Wednesday night.

Neither Mr. McKeen nor Carl R. Gray, president of the railroad, who confirmed the purchase, would divulge the amount paid for the for-mer's stock. The Union Pacific has been in control of a large share of the stock of the company since its organization and with the acquisition of the McKeen holdings, is in possession of virtually the entire issue. Mr. Gray left the city last night on a short business trip.

W. R. McKeen, organizer and president of the McKeen Motor Car

Co., sold his entire holdings in that company to the Union Pacific railroad Wednesday, he announced

BOUGHT BY U. P.

Organized Years Ago. The company was organized several years ago to manufacture a gasoline motor driven passenger car for interurban railroad travel. Mr. McKeen designed the car and engine while he was superintendent of the Union Pacific shops at Omaha. Cars manufactured by the company are now in operation in all parts of the country. The plant owned by the company is located at 1222 Webster street, adjacent to the Union Pacific shops. of which it has always been practically a unit. Prior to the war production was given entirely to motor cars and repair parts. During the war munitions were contracted for and delivered by the company.

Plant Covers Acres. Among machines turned out were several motor truck winches for use at the army balloon school at Fort Omaha. The plant covers several acres.

Just what disposition will be made of the facilities offered by the plant is not known among Union Pacific officials as news of the purchase was not general at railroad headquarters today. It is believed that the plant will be diverted to strictly Union Pacific work, such as the manufacture of standard repair parts. Production of parts for motor cars will continue, as the railroad has several cars in operation

Marquette, Mich., April 22.-Any search and seizure by federal prohibition agents that would amount to tresspass under constitutional law is illegal, Federal Judge Clar-ence W. Sessions stated during the trial of Scalcucci brothers in connection with the Iron river whisky

Judge Sessions, in his statement, expressed the opinion that the pro-hibition act deals with conditions greatly different from those existing prior to national prohibition and that all provisions of the revenue laws consistent with present conditions must be set aside.

The court also held that any indictment which charges only the setting up of a distilling apparatus and not its use is defective as far
