His case was postponed one week on the latter charge, and he was ordered held under $700 bond for the former charge.

Bradstreet's Trade Review

New York, April 23.—Bradstreet's Trade Review will say: "Trade and industry are rather irregular and while there are signs of improvement in the industrial field owing to the gradual clearing out of the winter strike, the members of this trouble are still a cause of arrested movement and production."

Receipts continue light on both prairie hay and alfalfa. The demand is good, which has caused the market to advance on the gradual clearing out of the winter strike and wheat steady.

Financial

The New York Times. Chicago Tribune—Omaha Bee Lapsed Wire. New York, April 23.—Erratic movements of stocks throughout the greater part of today's dealings were succeeded just before the close by another extensive reaction.

Omaha Grain

Wheat taken generally was not much changed, though some of the upper grades had a somewhat stronger tone. Corn was irregular, ranging 3c to 1c higher. No. 2 yellow showed 2c to 2 1/2c stronger, while No. 3 yellow was 1c lower. Mixed was unchanged to 1/2c higher. Oats were 1c to 1 1/2c lower.

Traders' Market

Call money lent at 7 per cent throughout the day. The stock market was chiefly for the professional trader and early transactions were not bereft of events comparable to those in the recent days of a sharp advance in the stocks in which pools are interested.

Gold Shipment Postponed

In the banking field it was interesting to learn that a large shipment of gold to South America scheduled for tomorrow had been postponed. This will mean the movement of the gold to the United States will not disclose an expected loss of $1,000,000 to $2,000,000, which, with restrictions upon gold exports, counts of government securities and stock market conditions, may be a reflection in a better bank position than a week ago.

Chicago Grain

By CHARLES D. LEACHES. Chicago, April 23.—Grain values continue to fluctuate in a most erratic manner. There was heavy and persistent selling of corn by houses with eastern connections credited to a leading New York stock trader, and with the continued liquidation in stocks and cotton prices were forced off after an early bid, but the inside figures were not maintained, due to buying by western houses, and the close was 1/4c lower.

Big Fight in Corn

A big fight is on in corn with stock traders and local professionals who are familiar with the financial situation radically bearish, while western producers are close touch with the cash and general situation as well as agricultural conditions are just as radically bullish. These widely different views resulted in very rapid price changes, the range for the day being 2 1/4c on corn and 1 1/2c on oats.

Big Order for Rye

An order for 1,000,000 bushels cash rye was received at Chicago today but could not be filled. Exporters took for wheat and corn at Duluth but no sales were reported. The seaboard reported a good export business in wheat and corn with indications of more business being put through, as Argentina which has advanced very rapidly of late and a new world considerable more than American e. i. f. European ports.
