzies, a Canadian missionary, in the province of Honan, China, has resulted in severe censure by the Pekin authorities of Chao Ti, military governor of the province, for his inability to protect foreigners' lives and property, according to information received here today. Dr. Menzies was killed at Hwai-kingfu, when a band of 15 robbers attempted to force an entrance into the women missionaries' quarters. While grappling with the band's

Aviator and Passenger Killed When Plane Falls

Long Beach, Cal., April 22.—

George Daly, a pilot for an aviation school at Wilmington, and an unidentified passenger, were killed when Daly's airplane fell 1,000 feet in the Pacific ocean off the recreation pier here. It was said the engine failed while Daly was making a loop and exploded when the plane hit the water. The bodies were recovered.

This Shirt Wins "Her" Approval

When she looks at the shirt you have just bought, it's "dollars to doughnuts" that she'll not judge it exactly as you did.

She will admire its pretty pattern and handsome colors, of course. But she will dig into the facts about it, too.

What is the quality of material? How will it stand daily wear and tear, with side trips to the wash tub? What kind of workmanship have you invested in?

Beau Brummel Shirts
